Macmillan Drives For Early Summit

Discusses Next Step With Lloyd

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, voted powerful new authority to speak for Britain, resumed Saturday his quest for an early summit meeting.

For more than an hour, Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd discussed the next step toward an East-West parley. The meeting at No. 10 Downing St. was their first since British voters gave Macmillan and his Conservative party a pointed mandate to govern for another five years and press ahead for a summit conference.

The Conservatives rounded off their election victory Saturday with a win in the last district to declare results.

From the far north of Scotland came word that voters of Argyll had, as expected, elected Conservative candidate Michael Noble by a comfortable margin.

The result left Conservatives with their expected parliamentary majority of 100 House of Common seats over all other parties. The Conservatives had a majority of 53 in the last House of Commons.

The final state of the parties was:

Conservatives and allies, 365; Labor 248; Liberal 6; Independent, 1.

The complete popular vote showed that Conservatives amassed 13,750,935 votes or 49.4 per cent to 12,216,166 or 43.8 per cent for the Laborites. The Liberals, in an upsurge collected 1,640,761 votes or 5.9 per cent with about 250,000 votes going to minor parties.

Macmillan conferred with Lloyd at his official residence in London

Winter's Creeping Into Midcontinent

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather howled across the Montana Rockies and Northern Plains Saturday and crept deeper into the midcontinent.

Cold air sweeping out of Canada behind the storm of rain and snow kept midday temperatures near or below freezing over the region. Bismarck, N.D., was pounded by wind gusts of nearly 70 miles an hour while the mercury hovered at 29 degrees.

Visibility was reduced to less than a mile at Minot and Devils Lake, N.D., as seven inches of snow was whipped into drifts. Two inches of new snow covered most of North Dakota and Montana.

The cool weather penetrated deep into the Plains at midday and was settling eastward as far as the western Great Lakes region.

Not Illegal To Fool Public With Rigged TV Quiz Shows: FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fooling the public with rigged television quiz shows is a fraudulent and deceptive practice but not an illegal one, the Federal Communications Commission told Congress Saturday.

"Neither the prosecuting attorney in New York nor I have been able to pinpoint any violation of the law," FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer said.

"We can't determine who has been harmed. The home owner certainly didn't pay his way into the show."

Doerfer said the FCC cannot censor programs, interfere with freedom of speech "in the field of dramatic expression" or dig up the manpower to monitor all programs.

It would be a different matter, he said, if networks or stations were doing the faking instead of producers of individual shows.

Doerfer made it clear he thought fixed quiz shows were thoroughly reprehensible. But, he added, "Sometimes we have to endure some evil for the over-all public good. We can't have everything perfect."

Doerfer testified before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee that is investigating TV quiz show operations. Several witnesses have testified since Tuesday that contestants were given answers in advance. Further testimony will be heard Monday.

Asked why the commission didn't come to Congress for more authority if it feels it lacks power to act, Doerfer replied: "I would never recommend to Congress that it adopt a law that would suppress something by unconstitutional means."

There still was no word on whether Charles Van Doren would accept an invitation to testify or if he would be subpoenaed to testify.

Van Doren, who became a national figure while winning $129,000 on the defunct "Twenty-One" quiz show, consistently has denied any knowledge of the show's being fixed.

Truck In Crash Killing 10 In Bus Had Bad Brakes

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) —The brakes of the truck that collided with a chartered bus killing nine coeds and a college professor were found to be faulty upon inspection Saturday.

George Soriano, of the Middlesex County prosecutor's office, said a garage inspection showed there was enough grease on the brake lining to enable the left front wheel to roll freely with the brake on.

The blackened hulk of what was once a trailer-truck was checked for mechanical defects at a garage, where it was towed after the crash and fire Friday.

Police attempted to question Poe in Middlesex General Hospital but quoted him as saying: "I don't want to make a statement. I don't want to give you anything about it unless my lawyer is present."

State Trooper Russell MacArthur said he went to the hospital only to get Poe's version of the accident. But, he said, Poe refused to give any description of what took place.

GOP Calls For End To Racial Segregation In Public Places

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans called Saturday for the elimination of racial segregation in public places. They set this as a high priority goal requiring a cooperative effort by government at all levels.

In a wide-ranging report on "Human Rights and Needs," a task force of the Republican committee on program and progress also recommended that the nation:

1. Increase its current public and private expenditures of 20 billion dollars annually on education to 50 billion by 1976.

2. Expand the flow of mortgage credits for housing and try to find ways to finance an increasing number of trade-ins of older homes.

3. Boost national medical research spending to a billion dollars yearly by 1965, with the government bearing half the cost.

4. Make pensions and seniority rights transferrable so that union members and management executives could change jobs if they chose.

5. Reshape welfare services and strengthen public assistance program "so as to provide help for any person who is hungry, homeless, disabled or sick, while at the same time preventing a further increase in the federal share of support. . . ."

6. Provide for the rehabilitation of 90,000 disabled persons next year in a continuously accelerating program.

The report, one of a series being published by a 44-member committee headed by Charles H. Percy of Chicago, was written by a task force captained by Miss Bertha Adkins, undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

In its discussion of civil rights, the task force avoided specific recommendations for new legislation. Another civil rights battle is expected to explode in the Senate by mid-February.

Two Summit Meets May Be Held Within Next Two Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Within the next two months, not one but two summit conferences may be held in an effort to discover some way of negotiating East-West agreements to end the cold war and make a start on disarmament.

Diplomatic officials now consider a distinct possibility a gathering of chief Western leaders, perhaps in Washington, in advance of a meeting between the Allies and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. This East-West session will almost certainly be held at Geneva.

President Eisenhower, who discussed his next move Friday with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, is understood to favor opening the meeting with Khrushchev before mid-December. Of 10 days or two weeks duration, if progress justified such length, it would bring together Eisenhower, Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Macmillan's re-election Thursday, ending a period of uncertainty over Britain's political future, cleared the way for a speedup of summit conference negotiations among the Allies.

One of the things they have to decide is exactly what they want to get out of the new phase of East-West relations which seems to be opening up. Some are calling it a new era of high level personal diplomacy. Whatever it is, Khrushchev seems to know exactly what he wants while Western goals are far less definite.

Therefore, some highly placed diplomatic authorities say privately it would be a good idea for Western leaders to get together and decide what they want and how to go about getting it at the Geneva summit meeting.

Such a strategy session might be held by Eisenhower, de Gaulle and Macmillan if time permits. Or they could send their foreign ministers into a huddle.

U.N. Fact-Finding Mission To Leave Team In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The U.N. fact finding mission announced Saturday it will leave a team behind when it departs Tuesday.

A communique said the U.N. four-nation subcommittee will leave the team here to report any developments in Communist threatened Laos after the mission leaves to prepare its report for the Security Council in New York U.N. headquarters.

Japanese alternate delegate Morio Oaki and Italian army Capt. Vincenzo Piccione are expected to remain in Laos.

A U.N. press officer said he did not know how long the team would remain in Laos.

Laos had asked that a permanent U.N. observer team remain here, claiming the U.N. presence tended to dampen Communist and rebel activities.

Since the U.N. team's arrival Sept. 15, no major military action was reported, although Communist Pathet Lao rebels stepped up their propaganda activities.

U.S. Assigns $2,725,000,000 To States For Road Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Saturday apportioned to the states $2,725,000,000 of federal roadbuilding money for the 1961 fiscal year, which begins next July 1.

The states must spend this money within three years from that date or lose it. However, they may not be able to spend all of it in fiscal 1961 because of new restrictions on road outlays.

The Commerce Department announced Thursday that the states may spend no more than $2,700,000,000 of federal road aid in the current fiscal year. It said the restrictions were necessary to keep spending in line with revenues received by the highway trust fund, which finances roadbuilding.

Officials said a similar ceiling on spending undoubtedly will be announced later for fiscal 1961. And they said it might be lower than the $2,725,000,000 apportioned.

For fiscal 1960, the apportionment totaled $3,400,000,000.

Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller announced the new apportionment and said $1,800,000,000 was earmarked for the interstate superhighway program. The remaining 925 million dollars is for primary, secondary and urban road projects.

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of new superhighways and 50 per cent of the cost of other roads.

In addition to the new apportionment, the states will have available additional sums carried over from past apportionments. On Aug. 31 this carryover fund amounted to $2,456,000,000.

California got the biggest apportionment for fiscal 1961—$227,708,000. Ohio was next with $149,552,000 followed by New York, $142,018,000; Texas, $129,579,000, and Illinois $128,950,000.

A total of $416,250,000 was apportioned for primary highways, $277,500,000, for feeder roads and $231,250,000 for urban highways.

Deducted from the 925 million dollar total was 51 million dollars representing repayment of half the money advanced to the states last year under a special anti-recession public works program.

SEN. MARGARET SMITH TO RUN FOR 3RD TERM

SKOWHEGAN, Maine (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) said Saturday it is no secret that she will run for a third term in the U.S. Senate.

She told a reporter she has "taken it for granted that people realize I shall seek to return to the U.S. Senate."

UAW Asks Ike Reconsider Using T-H In Strike

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union convention appealed to President Eisenhower Saturday to reconsider his decision to invoke the Taft-Hartley act in the steel strike.

The nearly 3,000 delegates unanimously approved a telegram from UAW chief Walter P. Reuther to Eisenhower asking that instead the President create "an impartial public fact-finding board."

An injunction ordering the steelworkers back to their jobs, the telegram said, "constitutes little more than using the power and majesty of the United States government as a strike-breaking weapon."

The UAW gave the steelworkers one million dollars last month and offered to contribute more help in supporting the strike.

Meanwhile, the UAW set a goal of building its strike fund, which is now below 15 million dollars, to 46 million by the end of 1961 and to 40 million before present three-year contracts in the auto industry expire in August 1961.

Reuther's supporters, making up a substantial majority of the delegates, voted in a caucus to ask the convention to increase basic dues $2.50 a month. The convention is expected to vote on the proposal Monday and Reuther has predicted it will be approved overwhelmingly.

The increase would make basic dues $5.50 a month for the union's 1,200,000 members. The strike fund would get $1.50 a month from each member.

UAW members are now paying a special assessment of $1 a month into the strike fund.

Steel Fact-Finders Chart Course For Hearings

Mexican President, Eisenhower Confer At Camp David, Md.

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two old friends, President Eisenhower and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico, sat down Saturday in a sylvan retreat intent on drawing even closer the relations between their two countries.

The talks, which started in the presidential hideaway at Camp David, Md., in the Catoctin Mountains about 25 miles south of here, are a continuation of the meeting between the two last February at Acapulco, Mexico.

They opened their chats here seated in easy chairs in the sun room of Aspen Lodge, where they and their foreign ministers are housed.

Eisenhower gave Lopez Mateos a detailed report on the Camp David talks he had last month with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen this was part of a general discussion the two presidents had on matters of common interest.

Other topics that came up in a two-hour discussion were cotton, lead, zinc, coffee and shrimp, Hagerty said.

In the case of the first four commodities, he added, the conversations were a continuation of the Acapulco discussions in which the two presidents studied ways of protecting the mutual interests of the two countries in the marketing of these products.

Mexico has felt that its interests have been impaired by the U.S. policy of selling its surplus cotton on the world market. It also has objected to the quota system for metals importation.

An export quota system on coffee—although drafted by producing nations themselves—also had tended to work a hardship on Mexico.

Shrimp was a new topic of discussion. Hagerty indicated the talks involved the interest of the two countries in protecting shrimp exports from Mexico to the United States against competition from other foreign producers.

Hagerty said the question of rivalries between shrimp fishermen from the two countries, which occasionally have caused Mexicans to accuse the U.S. shrimpers of "piracy" was not discussed.

EGG-TOSSING MONKEY EVADES ALL HUNTERS

BOSTON (AP) — Hope was abandoned Saturday night for the early capture of an egg-throwing monkey that fled from the nose of a DC6 air freight plane into the steel framework of a huge hangar at Logan International Airport.

Airport officials said the little critter has quieted down some but is still taking an occasional pot shot at hangar employes with pigeon eggs. It bombarded everyone who came in range Friday night.

The monkey was discovered Friday in the nose of the airfreighter that landed from Los Angeles. It fled into the hangar after evading capture in the well.

Hunters finally gave up the quest and placed a baited cage in the hangar hoping the visitor would walk in.

GAMBLER USES ULTRA VIOLET LIGHT TO CHEAT HIS VICTIMS

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Police broke into a soundproof room Friday night and uncovered a poker game in which the operator could tell what cards other players were dealt by turning on an ultra violet light.

The light would reveal chemical markings on the cards which were apparent only to someone sitting in the operator's chair. The light was fixed in the ceiling and controlled by a foot switch built into the floor under a rug.

The dealer's chair was the only one placed at the proper angle to see the markings. The foot switch was under his chair, and the light was flashed on for just an instant at a time.

The soundproof room was built inside a bedroom of the operator's apartment.

Report Union Plans Fight Against Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of fact-finders named by President Eisenhower will decide Sunday how it will conduct hearings aimed at bringing at least an 80-day respite in the nation's worst steel strike.

The striking steelworkers union was reported planning a strong fight at the hearings against a court order, provided for in emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act, to send the men back to work after 88 days on the picket lines.

Eisenhower's action in setting the Taft-Hartley machinery in motion late Friday drew a barrage of critical fire from many of the United Steelworkers of America, from other unions and from some Democrats in Congress.

Even the man the President named to head the three-man fact finding board didn't seem enthusiastic about the job. He is Dr. George W. Taylor, a seasoned labor mediator.

Taylor, a former federal official and now a University of Pennsylvania professor, said before leaving Philadelphia for Washington Saturday that he had hoped to withdraw from the labor relations field entirely and spend all his time teaching. Then he added:

"But this is a critical time. When the President asks you to do something, you can't very well say no."

Taylor said he planned to meet with his colleagues on the fact finding panel Sunday to determine hearing procedures. He said the hearings themselves may get under way Monday afternoon.

Taylor is on record as saying that neither injunctions nor government seizure of plants is likely to contribute to a meeting of minds in collective bargaining.

A similar stand has been taken by David J. McDonald, president of the steelworkers union. McDonald is expected here from Pittsburgh Sunday to help argue the union case against a strike-ending injunction.

He has said injunctions cannot solve the basic bargaining problems involved, but that the union would obey the law and go back to work if ordered by a federal court to do so.

Walter P. Reuther's United Automobile Workers Union, holding a convention in Atlantic City, N.J., unanimously voted to ask Eisenhower to reconsider his ac-

"I hope you will display this prominently in your office and elsewhere whenever this may be appropriate," said a letter from State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh.

STEEL DISPUTE AT-A-GLANCE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DEVELOPMENTS — Inquiry board named by President Eisenhower under Taft-Hartley law gets ready to search out facts Monday in 89-day steel strike. This is preliminary step before seeking federal court injunction to get half million strikers back on the job.

REACTION—United Steelworkers prepare to fight against issuance of injunction but President David J. McDonald says members will abide by law of the land. Many steelworkers criticize President for using Taft-Hartley. Industry remains silent since government action announced Friday.

IDLE—In addition to 500,000 strikers some 200,000 workers laid off in allied industries and more expect furloughs as nation's reserve supply of steel continues to shrink. Nearly 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking facilities idled by strike.

LOSSES—Strikers losing 70 million dollars a week in wages. Production losses estimated at 300 million dollars a week.

ISSUES—Union seeking 15-cent-an-hour annual package increase for workers who were earning an average of $3.11 an hour in June. Industry offered union a 15-cent hourly package increase over two years if union would agree to contract changes giving management more control in mills. Union rejected proposal.

Peter Townsend To Wed Pretty Belgian Girl

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Handsome Peter Townsend is engaged to a pretty Belgian girl bearing a marked resemblance to Britain's Princess Margaret.

The 44-year-old former RAF group captain's engagement to Marie-Luce Jamagne, 21, daughter of a wealthy tobacco industrialist, was announced Friday night by her mother. She said no wedding date has been set.

Townsend was not available for comment.

Marie-Luce, a petite, dark-eyed brunette known to her friends as Moustique (mosquito), has been assisting the World War II fighter ace in his new job of making documentary films.

Townsend's romance with Princess Margaret ended in 1955 when she made her dramatic statement: "I would like it to be known that I have decided not to marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend."

They obviously were in love. But Townsend was a divorced man. Margaret is deeply religious and the Church of England objects to divorced persons remarrying. Townsend divorced his wife in 1952. She has remarried since.

Religious Leaders Trying To Moderate Output Of Mass Communications Media

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religious Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Religious leaders of this restless metropolis are engaged today in a ticklish undertaking—an effort to moderate the output of New York's mass communications media.

Some keen issues are involved.

The religious representatives claim that in some cases newspapers, radio-television programs, magazines and advertisers are damaging community morals by highlighting sex, violence and materialistic values.

Media spokesman generally take broad exceptions to the charge.

"There's little warrant for it," said Richard W. Clarke, executive editor of the Daily News. "We have a duty to present the facts. You can't cure conditions by pretending they don't exist."

Carl Watson, New York manager for the National Broadcasting Co.'s Continuity Acceptance Department, said hundreds of scientific studies have found no evidence that TV portrayals of violence stimulate such conduct.

"It's a completely unsubstantiated impression," he said.

The religious leaders, however, maintain that the cumulative effect may be detrimental. They say some factors in mass media are cultivating "degraded forms of behavior under the guise of art of freedom."

Spearheaded by a 104-member committee including Protestants, Catholics and Jews, the campaign is being waged in the pulpits, with congregations urged to write letters assessing material on the air and in print.

Its position is that detailed treatment of crime, brutality and physical passions spurs imitation, particularly by the young.

"I'm afraid they've seized on superficialities as a cause of current crime and used it as a convenient whipping boy or excuse," said Herbert Calborg, program-screening chief for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

"After all, violence has existed in all drama, from the Bible on up."

Catalyst behind the religious campaign has been the city's continuing wave of lawlessness, particularly by youth gangs.

"It's a problem we all face and everyone shares in responsibility," said the Rev. Dr. Dan Potter, executive secretary of the city's Protestant Council and also a committee cochairman.

"Our approach to the various media is not one of censorship, but of trying to make them more sensitive to moral and spiritual values in the interest of creating a better community atmosphere."

"The more that's known about problems, the more likely we are to deal with them intelligently," said James A. Wechsler, editor of the Post.

Suppressing the unsavory details would hardly increase our capacity to find solutions."

Media officials also point to the large portion of news space and broadcast time given to positive elements, including religion, and the care exerted to screen material to meet required standards of decency.

"My staff is policing shows all the time, and I think they're doing a good job," said Grace Johnson, head of the American Broadcasting Co.'s Continuity Acceptance Department.

Part of the religious effort is to get churchgoers to praise work considered good, as well as criticize that considered harmful. A series of conferences is being held with communicating officials.

"They don't completely agree with us," said Msgr. Donnellan, "but there are encouraging signs and evidence of cooperation."

Why Did 2 Teenage Children Try To Kill Their Parents?

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—It was shortly after midnight and Sterling Baker snored loudly beside his sleeping wife, Alice.

On the other side of the cotton drapery that separated their bedroom from the living room, their teen-age daughter and son stood, listening to make sure both parents were asleep.

Then Doreen, 15, pushed the drape aside and tossed two glasses full of gasoline across her father and mother. Bruce, 13, struck a match and tossed it on the bed.

As flames flashed across the couple, Doreen and Bruce fled outside, wailing as if in shock and horror.

Neighbors, running up to help, ran into Mrs. Baker, 44, shrieking at the door with her upper body seared and her hair in flames. Her 62-year-old husband stood dazed inside, burned on the right arm and leg, chest and face.

The fire was on Friday, June 12. The first newspaper accounts did not mention the children's role. It was thought they had luckily escaped.

But state and township fire marshals uncovered discrepancies in Bruce and Doreen's stories. Doreen said she had been awakened by "choking on smoke" — and there is little smoke in a flash fire. Bruce said his sister awakened him by throwing a glass of water on him—but his pajamas and bed were dry.

Then State Police Detective Sgt. Joseph Terze, an expert on arson, made the shocking report: The children had set their parents on fire in an attempt to kill them.

Why? "Our folks were too strict. We wanted to do the things other kids could do."

The gray-haired father, a veteran of World War I who has been unable to work for seven years because of heart trouble, was in a hospital four weeks recovering from his burns.

The mother, a sweet - faced, brown-eyed woman, suffered second and third degree burns over 50 per cent of her body. She spent seven weeks in the hospital and faces further skin grafts for a serious scalp burn. Her left arm is stiff from scars and must be soaked in salt water twice a day to retain its use.

The parents now know what their children did. Mrs. Baker, deeply religious and active in Seventh Day Adventist Church work, says, "I have to forgive them; they're my children."

Her husband says, "Bruce could come back; he just did what Doreen told him. But if she ever came home, I wouldn't sleep nights. Every little sound, I'd be wondering."

Authorities, after delving into the family background, said neither child could return home. Both have been committed to correctional institutions where psychiatric tests await them.

But the question remains—why?

Doreen Baker was regarded as a well-behaved, quiet girl who helped keep house, liked to babysit for neighbors and got average grades at her church-operated school.

She had never been in trouble. Her father says, "I never laid a hand on Doreen."

Younger brother Bruce, who did poorly in school, got frequent parental whippings—for smoking, taking money from his father's trousers, skipping his chores to watch television at the neighbors.

The Bakers live in Michigan Center, an industrial suburb of Jackson. Married 26 years, the couple has a white cement block bungalow which Baker built himself on a three-acre plot of land.

The family gets along on Baker's veterans pension and county welfare aid.

An older son, Bernard, 24 lives at home but was away the night of the fire. Coralee, 25, ran off at 17 and was married, now has three sons. Alice Ann, 22, left home at 19, is married and the mother of two sons. None of the older children finished school. Both daughters visit the parents occasionally although Baker says, "their kids make me nervous."

The fact that Baker is 20 years older than his wife and suffers from blood clots in his leg was viewed by neighbors as explaining much of his strict child rearing methods.

But both parents agreed there were to be no movies, no dancing, no dates. The father also had forbidden Doreen to baby-sit for neighbors "who drank."

After his investigation Sgt. Terze no longer regarded Doreen as such a quiet youngster.

"She's a mixed up teen-ager all right," he said. "But I think she acts like an adult and should have been tried like one."

In finally admitting the fire plot, Bruce said the idea started because Doreen was going with a boy she wanted to marry.

"She thought she could go ahead if her parents were out of the way," Sgt. Terze said. "And she told Bruce that with the folks dead, he could take a trip to California he wanted."

Doreen's boy friend was a 22-year-old ex-convict, now serving a 2- to 10-year prison term for statutory rape.

Doreen admitted her part in the fire plot after police told her of Bruce's account. The children said the fire method was settled on because they felt their first plan was too risky—to beat their parents to death with a hammer.

Mrs. Baker says, "Maybe my husband is too strict and I'm too easy going. Doreen wanted things her own way a lot. She didn't want to go places with us as a family, said it wasn't any fun. Maybe there should be a school where we could learn to be better parents."

HOUSING AUTHORITY OFFICERS RETAINED IN CALHOUN COUNTY

HARDIN — Present officers of the Calhoun County Housing Authority were retained for another one-year term when members met Thursday for their annual dinner meeting at the Wittmond Hotel in Brussels. Aloise M. Kamp of Kampsville is chairman of the group and Ed Roth of Hardin is vice chairman.

Other business at the meeting included the discussion of housing projects at Hamburg and Brussels, which are in the planning stage. The land has been purchased for these projects, according to housing authority officials, and designs are being drawn for the houses. It is planned that the designs for the six units at Hamburg and four at Brussels will be such that they can be either prefabricated or conventional construction. When designs are completed, they will have to be approved in Washington before further development is begun on the projects.

State Representative Carl Wittmond was a special guest of the group, and he spoke to them briefly. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Kamp and Mr. and Mrs. Roth, the following commission members and their wives were present: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Miller, County Judge and Mrs. Paul R. Durr, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schumann.

ILLINOIS FOSSILS

COAL CITY, Ill. (AP)—Some of the world's finest plant fossils are found in the abandoned coal strip mining fields just 55 miles southwest of Chicago's Loop.

Rock hunters collect potato-shaped rocks from the abandoned spoil heaps, then crack them open with a few hammer blows. The concretions which contain fossils split easily, revealing the imprint of plants believed to have lived millions of years ago.

JAYCEE WOMEN VOTE GIFT TO GIRL SCOUT TROOP

WHITE HALL — The regular meeting of the Jaycee Woman's Club was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. John Early with Mrs. Kenneth Love and Mrs. Darrell Mansfield serving as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Vedder Knight and Mrs. David McClintock were guests. Mrs. Sam Hudson, vice president, presided at the business meeting, during which the group voted $15 to the local Girl Scout drive for funds.

An educational film, "Rescue Breathing," was shown by Jaycee Myron McClenning, procured from the C.I.P.S. Co. and dealt with artificial breathing by mouth to mouth.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Gallery Director To Speak Before Greenfield Club

GREENFIELD—The Greenfield Woman's Club will meet Monday night, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock in the Baptist Church Annex.

Mrs. Howard Houlette, program chairman will present Richard R. Black, instructor in Art at Illinois College and Director of the David Strawn Art Gallery of Jacksonville, as guest speaker. Mr. Black will discuss print making and wood cuts and have on display materials used and work in various stages of completion. He will also exhibit a collection of his own.

Mrs. Houlette will also present Miss Emma Jane Solomon a Greenefield high student who will give a report of her attendance at the Allerton Park Art Camp, the past summer on the Woman's Club Art Scholarship, sided by the American Legion Auxiliary. She will show a group of her works, including, oil, sketches and water colors.

Robert Morrow, art instructor of the Greenfield schools, will have a student display and with his art class will assist in hanging and arranging the exhibit of arts and crafts by Greenfield area students. Persons with articles to display should contact Mrs. Houlette.

Musical selections will be under the direction of Ben Strode, local school music instructor.

Refreshments will be served by the Woman's club hostesses with Mrs. Winfred Koehm as chairman. The resignation of Mrs. Ruby Harrington as publicity chairman has been accepted and Mrs. Frank Hodapp has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Library Exhibits Space Display

The Public Library at present is featuring a space display in its reading room. Two colorful posters picturing the planets and listing pertinent facts in relation to them comprise the display, which also offers various good books to people bent on furthering their knowledge of spaceships, satellites, manned space travel, rocketry, missiles, and artificial moons.

"Project Satellite," "The Challenge of the Spaceship," "The Making of a Moon," and "Vanguard," are but a few titles of books to be found on the display shelf. The display will remain on exhibit in the reading room during the next two weeks. It offers to viewers and readers alike an abundance of information dealing with space and man's relation to it.

By

Pat Bradley and Ann Fay

Jacksonville Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y's have recently found out they are to be the official hosts for the District Meeting to be held here in Jacksonville in the early part of November. The clubs' various committees have been chosen and they are now hard at work preparing for the meeting.

Petitions for Freshman class officers have been circulating during the past week. The classes will vote on the candidates sometime in the near future.

Congratulations to Bev Bray who was recently chosen as a Varsity Cheerleaders for Milliken University. Bev also pledged Pi Beta Phi society sorority. She was a member of the 1959 graduating class.

A game was held Friday night with Beardstown on our home field. A dance was held immediately following the game at the 'Y'.

800 At Junior High PTA Breaks Record

All attendance records for junior high school Parent-Teachers Association meetings were broken when 800 attended the opening meeting at Jonathan Turner school held Tuesday evening, Oct 6th. During the evening 300 paid memberships were received.

A short business session was held in the auditorium with president, Ralph Sullivan, in charge. Mrs. L. L. Omundson gave the secretary's report. The financial report was made by treasurer, Mrs. Harold Carter.

The president introduced committee chairmen and co-chairmen. Mrs. Thomas Armserong, co-chairman for the magazine drive, which opened Oct. 8th, gave a report.

The program chairman, Mrs. Mildred Kane, outlined the years programs and explained the October topic, Mom and Dad Back to School for a Day.

The assembly was dismissed and parents accompanied students through the course of a 'day at school.' They visited classrooms following the Tuesday schedule for each pupil. During lunch period refreshments served in the cafeteria. Teachers in classrooms met parents and explained aims of various courses.

Trinity Guild Entertained At Circle Meeting

MEREDOSIA— Tuesday afternoon the Loyal Circle of St. John's Lutheran church held its October meeting in the parish hall. Special guests were the members of the Trinity Guild. In all, 19 members and guests were present. Several children came after school.

The opening hymn was "Gold of Love." Mrs. Alvin Unland was the lesson leader, with the topic "You and the United Nations" which she illustrated with maps and pictures; she also read passages from the Bible.

During the business session, a letter from Mrs. Edkhoff of Peoria, conference president, was read telling of the Fall Conference Rally in Macomb on Oct. 23. Anyone expecting to attend should tell Mrs. Oscar Nortrup no later than Oct. 15. Filled fruit jars will be collected and shipped to Nachusa Home on Oct. 19. The Circle will hold a clothing drive for the next two weeks; garments are to be taken to the parish hall.

Mrs. Henry Schroeder and Mrs. Minnie Steinberg were appointed as a nominating committee.

Mrs. John Peters announced that the Passavant Aid Society will hold a handicrafts day and show on Nov. 19 as a fund-raising project. Entries and visitors are welcome.

Mrs. Steinberg and Mrs. Schroeder conducted several games and contests.

Hostess for the November meeting is Mrs. Peters, the lesson leader, Mrs. Steinberg.

Mrs. Charles Wegehoft and Mrs. Nortdup served assorted sandwiches, cake, coffee and punch at a tea table. Mrs. Nortrup poured the coffee and Mrs. Leah Wegehoft served the punch.

Sportsmen Plan Trapshoot At Meredosia Club

MEREDOSIA— Thursday night the Meredosia Sportsmen's Club held its regular meeting in the clubhouse north of town, attended by 30 members. Jot Schneider presided.

Mr. Schneider asked that additional help turn out at the Oct. 18 "added money" trapshoot. He announced that book matches had been ordered for the club and should arrive in time for the shoot.

Mr. Schneider and Kenneth Grammer reminded the members that this is the month in which the Boy Scout charter is to be renewed and that the Scoutmaster and the troop committee will welcome any help given by interested persons.

The second meeting in December, which would fall on Christmas Eve, was changed to the 30th of the month.

It was decided to start the Oct. 22 meeting at 7:30.

The film shown was "Hoosier Line" by the Monon Railroad.

Refreshment committee for the next meeting is Alpha Ommen, Roy Webel, and Kenneth Nunn.

Charles Kaltschnee, Leland Weber and Robert Workman served meat and cheese sandwiches, cookies, potato chips, coffee and pop.

C. Of C. Plans Halloween Party In Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD—The Chamber of Commerce is planning to sponsor a Halloween party for the Pittsfield youngsters on Thursday night, Oct. 29. The time and place will be announced at a later date. Herb Lenenbauer, Roger Frazier and Phil Benson are on the committee to work out the details.

President of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Bea McKenna said the Legion Commander, Ben Roberts, would like all business houses to close on Wednesday, Nov. 11, between 11 and 12 a.m. as this is Memorial Day and there will be a dedication ceremony for the new memorial stone in the West cemetery, in memory of all servicemen in the first and second world wars and the Korean conflict.

Chairman Calls Cancer Society Meeting Oct. 15

Don G. Fiedler, newly elected chairman for the Morgan County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, announced that the first meeting of the chapter year will be held Thursday, Oct. 15. The meeting will be held at the Salem Lutheran school on East Beecher street and will begin at 8 o'clock that evening.

DON FIEDLER

Mr. Fiedler, who was elected chairman at the annual May meeting, has been active in many civic and local church projects, and is manager of Kline's Department Store in Jacksonville.

Since the membership of the American Cancer Society is made up of everyone who is interested in this voluntary society, Mr. Fiedler is asking as many as possible attend this first meeting.

"Since the Illinois Division was first organized 12 years ago, a host of volunteers, both lay and professional, have been working every section of our state. The citizens of Morgan county have worked hard in recent years, giving both time and money to the society, and we are grateful to them; however, there must be many, many more in our county who believe that cancer must be conquered, and who will help through their united efforts. We sincerely urge them to attend our meetings. There are no dues; we are asking only for time, not money.

"This first meeting is most important, because lay-members will be elected to the executive board for the 1959-60 year, the new Epidemiological Research Study on Cancer will be explained, and plans will be started on the 1960 Crusade, which is held annual during the month of April."

The newly elected officers of the society, besides Mr. Fiedler, chairman, are: Ralph Jones, past-chairman; Dr. Walter Meyer, vice chairman; Mrs. Ivan Garrison, secretary; G. William Schildman, treasurer; chairman of public education, Mrs. Arthur Hallerberg; service co-chairmen, Mrs. James Cash and Mrs. R. W. Jess; publicity chairman, Mrs. John W. Hinds.

MULTIPLYING FISH

EAST CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—The care and feeding of two small zebra fish is simple. But problems can develop when the number grows to between 500 and 1,000.

Jeffrey McLaughlin, 14, won the two small fish on a bet, and began his hobby as an amateur ichthyologist with an ordinary fish bowl.

Now he has eight aquariums, with five additional tanks in reserve in the basement.

He has added representatives of 20 varieties of fish and so far has run into only one real problem.

He can pick out and identify each breed—but he has trouble spelling the names.

FLAG BEING RETURNED

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—In a skirmish shortly before the second battle of Bull Run in August, 1862, the 24th New York Volunteers—a Lockport regiment—lost their flag to Southern troops.

Now, some 97 years later, the flag will be returned to Lockport. County historian Clarence O. Lewis handled arrangements.

Virginia Society Plans Chili Supper Oct. 17

VIRGINIA—St. Luke's Altar Society met Wednesday evening at the rectory. The meeting was called to order and led by the president, Mrs. H. J. Collins. Father Kozak opened the meeting with a prayer.

Roll call of officers and minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. John Lockhart. The treasurer' report was given by Mrs. Joe Bray.

The main item of business was the forthcoming chili supper which is to be held October 17, at the Legion Hall. Serving starts at 4 p.m. Mrs. Ed Finn made a report on the progress with plans for the affair.

A most enjoyable sociable hour followed, viewing slides taken by the pastor. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Marion Walker and Mrs. John Lockhart. Attendance prize was won by Mrs. Russell Decker.

Members present were Mrs. Russell Decker, Mrs. Marion Walker, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. John Pero, Mrs. Edna Cramer, Mrs. Will Burns.

Mrs. Carl Tibbs, Mrs. Eva Brennan, Mrs. Nadine Engel, Mrs. Ed Finn, Mrs. Bob Lockhart, Mrs. Orval Walters, Mrs. H. J. Collins, Mrs. Joe Bray, Mrs. Don Daniel.

Mrs. W. C. Kumle and Clara Coe went to Sullivan Sunday to visit Mrs. Clara Coe, who resides in Masonic home.

TIME TO THINK

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The exclamation, "Oh, for heaven's sake," meant a sentence of 30 days in jail for Harold Harris, an attorney.

The contempt of court sentence was ordered by District Judge Frank Gregorski when Harris blurted out the comment as one of his clients was fined $150 for drunken driving.

El Paso, Tex. (pop. 132,000) is the largest city on the United States-Mexican border.

Presents Meat Demonstration At MacMurray

MacMurray College enjoyed an unusual opportunity Thursday, Oct. 8 at 3:00 p.m., when Moreland Martin of the National Livestock and Meat Board of Chicago spoke and gave an excellent demonstration on various means by which the modern housewife can stretch her food dollar. This was done through the use of various cuts of beef, pork, and lamb.

Mr. Martin stressed the fact taht meat cuts which are less expensive and thought to be less tender are often the "piece de resistance" if cooked properly. He emphasized that women tend to cook meat at a temperature which is too high, and advised the use of a meat thermometer whenever possible. Three-hundred degrees is fine for most meat with the exception of pork which should be cooked at three-hundred and fifty degrees.

Traveling around the United Staetes for the Meat Board, Mr. Martin has spoken to restaurant owners, retailers, associations, and livestock exposition meetings. The Meat Board also has educational television shows over 72 percent of all stations across the country.

The students here appreciated Mr. Martin's knowledge of his field and the opportunity to ask and discuss various problems concerning the housewife of today and the way she buys, cuts, cooks, and serves meat of all kinds.

SPOKE TOO SOON

HONOLULU (AP) — Warden Joe Harper of Oahu Prison stood up at a luncheon for a parolee rehabilitation group. He said it was nice to see reporters at the prison for something other than an escape.

The luncheon guests were still occupied with their food when two shots rang out. Two convicts had scaled the prison fence.

They were recaptured within minutes.

Local Couple Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene TerHark

A local couple, Miss Cheryl Andress, formerly of Joy, Illinois, near Moline, and Eugene TerHark, both employed at Jacksonville State Hospital, were united in marriage Sept. 20, at the Joy Methodist church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Goodell before friends and relatives of the couple. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Andress of Joy and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mildred TerHark, 205 East Beecher avenue.

White glads decorated the altar of the church. Richard Allred of Jacksonville was soloist and Mrs. Marily Olson of Joy presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace on taffeta sheath cut gown, with full net overskirt. Her short mitts were of lace matching her wedding dress. A queen's crown held her short shoulder veil. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid.

Miss Sue Andress was her sister's maid of honor. She wore orchid nylon chiffon on taffeta made with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her headdress was of orchid mums and her bouquet spider mums on white lace.

Robert Lashmet of Jacksonville was best man. Ricki Andress, brother of the bride, carried the rings. Ushers were Parker Andress, another brother of the bride and Marlin Jarvis, Jacksonville.

A reception for one hundred and twenty-five guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Mildred Lundquist and Mrs. Wendell Bergstrom, aunts of the bride poured and Mrs. DeWayne Mallie and Mrs. Dean Smith, New Boston, cut cake. Mrs. Marlin Jarvis registered guests.

The bride is a graduate of Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing, Moline. The groom attended Southern Illinois University at Carlinville.

Mr. and Mrs. TerHark are in residence at the hospital since their return from a honeymoon in northern states.

EMPORIUM

EAST STATE STREET

With The Girl Scouts

More than 40 Junior high age girls attended a rally of those who were interested in continuing their Girl Scout experiences or becoming a Girl Scout for the first time Friday afternoon at Jonathan Turner Junior high school. Girls were present from Waverly and Franklin as well as Jacksonville since this rally was for Morgan county. Mrs. Edith Davis of the program committee of the board of directors of this council was in charge of arrangements for the rally.

Carol Abbott and Gail Ward, members of Senior Scout Troop 1, presented the program, telling of their Roundup experiences, displaying "swap" items and showing colored slides of the two-week encampment in Colorado last summer. Refreshments of popcorn and coke were served to the girls, compliments of the council.

As a follow-up to the rally, there will be a meeting of mothers of Junior high age girls at Jonathan Turner junior high school on Tuesday morning, Oct. 13, at 9 o'clock in the school cafeteria. At this time plans will be made for forming new troops and reorganizing those in existence.

Cass Leaders

Cass county leaders met Thursday morning, Oct. 8, at 9:30 o'clock at the Legion hall in Virginia. Mrs. Pauline McCausland was elected secretary of the group. Leaders were present from Chandlerville, Ashland and Virginia. A great deal of enthusiasm was in evidence. The leaders expressed their desire to have monthly meetings and agreed that the program for each meeting should consist of a discussion period to talk over problems and helpful hints and some sort of a training session to last about 30 minutes. It was suggested also that some leader be appointed each time to bring an idea (an exhibit or program idea) and an example of what her troop is doing.

At the first meeting Mrs. Addison Marcy of Chandlerville showed the group three items, a corsage, decorated clothespins and hot plate mats made of crepe paper rafia. The meeting ended with the showing of slides of a unit at Camp Shagbark and pictures taken by Mrs. C. A. Dawson of Jacksonville, leader of Troop 75, when she visited the International Roundup in Colorado last summer.

The next meeting will be held the second Thursday in November at 9:30 a.m. in Ashland.

Board To Meet

The board of directors of the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council will meet Wednesday morning, Oct. 14, at 9:30 o'clock at the Scout office. This is the regular monthly meeting.

Carol Abbott, Virginia Gronseth and Gail Ward, Roundup girls, will present the program this week at the regular meeting of the Jacksonville Lions club, Wednesday evening at the Dunlap Hotel. The girls will be accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Dawson, who visited the Roundup while it was in session and took many pictures herself of the huge encampment.

Mothers of girls interested in Scouting held a meeting last Tuesday at the Washington school in Beardstown and additional meetings have been scheduled for other schools in Beardstown the latter part of October.

Other meetings scheduled for this coming week are: Greene county leaders, Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Galloway in Roodhouse. Jacksonville leaders, Thursday, Oct. 15, at 9:30 a.m. at the Scout office and a meeting of mothers of 3rd, 4th and 7th grade girls at the Meredosia grade school at 2 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 12.

Troop Activities

After four postponements due to rainy Fridays, the girls of Intermediate Troop 36, Mrs. Nick Gioscio, leader, at last held their scheduled wiener roast Friday, Oct. 9. There was perfect weather and an added attraction—a hayride. The girls enjoyed a circuitous ride to Nichols Park and from there proceeded on a nature hike and scavenger hunt, climaxing the event by cooking their supper around a fire. Mrs. Sarah Baptist assisted Mrs. Gioscio. There were two guests present, Nicki Jo Gioscio and Donna Baptist. The girls said it was worth waiting for!

Troop 52, Mrs. Virginia Beams, leader, has completed an unusual craft display. The girls made an American flag from links fo construction paper formed into strips of red, white and blue and assembled and mounted on a board. The links are made of one-inch strips and the total effect is beautiful.

School Law Banquet Held In Virginia

VIRGINIA—A school law banquet was held Thursday evening in the Virginia American Legion Hall at 6:30. The speaker of the evening was Kenneth H. Lemmer, legal adviser to George Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction. All school legislation enacted by the 71st General Assembly was discussed.

Those attending were all school board members, administrators, and attorneys in Cass county.

ON THE AIR

MARIETTA, Okla. (AP)—An inebriated entertainer provided a private show for Love County officers. He entered the unlocked sheriff's office — left open for highway patrolmen's use — and gave out with song and chatter over the two-way radio. The happy fellow paid a $62 fine.

Thwart Apparent Robbery Attempt At Hardin

HARDIN—An apparent robbery attempt was thwarted about 8 p.m. Thursday at the Langer Lumber Company in Hardin, when Omar Snider, lumber yard manager, happening on the scene.

As Mr. Snider and his wife entered the building by a front door they heard a commotion in the back, and could make out the figure of at least one person leaving by way of a sliding door, when they turned on a light. At the same time, a small door in the rear, which had been pried off and by which entry had obviously been gained, fell to the floor.

Snider immediately called Hardin Police Chief Edgar Pethtel, and Bernard Hillen, sheriff of Calhoun county, and an investigation is being made. The sheriff's office stated that no arrest has been made as yet.

Franklin Church Circle Meets At Seymour Home

FRANKLIN—The Evening Circle of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Guy Seymour Tuesday evening. Roll call was answered with "An Item of Interest from a Christian Magazine" by 19 members and one guest, Mrs. Harold Niedermeier.

Mrs. Edgar Rodgers had the devotions and read the 84th Psalm, followed by a poem and closed with prayer. Mrs. Ruth Ranson was in charge of the program giving an interesting talk on her world tour and showing slides on Thailand.

The members decided to hold a silent auction at the next meeting to be with Mrs. Nelson Seymour. Mrs. Niedermeier joined the society.

The meeting closed by the members repeating the Circle pledge. Refreshmetns were served by the hostess during the social hour.

CAN THEY READ

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP)—Termites nearly destroyed some books in the Moultrie Junior High School library. The books dealt with how to get rid of termites.

Wide Variety Of Cars Makes Dealers Showrooms Look Like Supermarkets

DETROIT (AP)—As a potential new car buyer you really confused the market research departments of the big auto companies this year.

These are the experts who are supposed to help the automakers come up with the cars you want in the year you're ready to buy. This year the research boys say you're ready to buy—if they only knew what.

They couldn't decide if it would be smaller cars, bigger cars, imported cars, more chrome, less trim, more room inside, less bulk outside convertibles, station wagons, basic transportation or luxury on wheels.

So you are being offered a little of everything and the neighborhood auto dealer's showroom will look more like a supermarket than ever before.

Imported cars? Simca, of which Chrysler owns 25 per cent; General Motors' German Opel and the English Ford Anglia all have new models slicked up for the American trade.

GM is continuing its English Vauxhall at Pontiac dealerships and Ford also imports the German Taunus with new emphasis on the smaller, cheaper M12 models. American motors offers the little Metropolitan from England while Studebaker-Packard owns exclusive U.S. distribution rights to the famed Mercedes-Benz cars of Germany and has recently made a deal for DKW auto union cars, also from Germany.

Smaller cars? This is the year of the new compact models — Ford's Falcon, Chevrolet's Corvair and Chrysler's Valiant. Studebaker continues its Lark shortest of the lot, and American Motors trimmed an inch or two from its Rambler, the car that popularized the term "compact."

Bigger cars? Ford bucked the general trend by coming up with a standard size car that is both longer and wider—five inches each way—than 1959 models.

More room inside? You'll get that in any of the standard size 1960 cars when compared with 1959 versions.

Less bulk outside? At least one of GM's medium price lines — Oldsmobile—has cut its length and claims even more maneuverability because of a changed front bumper. Dodge brought out a whole new line of slightly smaller cars called the Dart. These sell in the Chevrolet-Plymouth - Ford price class.

Model variety? Studebaker-Packard added a convertible and a four-door station wagon. Rambler added a three - seat station wagon and brought out a four - door version of its smaller American. Pontiac, Buick and Oldsmobile all added three-seat wagons.

Ford in particular is stressing the something for everyone theme. James O. Wright, Ford division general manager, says a Ford dealership no longer will be a specialty shop but will offer cars throughout a price range that makes up 90 per cent of the market.

Ford's Mercury-Edsel - Lincoln division makes much the same sales pitch—that its dealers will have cars that deliver at prices from about $1,600 (the Anglia) to almost $10,000 (the Lincoln Continental limousine).

State Vice Regent Speaks Before DAR

A regular session of the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held Thursday, October 8, at the Chapter Home. Dessert was served before the meeting by the hostesses, Mrs. Roy Phears, Mrs. W. E. Harper, Mrs. T. J. Dugan, Mrs. Homer Rockwood, Mrs. Alva Keys, Mrs. Zoda Lumley and Mrs. Eugene Rawlins.

Mrs. George L. Drennan, Regent, presided. Mrs. Paul S. Black led in the Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag. The group sang the National Anthem, Mrs. Fred E. Deatherage at the piano. Mrs. William H. Jones, national defense chairman, spoke on "Faith in the States."

Miss Alanna Heiss, junior at Jacksonville High School, was presented by Mrs. Drennan. Miss Heiss played several violin selections.

Mrs. Paul Allyn presented Mrs. Will Small of Petersburg who gave a report of the D.A.R Constitutional Congress at Washington, D.C. She also explained how the resolutions of the Society were chosen. One of the suggestions to D.A.R. members is to buy only Christmas cards which express the true meaning of Christmas. Mrs. Small is State Vice Regent.

Mrs. W. T. (Lillian) Scott was presented as guest speaker. Using the title, "The Fame of Illinois," Mrs. Scott told of State settlement and how Mr. Lincoln brought fame to Illinois. At the close of her remarks, Mrs. Deatherage played "Illinois."

Business was conducted after the program. The secretary, Mrs. J. E. Dinwiddie, read the minutes of the September meeting. Mrs. W. Earl Rexroat, treasurer, gave the financial report. The plant and bulb sale was extended to the November meeting.

"Faith in Our Nation" will be the theme for the November 12 meeting to be held at the Chapter Home.

Child Welfare Meeting At Waverly Wednesday

WAVERLY — The monthly meeting of the Child Welfare club will be held Wednesday, Oct. 14, in the American Legion Hall.

Hostesses are Mrs. John Woods and Mrs. Paul Stewart. The roll call to be answered is a diet food.

The afternoon program will be "A Figure Which You Desire," with a demonstration of a reducing table by Mrs. Fern Stublefield of Waverly. At this meeting outgrown clothing should be brought by the members to be sold at this meeting.

Class to Meet Oct. 13

On Tuesday, Oct. 13, the monthly meeting of the Mizpah class of the First Methodist church will be held. Mrs. Floyd Robertson and Mrs. Georgia Potts are on the committee for the entertainment. The roll call for the day will be an antique display. Those on the refreshment committee for this meeting are as follows: Mrs. Holland Burnett, Mrs. Newton Turner, Mrs. Roy Brown and Miss Maude Workman.

Change Society Meeting

On account of the Catechism classes meeting on Tuesday in the church basement the Altar Society of the Saint Sebastian church will be changed to Wednesday, Oct. 14. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. John Ryan and Mrs. Donald Ryan. The meeting will start at 2 o'clock with the Rosary being recited in unison at this time.

Institute Oct. 14-15

School will be let out next Thursday, Oct. 15, and Friday, Oct. 16, on account of teachers institute. On Thursday the teachers will go to Jacksonville for institute and on Friday they will go to Springfield.

The F.F.A. sales for the magazines have been completed with a total of $950 worth of magazines being sold. The boys hope to clear $200 or more. This money made on the magazines goes for expenses during the year, some of the expenses being chapter supplies, farming programs, community service activities, F.F.A. jackets and a parent and son banquet.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Rockbridge church met Thursday in the basement social rooms of the church for an all-day regular meeting and sewing. Mrs. Reid Tendick and Mrs. Harold Scott were leaders of the worship service and lesson study. Lunch was served at noon and hostesses were Mrs. Bly Cooley, Mrs. Herschel Williams and Mrs. Ray Thiel. Plans were made for the annual harvest home supper to be held Thursday night, Oct. 29.

Mackeys Show Slides Of West At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE— Mr. and Mrs. Merle R. Mackey presented a travelog with colored slides of the West at the Thursday night meeting of the Della Philathea Class of the First Baptist church held in the fellowship room of the church. Mr. Mackey showed the pictures which were accompanied by recorded music and commentaries.

The invocation preceding the dinner was given by Rev. H. L. Janvrin.

Husbands and others were guests of the members of the class. The Halloween motif was carried out in the table decorations. The meeting was closed with prayer offered by the teacher of the class, Mrs. Claude Martin.

Hostesses were Mesdames Aletha Walker, Neetia Lee and Cecile Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Lee were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Herbert Harr, Carrollton, Thursday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clive Raffety, St. Petersburg, Fla., who are visiting in this vicinity.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY PLANS PIE LUNCHEON AT WHITE HALL

WHITE HALL—Members of the White Hall Hospital Auxiliary have announced the sale of tickets for the chicken pie luncheon to be held at the American Legion Home on Saturday, Oct. 17, is going well, over a hundred tickets having been sold to date. Any member of the auxiliary has tickets or can secure them for anyone wishing to buy. There will be a coffee break, bake sale and bazaar also during the day.

The president, Mrs. H. Nevius, has announced that Mr. Joseph Davidson, new proprietor of the drug store formerly operated by the late C. F. Montgomery, and later by Mrs. Montgomery, has donated a most attractive case which is being used to display various items of merchandise which the auxiliary has for sale in the lobby of the White Hall Hospital.

VARIATIONS ON A THEME

We're hearing a great deal these days about the new Romantic theme in home furnishings and decor . . . and a delightful variation of this theme is French Provincial, particularly the city styles.

The strong influence of the French Court Periods—Louis XV and Louis XVI — is responsible for the subdued curves, the restrained carvings and the delicate colorings which fit in so perfectly with the Romantic styles of the past and present.

French Provincial adapts itself well to our present way of life . . . it is elegantly simple without being formal. It blends amiably with simple Georgian pieces, Queen Anne, Duncan Phyfe and Classic Modern.

There is a note of casual elegance in the romantic setting sketched above. Alabaster white silk-and-cotton draperies match the wall color. The deep pile carpet is a soft dove grey. Circular sectional sofa which fills the entire window recess is ice blue, and is complemented by the rich blue-green on the roomy lounge chairs. Circular coffee table follows the lines of the sofa, gives a pleasing, restful tone to the entire setting. Note how well the traditional breakfront and chest fit in with French Provincial pieces.

We know that the purchase of home furnishings represents an investment of considerable size to most home makers. We pledge every piece you purchase from us to be an investment in taste, style, comfort, durability and beauty. Value is an important point with us, too. So do come in . . . shop assured.

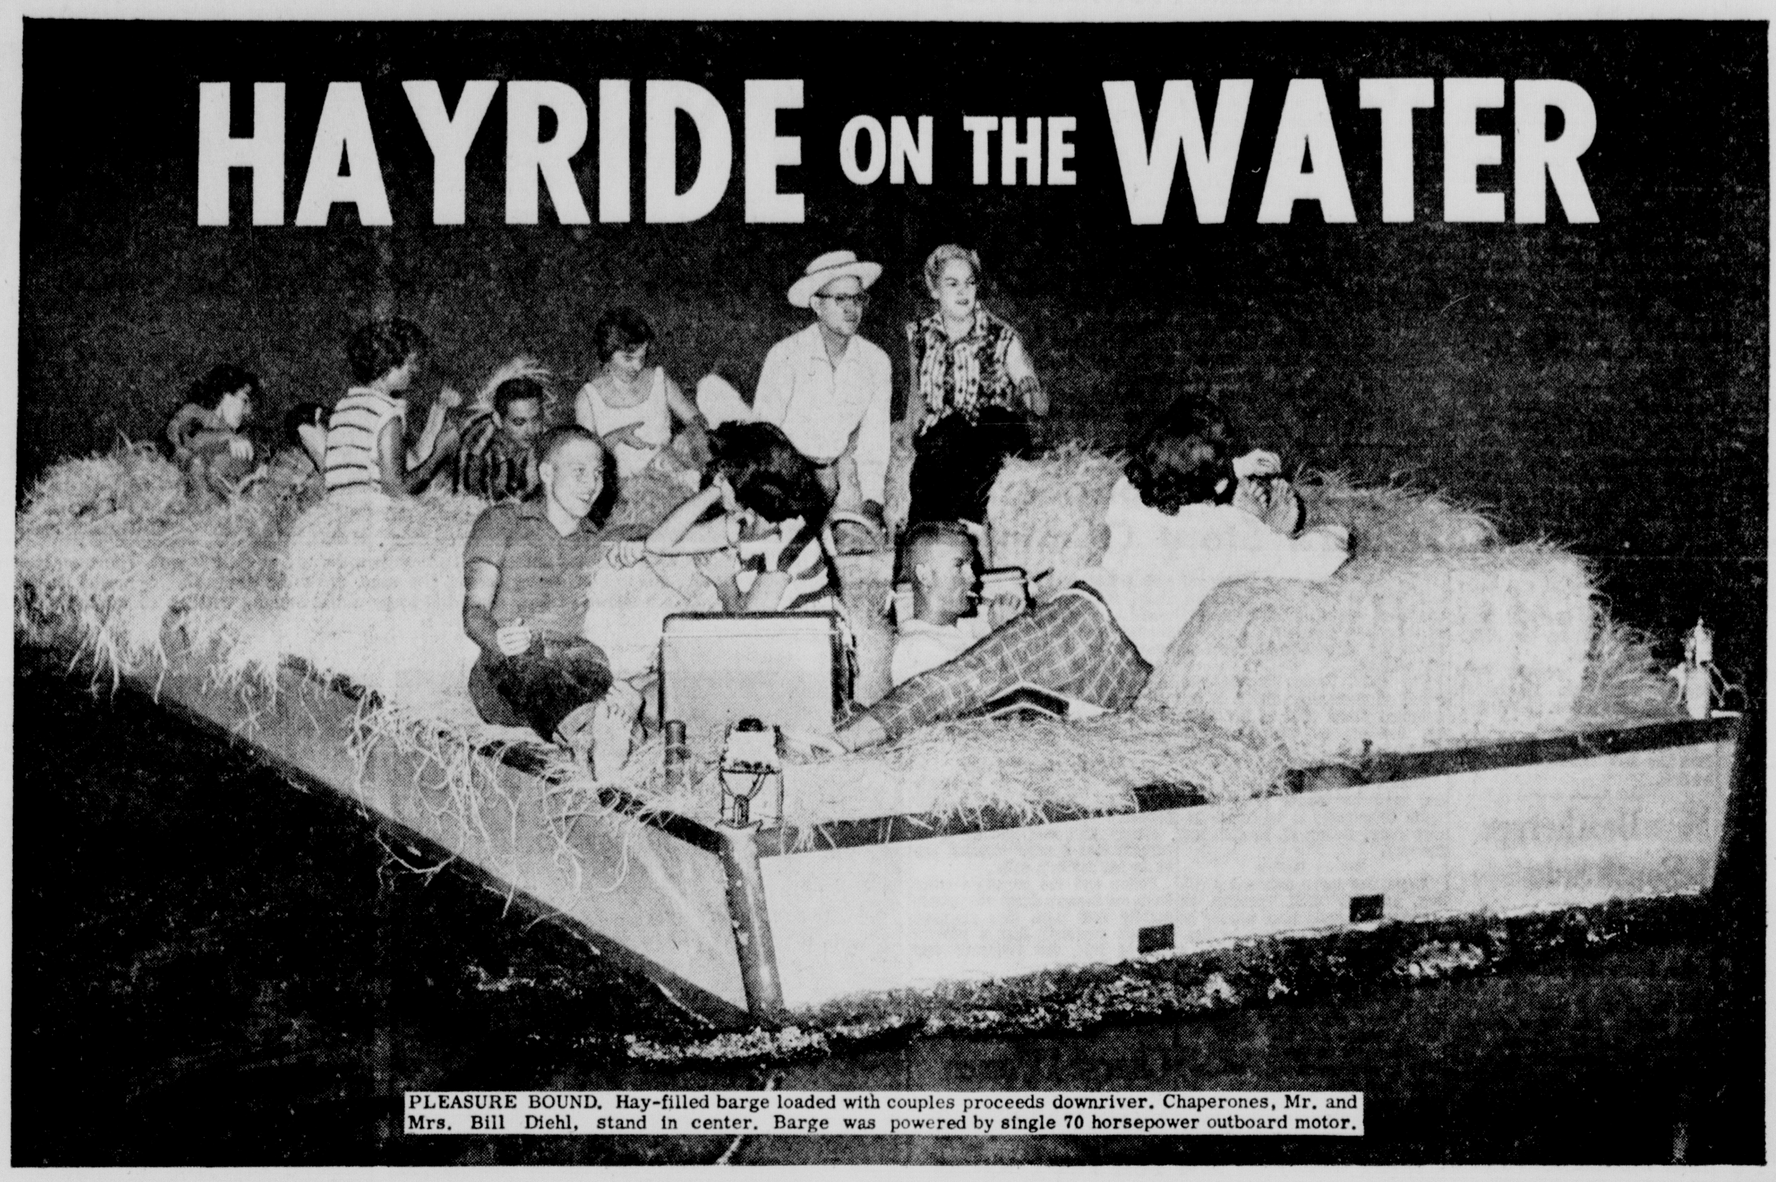
HAYRIDE ON THE WATER



PLEASURE BOUND. Hay-filled barge loaded with couples proceeds downriver. Chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Diehl, stand in center. Barge was powered by single 70 horsepower outboard motor.

Remember the old-fashioned hayride when Grandfather loaded the hayrick with hay, hitched up the family team and trotted them off down the country road with his cargo of laughing young couples?

Those days are gone, but the hayride in other forms is still with us. Father, likely or not, will use a truck to to transport the youngsters.

Down in Florida, the hayride has been given a new twist —a hayride on water.

It all started when a pretty young miss, Pat McLauchlin of Silver Springs decided to throw a party. She wanted something different —not the formal party or a rock and roll session. Living near the water, she got the loan of a flat barge, piled it high with hay and invited her friends for a cruise down the Silver River. Two chaperones went along. The ride ended with a hamburger feast on dry land. Everyone agreed the ride was great fun. It's pictured here.

Don Meyers and Nancy Pounds play game of "eating the straw." Game ends in kiss.

While barge heads down river, Pat and Bob Hugli dance in hay to music from portable radio.

Boys gang up on Zona Gore in attempt to throw her overboard. Stunt failed when she grabbed radio. Boys are Bruce Mozert, Don Meyers and Bob Hugli.

Impatient couples jump for shore as barge lands for cookout.

Outdoor grills were used to prepare hamburgers for the on-shore snack. Most of the girls proved to be good cooks.

Negro Mother Of Eight Gives Birth To Quadruplets

BALTIMORE, MD. (AP)—A 30-year-old Negro woman, already the mother of eight children, gave birth to quadruplets Saturday at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said Lorraine Graves of Annapolis and all four babies—three girls and a boy—were healthy and doing fine.

Dr. Frank Leak, resident physician in obstetrics, delivered the first baby, a 4-pound, 8½-ounce girl, at 1:17 p.m. The other babies, a 3-pound 13½-ounce girl, a 3-pound 11-ounce boy and a 3-pound 8-ounce girl, were delivered within 35 minutes.

Mrs. Graves, only 5 feet 2 and normally about 140 pounds, is married to George Graves, but lives with her mother, Temperance Simms in Annapolis. The husband, an automobile mechanic, was not at home.

Her other eight children include two sets of twins.

Statistics show that quadruplets occur once in about ever 657,000 births.

Mrs. Graves' babies were taken immediately to a premature nursery in the hospital, where babies automatically are confined when they weigh less than 5 pounds at birth.

Dr. Leak said Mrs. Graves was confined to the hospital on Sept. 25 when it was determined by X-rays for the first time that she would have quadruplets.

Mrs. Graves, a soft-spoken woman, beamed when newsmen appeared at her bedside shortly after the delivery.

"I'm a lucky woman," she said. "It's not all women that God has blessed with quadruplets."

The Jacksonville Association of Insurance Agents met Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the County Fair room of the Dunlap Hotel with the president, Bill Ranson, presiding.

A report was made by Ray Shanle, Fire Prevention Week chairman. He expressed his appreciation for the cooperation received from the members of the Jacksonville Fire Department for their extra efforts in inspection and education of public institutions and business establishments. He also thanked Merle Wade for his cooperation in distributing 8,000 pieces of material to the schools in District 117 Boy Scout Troop 107 for distributing posters; Robert Hockensmith of the Illinois Theatre for showing a minute-movie on Fire Prevention during the week; and the restaurants in Jacksonville who displayed Fire Prevention stamps on their menus.

Officers for the ensuing year were presented by the nominating committee, and the following were elected—Robert Spink, president; Chester Colton, vice president; Harold McCarty, secretary-treasurer.

Robert Johnson of Springfield was introduced by Earl Grojean as his guest

Rain Curtails Homecoming Activities On IC Campus

Rain and more rain seemed to be the order of the day for Illinois College students and alumni who turned out to be among the young at heart Saturday.

A thundershower shortly before the scheduled noon starting of the homecoming parade caused officials to cancel the event. Dainty napkin-covered floats in full color were quickly reduced to soggy, water - logged hulks and chicken wire skeletons. Annual half-time ceremonies which included the introduction of the 1959 homecoming queen were also cancelled later in the afternoon.

All other events scheduled for the weekend were run - off as planned, although spectators at the game walked around with umbrellas and raincoats.

Alumni Come Home

Far from being a washout, this year's homecoming activities were termed "one of the most successful we've seen" by several officials.

More than one thousand alumni and friends of the college watched the giant bonfire Friday night, then a crowd of 750 visited Baxter Hall for a reception of doughnuts and cider.

More than 140 crowded into the Illinois room at the Dunlap hotel Saturday night for the alumni banquet.

A formal dance followed in Memorial Gymnasium Saturday night.

HansonGirl,6,Corroborates Father's Story Of Murder

CHICAGO (AP) — A 6-year-old girl, prim at times and squirming at others, apparently corroborated Saturday the story of her father about the strangulation death of her mother.

The child, Nancy Hansen, was called as a defense witness in the Criminal Court trial of her father, Duncan, 29, who has been charged with killing his former wife Susan Hansen 24, on May 24.

Nancy, a tiny blonde, who does not know her daddy is on trial, spent 40 minutes in testimony before Judge Robert E. English and lawyers.

Defers Ruling

Later, the judge deferred a ruling, probably until Tuesday, on whether the child may appear as a witness to face jurors in Hansen's murder trial.

Hansen, a part - time school teacher, has testified that he came to his former wife's South Side home after Nancy answered his telephone call and said:

"Mommy's on the floor and we (the three Hansen children) can't wake her up."

Hansen said he arrived at the home at 8:30 a.m. and found Susan's body sprawled on a bedroom floor.

Previous testimony had placed Hansen near the murder scene more than an hour before he said he arrived.

Questions Girl

Charles A. Bellows, defense attorney, asked Nancy what she did the early morning of May 24. Nancy said:

"I went to my mommy's room, and I saw her bad, and she was on the floor."

"Did you talk to her?" Bellows asked.

"No," said Nancy.

"After you couldn't awaken your mommy, what did you do next?" asked Bellows.

"I went downstairs," Nancy related. "Then, I went in Laura's and Chuckie's (the other Hansen children) room, and then I went back to my mommy's room and I waited until Laura and Chuckie were awake. When they were awake, I got some cereal for them and brought it upstairs and we ate it."

Father Calls

"And then?" Bellows asked.

"Then, my daddy called and he asked me where my mommy was, and I told him she was on the floor. He (Hansen) told me he would be right over to take me to Sunday School. Then he came over, and I opened the door."

"What did your daddy do?" asked Bellows.

"He called someone on the telephone and then he drove me to Auntie Lynn's home," Nancy replied.

Attends Sunday School

Hansen has said he regularly took the children to Sunday School.

Nancy also said she heard no scream that Sunday morning prior to her father's call.

Police and the coroner's office have set Susan's death at approximately 6:45 a.m. that morning. Hansen contends that a prowler slipped into the residence and strangled her.

Susan divorced Hansen in April on grounds of cruelty and planned to marry a doctor.

Plan FBI School For Jacksonville Area Policemen

Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel and Sheriff Staley Keller announced plans Saturday for a special "Police Training School" in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be held October 26-29 at the Jacksonville City Hall.

The school will be limited to persons engaged in law enforcement and will be held in the council chamber of city hall.

The school will also include a firearms school sponsored by the two local agencies November 3-5 inclusive at the Jacksonville Police Department firing range. All indoor classes will be held in the council chamber.

All law enforcement officers in Jacksonville and surrounding communities are invited to attend both schools.

Two sessions will be scheduled each day to allow as many officers as possible to participate.

Special agents of the FBI scheduled to appear on the program are: Vincent T. Hartnett, Charles Travelstead, Cecil M. Miller and Charles R. Wood, Jr. State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan will also give instructions concerning laws of arrest and court room testimony.

Runkel and Keller have sent invitations to several towns in the Jacksonville area, but would like to invite officers not on their mailing list to attend. There is no charge for attendance.

POLICEMEN LEARN SIGN LANGUAGE

Seven members of the Jacksonville Police Department have enrolled in a special sign language course offered by the Chapel For the Deaf Lutheran Church. The classes are held during the evening. Chief Charles P. Runkel said Saturday that his department would be "better able to serve the deaf population of the city" when the course is completed.

Students at Pennsylvania State University in the 1860s were advised to bring with them a carpet, mirror, washbowl, pitcher, pail, broom, lamp and oil can.

Charge 4 Women With 'Dognaping' Ten Toy Poodles

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — The "dognaping" of 10 toy poodles valued by their owner at $25,000 was revealed Saturday with the arraignment of four Long Island women in court.

They were charged with burglary for allegedly taking the dogs Sept. 15 from the home of Mrs. Leicester Harrison of Massapequa, a frequent exhibitor at dog shows.

Mrs. Harrison told the court the women had held the dogs for a $5,000 ransom.

The four women were ordered to post $1,000 bail each pending grand jury action.

Mrs. Harrison, a tiny blonde, said the ransom demand was made in a telephone call a few days ago. She said she recognized the voice as that of Belle Di Joseph, whom she formerly employed as a groom for the dogs.

The owner notified police, who arrested Miss Di Joseph, 28, and Virginia Kalkof, 28; Mrs. Lillian Lyons, 34, and Mrs. Marcia Esterbrook, 27.

Detective Chief Stuyvesant Pinnell said they had admitted taking the dogs. Mrs. Harrison said one of the dogs, Leicester's Sultan's Song Legacy, known informally as "Baby," was the finest toy poodle in the world.

Police said Mrs. Harrison was in a hospital at the time the dogs were taken and the alleged ransom demand apparently was delayed until it was known that she had returned home.

Man, 74, Admits Killing, Cutting Up His Wife, 66

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Fingering a rosary, a 74-year-old man walked into police headquarters Saturday and told officers that he had killed his wife, cut her body into six pieces and buried the packages under the front porch.

Police went to his home and uncovered the dismembered body of Rosalia Micale, 66, wrapped in newspapers and wrapping paper and buried in two feet of dirt.

Francisco Micale, the woman's husband, told Detective Capt. Charles Nowakowski that he had killed her Aug. 11 in an argument after she ordered him out of the house. A daughter, Francisca Guida, reported her missing Aug. 18. Mrs. Guida described her father, a retired factory worker, as "a belligerent man." Police had been searching for Mrs. Micale but had found no trace of her.

Micale told police that he had gone to church every day since killing his wife, and that each time he returned home he looked under the porch. He said he had decided to go to police headquarters after attending mass Saturday morning.

Capt. Nowakowski said Micale told him that he and his wife had argued for many months and on various subjects.

MAUGHAM ON WAY TO FAR EAST

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—W. Somerset Maugham is on his way to the Far East "to see the countries where I lived 30 or 40 years ago." The 85-year-old author is aboard the French ship Laos, which will make stops at Aden, India, Ceylon, Singapore, South Viet Nam, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Japan. He is expected back in his home on the French Riviera in March.

Lunik III Starts Back To Earth, Soviet Says

LONDON (AP)—Russia's moon-probing Lunik III, wheeled around and started heading back toward the earth Saturday.

Moscow radio said that at its farthest point from the earth its speed dropped to 868 m.p.h.—comparable to the speed of a modern jet aircraft.

But its rate of travel through space is increasing on the return trip.

Soviet astronautical expert Ari Sternfeld, the broadcast said, believes that by Sunday the space vehicle will pick up its full cosmic speed again under the influence of the earth's gravitation.

Sternfeld said the moon stopped influencing the space station's orbit as soon as the vehicle left the moon's vicinity.

The radio quoted Sternfeld as saying that, discounting accidents such as collisions with meteorites, the life expectation of Lunik III is unlimited.

The Soviets have said Lunik will cover its orbit in 15 days.

The radio reported the instruments in the space vehicle were still working perfectly.

TWO NEW STORMS SPOTTED IN PACIFIC

TOKYO (AP)—With two new tropical storms—Babs and Charlotte—spotted in the Pacific, Japanese national police announced the latest toll for Typhoon Vera, which struck Japan two weeks ago; 4,341 dead, 753 missing, 17,693 injured, 1,548,794 made homeless.

Babs was spotted Saturday east of Formosa moving northeast and carrying 63 m.p.h. winds. Charlotte was located west of Guam, moving northwest with interior winds of about 40 m.p.h.

RAIN GREETS IC HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

The "Dixieland Wildcats" are shown on an improvised stage in Baxter Hall Thursday evening following the pep rally and what started out to be a street dance. The rains came and the festivities moved inside.

One of the largest crowds to witness an Illinois College bonfire in many a year turned out to see Friday night's version. Alumni, friends and students were on hand to watch the spectacle. Picture at right shows preparations for Saturday night's dance in Memorial Gymnasium. The work crew is starting on the decorations which turned out to be a large southern plantation house, complete with pillars, at one end of the gymnasium.

Alpha Eta Pi, a society on the IC campus for all freshmen women, produced this float which would have run in the parade had the rains stopped.

The rain riddled the napkin-covered floats, turning them into a soggy mess.

Proceeds of the project will be used at Washington school

Illinois Blanks Buckeyes, 9-0; Northwestern Wins, 6-0

73-Yard Pass Play And Field Goal Paves Way For Ray's Charges

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 73-yard pass play that bordered on the miraculous and a fourth - period field goal gave Illinois a 9-0 upset over Ohio State today in a Western Conference football game which attracted 82,980 fans.

The Buckeye attack, once the scourge of the Big Ten, foundered on the rocky Illinois defense as the Bucks lost the ball on downs on the 26 and 11 yard lines and on pass interceptions on the Illinois 11 and 12.

The first-quarter touchdown settled the issue as the Bucks suffered their second straight shutout and Coach Woody Hayes' fourth conference loss in six years.

Mel Meyers, sophomore quarterback from Dallas, Tex., was apparently down far behind the 27-yard line of scrimmage on the big play, but eluded three Ohio attackers, broke loose from an ankle tackle and arched the ball far down field. Halfback John Counts, sophomore from New Rochelle, N.Y., picked the pigskin from between two Ohio defenders on the Illinois 45 and raced the rest of the way untouched.

The clincher came in the fourth period when Don Yeazel, a senior tackle from Dayton, Ohio, put the game on ice with a 27-yard field goal with less than five minutes to go.

Bob White, Ohio's huge fullback, was stopped almost cold by the rugged Illini defense as the Bucks were able to gain only 76 yards on the ground and 84 yards on completion on seven of 20 passes. The Illini, with Counts, Meyers, and the fullback brothers, Bill and Jim Brown, ate up 195 yards on the ground and 174 through the air to out-gain Ohio 369 to 160.

Polished Indiana Soccer Team Beats MacMurray, 6-2

The MacMurray College soccer squad was defeated 6-2 yesterday afternoon by a polished Indiana University team in a game played on the home field during a downpour.

Both teams got off to a slow start, as they spent most of their time picking themselves up from falls on the slick turf. The first period ended with neither team having made any serious scoring threats.

Seconds after MacMurray goalie Dave Cassidy saved a penalty kick try early in the second quarter, the Indianans broke the scoring ice with a quick goal and a few minutes later added a second. Dennis Skoff, a halfback from Waukegan, Ill., booted home MacMurray's first goal, and the half ended 2-1.

The Highlanders started the second half in strong form as Ernie Ostheimer, Mac's leading scorer, tallyed on a penalty kick to tie the score. But Indiana countered with scores on a penalty kick and a goal, and added two more in the fourth quarter to ice the game at 6-2.

MacMurray now has a 2-2 record, having beaten Blackburn College 5-2 in the first game of the season and trounced Greenville College 8-0. The clan has lost to St. Louis University 11-1 and to Indiana yesterday. The Highlanders take to the road for their next three games, to meet Blackburn College, the University of Illinois, and Greenville College before returning to the home field to take on St. Louis University's "B" team in the final game of the season, October 21.

Boilermakers Smash Wisconsin, 21-0, In Their Big 10 Openers

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Junior Bernie Allen, subbing for Purdue's injured Ross Fichtner, threw three touchdown passes and kicked three extra points as the Boilermakers smashed Wisconsin, 21-0, Saturday in the Big Ten opener for both teams.

Purdue ranked No. 7 in the Associated Press poll and Wisconsin No. 9, but the Boilermakers completely dominated the play. Purdue hadn't beaten Wisconsin since 1945.

Taking a long step toward the Rose Bowl, Purdue recovered four Wisconsin fumbles and intercepted three Badger passes.

The Boilermakers bunched two touchdowns in 2 minutes 17 seconds of the first quarter. End Leonard Jardine caught 6 and 22-yard scoring passes from Allen.

A 50-yard run by Jack Laraway, No. 2 Purdue fullback, set up a 13-yard touchdown pass from Allen to halfback Joe Kulbacki midway in the final period. Allen kicked his seventh straight extra point this season.

Purdue outgained the Badgers 171-84 yards by rushing and 92-27 by passing. The Boilermakers did not have a pass intercepted and fumbled away the ball only once.

Purdue lost both of its starting tackles, Jerry Beabout and Dale Rems, and No. 1 fullback Bob Jarus with injuries. However, the Boilermakers are so deep with veterans this fall that Wisconsin probably did not notice much difference after the starters were carried off the field.

Purdue has not been defeated in its past nine games. Its last loss was to Wisconsin last year. Wisconsin had not been shutout in 23 straight games and had won nine and tied one of its last 10 games.

Longhorns Annex 2nd Straight From Sooners

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Veteran Rene Ramirez and two flaming sophomores — Jim Saxton and Mike Cotten—teamed Saturday to give Texas a 19-12 victory over Oklahoma and make it two years in a row for the Longhorns to topple the once-mighty Sooners.

Ramirez accounted for 51 yards in a 72-yard scoring surge and Saxton sparked a 61-yard touchdown drive in a tumultuous second period that saw nationally fourth-ranked Texas come from behind a 12-0 deficit to a 13-12 lead.

Then in the final quarter Cotten passed to another sophomore, Jack Collins, for a touchdown on a 62-yard scoring play.

Collins was capping off a brilliant game which saw him kick for a great 45.6 yards, run for 22 and catch the pass for the score that broke Oklahoma's heart.

The last touchdown threw a crowd of 75,504 — capacity in the Cotton Bowl—into pandemonium.

Oklahoma threatened to the last. Clair Branch intercepted a pass on the Texas 19 and Collins gathered in one on the Texas 7 to stop two last-gasp Oklahoma threats.

Texas ran out the clock backed almost up to its goal line.

Oklahoma gave indications of sweeping Texas out of the stadium in the first period but the Longhorns playing on better than even terms. The great Texas pass defense was a deciding factor.

Texas out-gained Oklahoma by a bare six feet—e309 yards to 307—in total offense.

Wyoming Line Coach Suffers Fatal Attack

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — John Tobin, 30, football line coach at the University of Wyoming, suffered a fatal heart attack shortly after halftime of the Colorado State University-Wyoming game Saturday.

He died in a hospital following the game, won by Wyoming 29-0.

Tobin was a guard on Michigan State's teams in 1948, 1949 and 1950.

FAN BREEZES

I was warned in advance of what to expect from Jacksonville's fake-kick formation Friday night. I should have warned Beardstown! When Dick Parker went into kick formation on the Tiger 32, line coach Al Rosenberger told me, "Watch this one. It's going all the way." And it did. The Crimson mentors discovered the weakness which goes to prove that coaches watch the other team just as much as they do their own players. From their elevation point and without any spotters high up in the stands, it doesn't seem possible to discover the other team's faults.

—O—

In last week's column there was a little mention about calling football games on account of rain. I said the slightest bit of rain or forecast of rains starts our telephones buzzing. I take it all back after taking in the Illinois College-Principia homecoming football game yesterday afternoon. It's true football is "a rugged game for rugged individuals" and players as a rule don't care if it rains or shines. But for the spectators, it's no fun to witness a contest in a pelting rain. And after all, it's the spectators' money at the gate that supports the football program.

—O—

The rain messed up what probably would have been the most successful homecoming parade in IC history. Despite the rain-soaked crepe paper, the floats were the best I've seen come out of Illinois College. The weeks of work involved to make a successful homecoming, especially the floats for the parade, were to no avail. One of many disappointed homecoming chairmen was Chuck Schwebel, the Parade Marshall. His month's efforts fell by the way-side in a matter of a couple of hours. The whole outfit deserves a pat on the back and a grant-in-aid for a splendid job anyway.

—O—

Don't feel offended District 117 officials, but don't you think the football situation at Jacksonville High has outgrown its present-day football fieldhouse. Recently I had an article on Jacksonville winning football games but flopping on gate receipts. As it was pointed out, football on a high school level isn't to make money. Instead, football is expected to provide a supervised program for the youngsters. This program is executed all the way at JHS. But, when there are 95-115 boys out for football each season there should be more than 13 showers. Five of the showers are in the varsity dressing room and when 37 varsity members and three officials try to shower after a game, it's a long wait to get to the dance. The other eight showers are in the freshmen-sophomore addition where the visiting team dresses and showers after home games. In order to accommodate the visitors, the boys in that addition have to take all their equipment out of the lockers and store it on the floor in the already cramped varsity room. Monday comes and there is mixed confusion in locating the equipment. You can bet the family silverware when it's time for the underclassmen to turn in their gear at season's end, it's not the original equipment they were checked out with. This fieldhouse is also widely used in track and baseball and it presents the same problem - - - over-cramped but cozy.

—O—

I am looking forward to the St. Louis Hawks-Syracuse game this Wednesday evening at the JHS Bowl. A nice change of pace in the middle of the football season.

Bradley Blanks Washington, 16-0

ST. LOUIS (AP)— Halfback Bob Buttgen scored two touchdowns Saturday to power Bradley to a 16-0 football victory over weak, inept Washington University. The triumph broke a four-game Bradley losing streak.

A 25 yard field goal by Scotty Sullivan in the first quarter got the Braves off on the right foot before a crowd of about 4,000.

Quarterback Ron Hermann and Buttgen clicked on a 62-yard pass play for a touchdown in the second quarter. The Braves rolled 84 yards in the fourth quarter for their second touchdown, Buttgen sprinting the last 21 yards over a rain-drenched field.

Hermann intercepted two Washington passes to make victory easier. The Braves intercepted four passes in all, holding Washington to only 35 yards via the air.

Illini Will Attempt To Set A School Mark In Minnesota Rivalry

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois' football team will attempt Saturday to accomplish something neither the Illini nor Minnesota has been able to do since 1913—to beat the other team three consecutive times.

The Illini-Gopher rivalry has been one of college football's closest, except for the period between 1900 and 1913 during which Minnesota won seven consecutive games.

High-powered offensive football, keyed to forward passing, has brought victory to Illini during last two seasons.

Illinois' 1957 team hit a season high in a 34-13 homecoming upset of Minnesota, rated number one team in the nation at the time of the game.

Capitalizing on Gopher fumbles, Illinois struck twice for touchdowns in the first quarter. The Illini drove 54 yards early in the second period to score, and led Minnesota 21-0 at the half.

Two more touchdowns, both set up by the passing of quarterback Tom Haller, gave Illinois a 34-0 three quarter lead. Minnesota scored twice against Illini reserves in the final period. Illinois gained 445 yards, to 177 for the title-hopeful Gophers.

Last year, Coach Ray Eliot's team saddened Minnesota's homecoming by beating the Gophers 20-8, principally on the pass combination of Bob Hickey to Rich Kreitling. Kreitling caught two touchdown aerials on plays which covered 83 and 66 yards, the first setting a new Illinois record for longest pass play.

Illinois hasn't always been so successful against the Gophers. Illini won the first game, played in 1898 at Minneapolis in snow and near-zero temperatures, 11-10. The game was played on a 95-yard field. After a team crossed the goal line it had to go back and make five additional yards for a touchdown. But the Gophers more than evened the series by winning the next seven games. It wasn't until 1914 that the Illini, under Bob Zuppke, were able to break the string. Illinois won 21-6 that year.

In 1916, Zuppke's squad produced one of college football's all-time upsets. Minnesota that year was termed the "perfect team." But the Illini scored twice in the first quarter on touchdown by Capt. Bart Macomber and Reynold Kraft and held a 14-0 halftime lead. Macomber held off repeated Gopher threats with his punting as Illinois won 14-9.

The 1942 Illinois - Minnesota meeting was Coach Ray Eliot's first Big Ten assignment. Lineman Alex Agase, later to become an All-American, scored two of three Illinois touchdowns as the Gophers were whipped 20-13.

Minnesota fans chose to recall when their 1924 team surprised Red Grange and teammates with a 20-7 upset. The Gopher line consistently held Grange in check. Minnesota halfback Clarence Schutte scored all three touchdowns and gained 282 yards in 32 carries during the game.

Spirit Of Frank Merriwell Lives Again

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP) —The spirit of Frank Merriwell, fictional football hero of 50 years ago, lived again Saturday.

Joe Kinsey, Pompton Lakes High School football star, had scored two touchdowns against Ramsey High. Then, near the end of the first half he was injured. He was taken to a doctor's office and treated for a lacerated scalp.

He returned to the field late in the third period to find that Ramsey had taken a 14-12 lead.

With a bandage holding his stitches in place, Kinsey again took charge. The rugged halfback passed for a third Pompton Lakes touchdown and caught a pass for his team's fourth score before Ramsey scored again.

Final score: Pompton Lakes 24, Ramsey 21.

Michigan Stops Oregon State, 18-7

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan, unable to generate power on its own, snapped a string of six straight defeats Saturday by overwhelming Oregon State, 18-7.

The Wolverines were within one defeat of matching their all-time losing streak when end John Halstead pounced on an Oregon State fumble at the Beavers' 33-yard line.

In eight plays, Michigan pumped enough life into its sluggish offense to propel sophomore halfback Ken Tureaud into the end zone.

Coupled with Halstead's 27-yard field goal in the opening period, that was enough to send 74,693 sun-baked spectators home happy.

The Wolverines added another touchdown in the final three minutes after an interception and provided Coach Bump Elliott with his first victory at his alma mater.

Until they got the break on Don Kasso's fumble, the Wolverines were out-hustled and out-spirited in this intersectional clash, the first meeting between the two schools. The defeat was the fourth this season and fifth in a row for the Beavers, who never managed to put any real sting into their single-wing offense.

ESPIE SENIORS CHAMP

MEMPHIS (AP) — Former champion Clark Espie of Indianapolis, Ind., won another National Seniors Amateur golf title Saturday.

The 60-year-old advertising executive defeated J. Wolcott Brown, 56, of Manasquan, N.J., 3 and 1.

They turned the front nine even but Espie broke into the lead on the 10th hole and sealed the victory on 16.

Indiana Baffles Marquette, 33--13

By RON GILBERT
Associated Press Sports Writer

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) —Indiana threw a complete armory against Marquette's one-gun offense and smothered the Warriors, 33-13, in a non-conference football game Saturday.

Marquette's long-throwing Pete Hall tried to carry the load, but there were too many Indiana linemen in his backfield most of the time. Hall's passes set up one Marquette touchdown and scored the other, but an interception also put the Warriors in a hole they never dug out of.

Against him were the slashing runs of tailbacks John Henry Jackson and Ted Smith and Wingback Ron McCauley, the nearly automatic toe of Ron Miller, and a smashing Indiana line that threw him for loss after loss.

Hoosier blocking back Wil Scott intercepted a Hall pass in the first quarter and went 72 yards to score, after Hall's throws had carried the Warriors 50 yards downfield to a threatening position. End Earl Faison threw the block that let Scott go all the way.

Jackson, Faison and Smith scored the other Indiana touchdowns, Faison lefting a 25-yard pass from Jackson off the finger-tips of a Marquette defender in the end zone. Ron Miller kicked three of four extra points and two field goals, for 35 and 31 yards.

A 35-yard pass from Hall to George Andrie in the second quarter put the ball on the one-yard line and set up a touchdown plunge by Frank Mestnik to make it 16-6 at the half. Hall passed 23 yards to Fred Hawkins in the fourth quarter for a touchdown that was too late.

Tennessee Bows To Tech, 14-7

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Taz Anderson, an unsung hero in the past, flashed slashing power running and classy pass catching Saturday and Georgia Tech whipped Tennessee 14-7 in their battle of unbeaten football powers.

In addition to his sterling ground-gaining tactics, Anderson teamed with center Maxie Baughan to anchor a Tech defense that Tennessee couldn't crack consistently.

Tech went into the game ranked third in the nation in the Associated Press poll. Tennessee, ranked No. 8, became the third straight national power to fall before Tech's speed and finesse.

Anderson, once an end now playing fullback, keyed Tech's two touchdown marches with his pass grabbing and slick running. He scored in the first quarter on a 9-yard pass from Fred Braselton, after Gene Etter led Tennessee to a 7-7 halftime standoff. Anderson set up Tech's third-quarter score with a 13-yard run and then scored from the 1.

Etter, tailback sub for starter Bill Majors, generated most of the Vol fireworks with his running and his on-the-run passes. But Majors set the stage for the Vol touchdown with a 45-yard boot out of bounds at Tech's 2. Tech was never able to get out of that hole and after an exchange of punts, Etter took the Vols in. He threw a 4-yard fourth-down pass to end Marvin Phillips for the touchdown.

2nd Ranked Wildcats Garner Close Win From Bruising Gophers

BY JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A 157-pound fourth - string sophomore brilliantly quarterbacked an 86-yard scoring drive which pulled second-ranked Northwestern off the ropes for a 6-0 Big Ten football victory over bruising Minnesota Saturday.

Little Bob Eickhoff climaxed his superb relief job by firing a 7-yard touchdown pass to end Paul Yanke with the fourth quarter about two minutes old. Until Eickhoff came off the bench late in the third quarter, Northwestern—favored by two touchdowns—was being pushed all over the field by the rugged Gophers.

The third consecutive triumph for undefeated Northwestern, ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, nearly was erased in the closing minutes when Minnesota's desperate passing attack swept the Gophers from their own 20 to Northwestern's 17.

With 32 seconds left, however, Northwestern's Mark Johnston intercepted Larry Johnson's pass and the Wildcats stalled out the clock.

A week ago, Northwestern lost its star quarterback, Dick Thornton, for the season when he suffered a broken ankle against Iowa.

With the Wildcats stuck on their own 14 late in the third quarter, Eickhoff led them nearly the completed four of four passes, inlength of the field in 12 plays. He completed four of four passes, including his scoring shot to Yanke.

Northwestern	0	0	0	6	—6

As the third quarter ended, Eickhoff flipped an 11-yard pass to El Kimbrough and darted eight yards in midfield on a keeper.

Starting the fourth Mark Johnston streaked 26 yards on a quick-opener to Minnesota's 25. Two short passes from Eickhoff to Mike Stock carried to the 12. Mark Johnston rolled to the seven and this set the stage for Eickhoff' payoff flip to Yanke in the end zone. Minnesota was charged with interference on the play, but Northwestern declined the penalty.

On the extra-point try a bad pass from center dribbled back to Eickhoff, holding for Stock, and he was unable to make a play.

Eickhoff got the Wildcats rolling later in the fourth period, but the 63 yard drive bogged down and Stock failed on a field goal attempt from the Minnesota 36.

Minnesota, a victim of several bad breaks, gave the Wildcats a big scare with a passing barrage that moved 62 yards with time running out. Larry Johnson hit on a 31-yard pass to Tom Hall, a 14-yard pitch to Jim Rodgers and on another 10-yard shot to Hall to Northwestern's 17.

But Larry Johnson's looping pass into the end zone, with 32 seconds left, was intercepted by Mark Johnston.

Minnesota's fine sophomore quarterback Sandy Stephens, rambled 75 yards with a punt return for an apparent touchdown early in the first period, but a Gopher clipping penalty nullified the play.

The ball was punted 20 times-10 by each team.

Gopher Judge Dickson was short on a 44-yard field goal try late in the second half.

Centralia's 18-Game Snapped Friday, 7-6

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — East St. Louis defeated Centralia 7-6 Friday, snapping an 18-game winning streak and Centralia's hopes of a second straight undefeated Illinois high school football season.

Decatur Eisenhower upset Urbana 21-7 in the latter's first setback. Urbana had notched 114 points to 7 for three previous foes, but the Decatur team lost by only one point last week to powerful Peoria Manual, 34-0 victor Thursday over Peoria Limestone.

Another long-awaited duel between two Peoria teams—Central and Spalding — came out in a scoreless tie. They entered the contest with nearly balanced scoring statistics.

East St. Louis' Flyers themselves had suffered their season's first defeat only last week. The Flyers had been unbeaten in a dozen games.

Harold Recard scored the East St. Louis touchdown from the one-yard line in the second quarter after a blocked punt.

Both elevens loom as unstopped champions in their own conferences, the Flyers in the Southwestern and Centralia in the South seven.

Centralia's current threats in the South Seven are Mount Vernon, 34-6 conquerer of Harrisburg, and Herrin, 33-13 victor over Chester.

East St. Louis has its eyes peeled for Collinsville, which racked up its fourth straight triumph, 6-0 over Edwardsville.

Freeport and Carmi, still unscored on, cracked out lopsided totals. Freeport, the Big Eight's crown in sight, whipped Joliet 40-0. Carmi, a north Egypt Conference contender, was only a little less rough on Bridgeport, 39-0.

Taylorville's opponents remained scoreless, Hillsboro bowing, 32-0.

Ottawa swatted down Streator 19-0 and Rock Falls staggered Princeton 17-7.

Murphysboro maintained its winning streak, topping Benton 25-6 in a nonleague game. Carbondale Comumnity, a threat to defending champion Murphysboro for the Southwest Egyptian title, moved into a tie by tripping Sparta 29-12.

The fourth consecutive triumph for Arlington Heights in the West Suburban loop spelled the first downfall for once-tied Riverside-Brookfield, 20-13.

Mattoon of the Central Illinois Conference counted 24 to Albion's 12 in a nonleague game. A loop partner of Mattoon's Danville, dropped another intersectional affair to Quincy 21-19.

Springfield clinched its city title by banging Lanphier 27-12.

Macomb Western duplicated its 52-0 tally of last weekend, dishing out the score to Warsaw. Sullivan won again Thursday 25-7 against Oakland. Effingham and Casey, both unstopped, battled with Effingham having the better of it, 33-18.

Kewanee, twice-tied and once a winner, lost to DeKalb 26-12.

Rock Island defeated Moline 20-6.

The only woman president in the 90-year history of Wilson College in Pennsylvania, a liberal arts college for women, was Dr. Anna J. McKaeg, who served from 1911-1915.

On page 10 of Section Two in today's Journal Courier in Friday Night Scores, Virginia should be listed as beating Pleasant Hill, 6-0. Butch Marr scored the only touchdown in the game with three minutes remaining. The victory was the third of the season for Bob Hembrough's Redbirds in four starts. The other outing was a 0-0 tie with Greenfield.

33-Man Veteran Squad Has Depth Plus Versatility On Either Offense Or Defense

By STAN SPOTTS

Journal-Courier Sports Editor

Attics in California, North Carolina and throughout Illinois have been beehives of activity as the dust of years was brushed aside in the search for press clippings and pictures to mark the milestones in the career of the most successful football coach Jacksonville High has ever known—Robert Kraushaar. And there is a good reason for all the activity as the successful mentor has selected a 33-man team as his 15-year "All-Time JHS Greats."

This selection probably means more to the players than any other honor they have received for their gridiron skills. When you stop and consider the fact there are usually 35 men on a varsity traveling squad each year then you take and multiply this number by the 15 years. In round figures this amounts to 525 players. And this is a good thing for some of the old-timers who have been out of the sports limelight for a number of years.

17th Year At JHS

Kraushaar marks his 16th season as head football coach this year after coming to Jacksonville High as an assistant in 1942. Prior to the JHS tenure, he had served a four-year stint as coach at Ipava. Through the 1958 campaign, Bob has fielded four undefeated teams (1950, 1956, 1957, 1958) and guided his teams to an impressive 87 wins, 40 losses and six ties record. The 1950 season was the turning point in Bob's career as far as consistent winning records are established each season. From 1950 through 1958, his Crimsons had amassed 66 wins, 11 defeats and three ties.

Undefeated String

Kraushaar's teams were undefeated in 31 consecutive games prior to the 1959 campaign. This record started in 1955 when the Crimsons won three and tied one in their final four starts. The tie was a 6-6 affair with Lanphier. JHS had 18 straight wins without a loss in the 1956 and 1957 undefeated years. They won their first four in 1958 to extend their string to 24 consecutive victories without a loss but the perfect winning string snapped when Joe Jurkanin's Jerseyville Panthers held them to a 13-13 decision. The '58 aggregation won their last four starts to annex a 29 win, two tie mark in 31 outings.

String Halted

The inevitable happened in the 1959 opener. Eisenhower halted any further advance of the record with a 20-6 victory. Kraushaar has had a successful line coach in Al Rosenberger since he came to Jacksonville in 1953. This combination has directed the Crimsons to 44 wins, seven losses and three ties.

Unusual Situation

There is one strange oddity concerning Kraushaar. He has seen his players turn punts into touchdowns, blocked kicks and fumbles into scoring tallies, short runs and long runs and various passing plays into TD's. But in his 17 years at JHS, there has been only one kickoff ever returned for a touchdown. That came in 1945 when the only letterman on the squad, Bucky Reeve, returned an opening Winchester kickoff 80 yards but the Crimsons lost that one, 7-6. Strange but true!

Bob, The Athlete

A lot has been said about Kraushaar the coach but not very much has been said about Kraushaar the athlete. Bob was a four-year veteran of all sports at his high school in Warsaw where he earned 11 major letters. He also knows what it means to play on an undefeated team. His team was undefeated and unscored on his senior year. The fleet-footed Kraushaar, who can still out-run his backs, won nine varsity letters in addition to a treasured blanket at Western University. He played three years of football for the Leathernecks and acted as captain his senior year. He took home four letters in baseball and decided he'd try his hand at track his junior year in order to meet the requirements for the Western blanket. In between baseball and football, he lettered on the cinders his last two years.

Bob and his wife, the former Roberta Harris of Table Grove, and their two daughters, Cindy and Bobette, reside at 3 Crampton Road.

Understanding Coaches

Many of the parents will point out that since Bob and Al are blessed with two daughters each and since both were outstanding athletes, they naturally treat each boy they've had on the squad as they would their own son. And parents blessed with sons know this means plenty of understanding and patience. "I think they also taught the boys a lot more than football. They taught them how to think for themselves and when you can do this you should always have fine football teams whether you win or lose," Mrs. Francis Hudson, Sr., stated.

Express Appreciation

Each player on Bob's All-Time team expressed appreciation and gratitude for the honor and many were very humble which marks the greatness of this team in addition to their physical abilities. Not only were they successful on the gridiron but they've gone on to become fine citizens and God-fearing men.

In order to contact these selections for needed information, letters were sent out to Kirksville, Mo.; Galesburg; Champaign; Macomb; Peoria; Valparaiso, Ind.; Sacramento, Calif.; Fort Bragg, N. C.; St. Louis; Madison, Wis.; Fayette, Iowa; Aurora, Ill.; St. Paul, and Jacksonville.

This is a team any coach would enjoy working with and to brief you on their football abilities, below is a thumbnail sketch of each player.

Jim, Sam Spink—Tackles

Rated the finest tackles in JHS histor, the Spink twins, Jim and Sam, certainly deserve Kraushaar's nomination on his all-time greats. They were tough and exceptionally fast for their size when they played for Jacksonville High and Illinois College. For Kraushaar they lettered twice in four years of competition at either left or right tackle and landed berths on All-State Picks. There was no all-conference teams in their heyday. The pair of tackles each tipped the scales at 205 pounds. Jim captained the 1944 Crimsons and made third-team all-state that year. Both played four years of varsity ball for Al Mills at Illinois College where they were more than outstanding in the rough CCI conference. Jim and Sam served as co-captains their junior year and landed all-conference honors in addition to other honors. After graduation Jim went to Illinois School for Deaf where he coached for six years prior to accepting the line coaching job at Bradley this fall. Jim is married to the former Harriet Schildman and they have a son, Mark. Sam resides at 29 Circle Drive in Galesburg with his wife, the former Jane Karraker, a MacMurray graduate, and a 2½ year-old daughter, Suzan. Sam is a director of sales and advertising for Gale Products Division of Outboard Marine Corp., manufactures of outboard motors. The twins claim their past is catching up with them by this 15-year honor but what a glorious football past it was. Jim and Sam are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spink, who are still avid sports enthusiasts.

Francis Thurman—Guard

Frances "Nero" Thurman, who now lives in Sacramento, California, was another member of the famed "Big Four" side of the line during the 1946 season. Nero had the size and speed that is required of a guard on offense and he proved himself a stellar performer on defense. He was named on several all-conference teams his three years on the varsity. Thurman was one of the regulars that didn't know the meaning of quitting and as a result he played on three successful teams. He graduated from JHS in 1947. He married Doris Widner and they have two girls and a boy. Nero is in partnership with his father-in-law and they operate two Shell Service Stations in Sacramento.

Jack Patterson—L. Halfback

Jack Patterson is considered by many loyal JHS followers as the most accurate of all the place kickers Jacksonville has produced under Kraushaar. Jack played varsity ball in 1944, 1945 and 1946 and lettered all three years. In his final season which saw him selected all-conference, Patterson scored nine touchdowns and booted 16 extra points. Jack still follows sports but earns his living as a bricklayer for Earl Boucher. He and his wife, the former Joan Wolfe, and their two children reside at 1420 South East. He is one of three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Patterson.

Charles Due—End

Charles Due, known to his teammates as the 'Galloping Swede' his senior year, had all the physical abilities for an end. He was tall and agile, but didn't develop until his junior and senior years. One of his biggest thrills was an 80-yard kickoff return that beat Pittsfield in 1946, his final season. The Daily News gave him honorable mention all-state and he was an all-conference end. He played all sports for Illinois College for two seasons before entering the Air Force. Prior to college, he also played professional baseball, after service he went to the University of Illinois and graduated in 1957. He is now a coach at Champaign High where he is head baseball and assistant wrestling coach. He lives at 1715 Crescent Drice with his wife, the former Patricia Reilly of Harrisonburg, Va., and his two sons and a daughter. He is completing his Masters Degree in education at the U. of I.

Charles Jones—Tackle

Rugged Charles Jones, one of the forward wall's 'Big Four' during the 1946 season, joins five other great Crimson tacklers on the 15-year selections. Jones earned a pair of varsity letters his three years on the squad. His senior year, 1946-47, saw the Crimsons winning six games against three defeats. He made honorable mention all-state and all-conference tackle. Charles is a butcher for Jones Meat Service and resides on Sandusky Road with his family, two girls, a future lineman, and his wife, the former Doris Duffer.

Paul Lasley—Center

Paul Lasley along with Max Roegge were two of Kraushaar's finest centers and linebackers. Paul earned his varsity J's during the 1945, 1946 and 1947 seasons and rated all-conference honors his junior and senior years. Following his graduation in 1948, Lasley spent a brief period at Arkansas State before deciding on Illinois College. Paul played three years as a regular lineman for the Blueboys and won honorable mention in the CCI as a center in 1949. In 1950 he was an all-conference offensive tackle. In January of '51, Lasley entered the Air Force with Charles Due, Frank Breakville and Bud Gustine. He received his discharge in July of 1952 to enter the United States Military Academy. He earned his numerals on the plebe squad as a defensive linebacker in 1952. The following year, he won his varsity letter at center on the Army team that won the 1953 Lambert Trophy. Paul graduated from West Point in 1956 and played football for the School Brigade at Fort Benning while attending the Basic Infantry Officers Course. Upon completion of parachute jump and pilot training, he reported to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. After a rugged conditioning period to play for the 82nd Airborne Division last fall, Paul decided to retire to the living room chair to watch his football on television this season. Since January of 1958, Lasley has been a pilot for the 82nd and next year he plans to go to Korea for ground duty. Paul and his wife, Shirley, do not have a family as yet, but Mr. Stork and Santa Claus are liable to run a dead heat for the use of their chimney this Christmas.

Stan Spotts—L. Halfback

Stan Spotts was just one of many players who experienced 'lean' years along with Kraushaar prior to the 1950 turning point. He loved defensive contact more than scoring touchdowns, which there weren't many of, and was Central All-Conference two of his three varsity campaigns. Twice he was named Most Valuable by his teammates and twice he rated special mention in the Chicago All-State choices. He captained the 1949 aggregation to three wins and one tie in eight games. He was the only returning veteran in 1949. Spotts married the former Jeanne Simmons and they have a girl and a future scatback. He still is a staunch sports enthusiast.

Jack Chapman—Guard

Jack Chapman's sterling line play and his punting ability helped pave the way for Kraushaar's first undefeated campaign in 1951. Chapman lettered three years (1949, 1950, 1951) at the guard slot and made all-conference his final two seasons. He also won all-state laurels in 1951 and was selected to the North-South All-Star team game in Peoria. Jack married the former Jean Logan of Knob Noster, Mo., and they have a daughter, Jennifer Rae, who is 18 months old. Chapman has been a draftsman for six years with the Illinois Power Company in Jacksonville.

Ron Campbell—Quarterback

Ronnie 'Pee Wee' Campbell served as co-captain with Jack Chapman in their senior year of the 1951 football season and Ronnie proved a standout at QB and as a linebacker on defense. He played varsity ball four seasons and was selected the only quarterback out of 22 players for the Central Conference all-star team in 1950. He also received honorable mention all-state at QB. In '51, he was named to the All-Conference team as a fullback. He completed his prep education in 1952 and went to Western where he played QB for the freshmen and earned his numerals. At present, he is employed at the Jacksonville Fire Department. He married Frances Marshall in 1954 and they have four children: Brad, Sue Ellyn, Joni and Pamela. The family resides at 738 Hardin.

Maylon Baldwin—Fullback

One of Jacksonville's most powerful fullbacks under Kraushaar was Maylon Baldwin, who hated the nickname of 'Rooney' given him by his teammates. Baldwin also was instrumental in the 1950 undefeated season as the power man. He was all-conference two years and made honorable mention on the 1951 all-state picks. Maylon has been with Washington School the past five years and he is the father of a daughter and a brand new baby boy. He and his family reside at 835 S. Fayette. Baldwin is still very much an avid football fan.

Lee Roy Jackson—Tackle

Lee Roy Jackson, another large and aggressive tackle according to JHS standards, would be welcomed by any high school line mentor. Regarded as a workhorse and who takes instruction well, Jackson helped the Crimsons rack up a number of victories during the 1951, '52 and '53 seasons. He also earned letters these three years and won all-conference honors in addition to setting a mark for unassisted tackles in a single season. He is associated with his father in business at the Jackson Feed Mill. Jackson and his wife and two-year-old daughter reside at 1408 South Clay.

Larry Knight—End

Larry Knight was one of the six ends named in the selection. Larry started his career in his sophomore year on the junior varsity and then played varsity ball his final two seasons before graduation in 1955. Rated a fine pass receiver and blocker, Knight was All-Conference his senior year. Knight is employed at the John Ellis Chevrolet Company. Larry resides at Hillcrest Trailer Court with his family. JHS has a future end in Larry, Jr., who is built along the same lines as his daddy.

Francis Hudson—End
Mike Hudson—R. Halfback

Mike and Francis Hudson form our other brother combination and what valuable players these two brothers were to their respective teams. Both boys were injured playing football but they would do it all over if given the chance again. Both boys hope to go on to college in a year or so although it could mean a permanent injury for Francis, who is now serving a hitch in the Navy at Camp Le Jeune in North Carolina. The oldest brother earned two varsity letters in his four years on the athletic field gridiron and was all-conference before graduating in 1955. The name of Hudson is no strange name to football followers in Jacksonville. The two boys are related to Dale Hudson. Mike earned four varsity letters and was another Crimsons who didn't know the meaning of a football defeat. Mike also won all conference and honorable mention all-state laurels. He works for Flynn Construction and resides with his parents at 620 Caldwell. He holds the individual rushing record for a single game with 175 yards to his credit. Both boys are staying single for the time being. If they do decide to go to college, they'll be a credit to the school of their choosing.

Jim Woodward—Guard

Jim Woodward, who anchored the forward wall with Max Roegge, was another sterling lineman fashioned in the Crimson mold. Jim participated on the gridiron four seasons and was a varsity regular and lettered three campaigns. Woodward served as co-captain his senior year and was named to all-conference teams his junior and senior years. Following his graduation in 1955, Woodward enrolled at Illinois College and earned a varsity I before transferring to Macomb where he is now a senior. He is married to the former Judie Powell of Peoria and they have one child, a daughter named Lisa.

Ron Kemp—Fullback

Ronnie Kemp was another outstanding fullback and perhaps the most rugged of them all. The big "Moose" had powerful legs and was a hard man to bring down when he got into gear. Kemp lettered three campaigns and was All-Conference in '51 and 1952. He received special mention on the Daily News All-State his senior year. He played at Western University in 1953 and part of a season at Illinois College before entering the service. Kemp is employed at Kordite and is grooming a pair of future fullbacks for his alma mater.

Bob Scott—R. Halfback

Halfback Bobby Scott joins brother Mike in one of the three family combinations on the 33-man squad. The elder Scotty was outstanding his three varsity seasons. His senior year set an individual rushing record for the speedster with 1,107 yards in 137 carries, an average of 8.08 per carry. He was also among the leading scorers in the state with 17 TD's. Scott averaged 10.8 yards per carry his junior year and racked up 12 touchdowns. Bobby was a very good punter, averaging over 37 yards on his boots, stood out as a blocker and was an excellent defensive halfback. He graduated from JHS in 1954 and entered Illinois College before transferring to Western. Bobby is now fulfilling his military obligation.

Max Roegge—Center

Max Roegge, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roegge, was one of two centers selected by Kraushaar on his 15-year All-Time JHS Greats. Max, a rugged performer on offense and defense, earned four varsity letters at Jacksonville High. In 1953 he was all-conference and in 1954 he was again selected all-conference, served as co-captain and made honorable mention on the All-State picks. Following his graduation in 1955, he enrolled at Valparaiso where he earned four varsity letters in his favorite sport. His senior year brought additional honors as captain and the Most Valuable Player award. Upon his graduation in 1959, he went to work for Associates Investment in St. Louis where he now resides at 7238 Richmond Place with his wife, the former Sharon Dowland.

Bill Lewis—Quarterback

Bill Lewis, one of four of Bob Kraushaar's field generals, had the essential qualities that makes successful football teams. Lewis could run, pass and size up the defensive formations. Bill played three years of varsity ball, 1953, 1954 and 1955, and made all-conference his junior and senior years. He also received special mention on an all-state poll. After his graduation in 1956, he went to the University of Illinois, where he is now battalion commander of the Navy R.O.T.C. and is social chairman of his fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon. Lewis is carrying a 4.4 average in grades which has put him into two engineering grade honorary fraternities, Sigma Tau and Pi Tau Sigma. Lewis felt he was too small for Big Ten football.

John Rhodes—Guard

John Rhodes, now engaged in farming, played a lot of football for two seasons under Kraushaar and had the honor of helping his coach annex his first unbeaten, untied season in 1950. This feat marked the second time in JHS history that a Crimson eleven had gone undefeated. Rhodes was Central-All-Conference his two varsity seasons. John is married to the former Evelyn McCreery and they have a 10-month-old son, Eric. They reside at 1230 Parnassus Place. Rhodes is a graduate with the class of 1951.

Skip Dyer—Fullback

Skip Dyer earned three varsity letters at fullback for JHS but he had to letter at a guard slot his senior year due to a leg injury. Skip was a valuable asset to the Crimsons in both positions all four years. He was a fullback when the Jacks started the four-game winning string in 1955, a streak that was to extend to 31 games unbeaten. He played guard on the undefeated '56 aggregation before he graduated in 1957. In 1955 and '56 he was All-Conference, and made All-State special mention. He was also a co-captain his senior year. Skip now manages a Thom McAn Shoe Store in Aurora. He is married to the former Peggy Robinson and they have a seven-month-old son, Michael Brian. Dyer also played a year of freshman ball at Illinois. He now confines his athletic activities to golf, a game he doesn't master as well as a power play up the middle on the gridiron.

Danny Moy—End

Danny Moy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moy, earned his right on the JHS team choices by playing on the undefeated 1956 and 1957 squads. Danny came up to the varsity his sophomore year but didn't com into his own until a year later as a defensive specialist at tackle. In '57, he played defensive end and offensive tackle. Besides two varsity letters, he was named an all-conference tackle, Danny is now a junior at Western where his 170 pounds was too light for a college lineman. He concentrated on high hurdles last spring and tied the Western hurdles mark as a sophomore. He also is single.

Stan Caine—Guard

Stan Caine, a 142 pounder soaking wet, has been termed a 'Mighty Mite' in JHS annals for a lineman. The little fellow did more with the ability God gave him than any other player named of Bob's 15-year 'All-Time Greats'. Here was a lineman that could buck heads with many a 200-pounder and come out best. His versatility as a top-notch performer was also displayed at a linebacking position. He could ward off any type block and nail a runner in his tracks. Stan played two years at JHS and lettered after playing two years of competition in St. Paul, Minn. His feats won him honors on all-conference, honorable mention all-state and special mention all-state teams. He also was chosen on the All-Southern team and received an honorable mention high school All-American award from the Sporting News his senior year. Caine is now a sophomore at Macalester College in St. Paul. Caine listed a good reason why he isn't playing college ball. He's only put on eight more pounds since his 1958 graduation. JHS followers still believe dynamite comes in small packages. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. Vernon Caine.

Dave Cade—Tackle

Dave Cade could hold his own with any of Bob's other five tackles. He was big, rugged, strong and fast for a lineman. After his sophomore year, Dave decided to lay out the next football season so he could devote his time to basketball. Although he was always in top physical shape, he was injured early at the start of the basketball season and this probably led to his decision to give football another shot his senior year. And his decision proved valuable as the 1957 Crimsons went undefeated to give Kraushaar his third undefeated team in 14 years. Dave was an all-conference tackle and an all-state honorable mention his senior year. In addition to football and basketball, Cade was also a fine track man and earned two trips to the state track and field finals. He is now a sophomore at the University of Illinois. He is devoting all his spare time to his studies and is by-passing the athletic field for the time being.

Milton McPike—End

Milt McPike, another outstanding end for the Crimsons, is no stranger to JHS and Kirksville, Mo., fans. Milt has the distinction of playing on two undefeated Crimson elevens. He was outstanding as a receiver and kickoff man on the unbeaten 1957 squad. He made all-conference and was honorable mention on All-State. In 1958, he reaped more honors by being named on the All-Southern, Chicago American All-State and Chicago Daily News third team all-state picks in addition to the Wigwam Wise-Men and All Conference team for two years. Milt is now a sophomore at Northeast Missouri State Teachers at Kirksville where he became the first freshman to letter in all three major sports since World War II. McPike plays end on offense and defense for the Bulldogs and continues to serve as the kickoff specialist.

Ned Jackson—L. Halfback

Considered by many as the greatest shoe-string tackler in JHS history and a break-away runner Ned Jackson certainly deserves a berth on the 15-year picks. Ned lettered three of his four years on the varsity undefeated teams of 56-57 and 1958. The Central Conference selected him for their all-conference team twice and he was honorable mention twice in the state selections. Following his graduation, he played third string at Western and first string on the junior varsity. He enrolled at Kirksville after the football season and earned a letter in track the following spring.

Mike Scott—Quarterback

Mike Scott was instrumental in guiding the 1957 Crimsons to an undefeated season with his running, passing and deception. Mike lettered two years before his graduation in 1958. He was an understudy of Danny Woodward during the undefeated 1956 season and he showed he learned his lessons well by landing a berth on the all-conference team the following season. Mike was outstanding for Illinois College on the gridiron last fall as he was tops in total offense for small college teams in Illinois. Mike is now attending Upper Iowa University where he expects to letter in three major sports this year.

Merrit Norvell—Quarterback

Merritt Norvell is perhaps the finest quarterback in JHS history. Kraushaar will admit Norvell is the best he's ever had and no one doubts this statement. Norvell was outstanding in football, basketball, baseball and track. In football, he could pass, run and punt with the best of them. His greatest prep honor was to be a member of three undefeated campaigns. On offense, Norvell could play QB or halfback with equal success and he was and still is a tower of strength on defense. Merritt has won all-state and all-conference recognition but the greatest of all his football merits was a grid scholarship to the University of Wisconsin. At the present time, Norvell is the first-string left halfback on the freshman team. This is an honor when you consider the fact there were 100 freshmen out. He scrimmages against the Badgers' varsity. Football has been good to Merritt Norvell and he has been good to football. May this combination continue in college and Jacksonville will have a full-fledged Big Ten performer of top caliber.

Gary Brockhouse—Tackle

Gary Brockhouse, the youngest tackle selected by Kraushaar, proved to be a valuable offensive and defensive performer in two of JHS' undefeated years. Gary lettered in 1957 and 1958, his junior and senior years in addition to serving as Class President of the 1959 graduating class. Brockhouse was all-conference and all-state honorable mention. Brockhouse is staying single while attending Valparaiso University, where Max Roegge was so successful. Gary hopes to become the second Jacksonville player making good there.

John Sutphen—End

John Sutphen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sutphen, is one of the few players in JHS history that doesn't know the meaning of a football defeat. John started out his freshman year on an undefeated team and then played varsity ball and lettered for three seasons on the undefeated 1956, 1957 and 1958 teams. Only a 13-13 tie with Jerseyville in 1958 spoiled a perfect winning streak. He earned all-conference ratings two seasons and was co-captain his senior year. John is now continuing his football work as a freshman at Knox College in Galesburg.

Dave Fortado—R. Halfback

Dave Fortado, one of Kraushaar's three picks at the right halfback position, will always be remembered for his 58-yard touchdown run that defeated Cathedral in 1957, 7-6. The Crimsons had been stymied for three and a half quarters before Fortado launched his most memorable TD gallop. He lettered twice in his four years of grid contact at JHS and was named an all-conference halfback his senior season. He now attends Western and is striving to become a coach. His major is Physical Education.

Gene Wells—Guard

Players like Gene Wells, who have had the desire and spirit, have played a key factor in Jacksonville's success on the forward wall since Kraushaar became head coach 16 years ago. Gene is a very likeable chap off the field but once he dons football gear his opponent is in for a rough evening. Wells played four years of football and was a varsity member three years. He lettered his junior and senior years, was an all-conference lineman and was honorable mention all-state his senior campaign. The Illinois College freshman is performing capably for coach Joe Brooks on the hilltop this season. Gene is another Crimson who has played on four undefeated teams. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Wells.

Round Table In $58,000 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kerr Stable's Round Table took command about an eighth of a mile from home to capture the $58,000 Manhattan Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday.

The world's biggest money winner, ridden smartly by Willie Shoemaker, remained off the pace of Admiral Vee, holding third place much of the way, until time to strike. When Admiral Vee faltered, Bald Eagle rushed up to get second place, and Coloneast managed third money.

The Manhattan was a rugged 1½ miles route, and the time of 2:42 3-5 was listed as a track record.

Round Table netted $37,230, boosting his total earnings to $1,727,749, with $391,260 coming this year.

Illinois College Battles Principia To A 7-7 Deadlock In The Rain And Mud

Principia College saw its two-game winning streak go down the drain Saturday afternoon as a determined Illinois College eleven battled and sloshed back to tie the Indians in the second quarter before a large homecoming crowd at the hilltop gridiron, 7-7.

Both clubs had other scoring chances but they were battling bigger odds—a driving rain and a very, very muddy field covered with two inches of water. By the time the second quarter came around, the only distinguishable feature of either team was its helments. The players' uniforms were soaking wet and a thick layer of mud covered them from their shoe-tops up to their eye-brows. Their cleats were throwing water rather than the usual turf and this condition prevented any serious passing attack.

Illinois now has a record of one win, one loss and two ties.

The rain let up for five minutes in the first half and there was a slight drizzle in the third stanza and the sun looked as though it might break through the cloudy barrier at this point but the rains cut loose in the final stanza just as it had done in the first two quarters.

Principia got its scoring break in the initial frame after kicking off to the Blueboys. The Indians recovered a fumble on the Blueboy 31, took a five yard penalty against the Blueboys and scored seven plays later on a one-yard plunge by fullback Brooke Banbury. Dave Kahn converted for a 7-0 lead.

Late in the first period, IC took over on its own 37 following a Principia punt. Three consecutive first downs plus a 15-yard penalty against the Indians moved the Blueboys to the Principia 10 and faced a fourth down and four yards to go for the first down situation as the period ended.

QB Bobby Volk 'suckered' the Indian defense and threw a pitch-out to halfback Dick Orendorff going around his own left end on the first play of the quarter and Orendorff scored easily. Ken Mock converted and the two teams were all tied up, 7-7.

Principia blew a scoring opportunity late in the period when they recovered an Illinois fumble on the 26. The Indians elected to try a field goal from the 13 after a Principia back dropped a pass on the Blueboy two. The kick was short and low and Joe Brooks' crew took over on the 20 and ran out the remaining time in the first half.

The longest run of the game came in the third period when Dave Kahn took a long Harris punt and returned the pigskin 50 yards to the Blueboy 40. The threat ended four plays later.

Dick Orendorff had the longest single gain for IC in the final stanza on a 24-yard jaunt but the drive bogged down on the Principia 34. The Indians fumbled on the first play, however, and IC recovered on the 36. The Blueboys looked as though they were off and winging when Tom Phillips went up the middle for 15 yards to the Indian 21 on the first play of this series. Principia held and took over on downs on their own 17 and IC's last scoring threat had been washed out.

The Indians made one last-ditch offensive thrust late in the game when they drove from their 17 to the Blueboy 29 and this final threat consumed six minutes. An incomplete pass on fourth down gave IC the ball on its own 29 and they consumed the remaining two minutes on short running plays.

MORGAN COUNTY, ILLINOIS DELINQUENT TAX LIST

FOR THE YEAR 1958 AND FORMER YEARS.

OFFICE OF THE SHERIFF AND EX-OFFICIO COLLECTOR OF MORGAN COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

The following is a transcript of the delinquent lands and city lots lying and being in the County of Morgan, in the State of Illinois, as returned by Staley R. Keller, Sheriff and Ex-Officio Collector, Morgan County, Illinois, upon which the general taxes levied and assessed for the years 1950-1951-1952-1953-1954-1955-1956-1957- and 1958, or any part thereof, now remain due and unpaid also including and indicating the total amount of the delinquent personal property tax levied and assessed for the years 1950-1951-1952-1953-1954-1955-1956-1957 and 1958, or any part thereof, which has been added to the land or lot; all of which are contained and set forth in the collector's books containing the tax assessments for the year 1958 and former years and to which is attached the warrant of the Clerk of the County Court of Morgan county, under its seal.

Total tax, interest and cost for the year 1958 and former years are shown.

The statute provides that all delinquent taxes for the year 1958, due and unpaid, shall bear interest after the first day of June, 1959, on the first installment, and after the first day of September, 1959, on the second installment, at the rate of one percent a month, parts or fractions of a month to be reckoned as a month, and costs. Said list contains a list of the delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes remain due and unpaid, the names of the owners, if known, the total due thereon, all being due for the years 1950-1951-1952-1953-1954-1955-1956-1957- and 1958, or any part thereof, and the year or years for which the same are due.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — Butcher hogs on the Chicago livestock market declined every day this week, with prices falling to their lowest levels since March 1956.

Receipts at Chicago equaled the largest for any week since June. Prices Friday ranged downward from $13 with the average cost of all barrows and gilts estimated at $12.75, both lowest in 3½ years.

Butcher hogs over 250 pounds were scarce throughout the week, with No. 1 and 2 grade 190-230 pound weights predominating. All weights and grades from 190-280 pounds held to a small price spread.

Supplies of cattle were about 20 per cent greater than a week ago. About 75 per cent of the receipts were slaughter steers and 18 per cent heifers.

Slaughter steers finished unevenly 25 cents to $1.25 lower for the week, with good and choice yearlings showing the least decline. Choice and prime types declined most. Heifers declined 50 cents to $1.25.

Wholesale dressed beef prices declined 50 cents to $1.50.

In the sheep market, slaughter lambs finished steady to weak and slaughter ewes 50 cents lower. Trading early in the week was only moderately active with an early price declined erased later.

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Here is a summary of the hog, cattle and sheep markets for the week with estimated receipts for today.

Hogs 100; for the week: Several lots of select No 2 230-260 lb butchers brought 13.00 while a few lots closely sorted No 1 and 2 200-220 lbs brought the same price. Other No 1 and 2 and mixed No 1 and 2 200-220 lbs closed at 12.75-12.90, mixed No 2 and 3 grades 12.50-12.75. Mixed No 2 and 3 and No 3 butchers over 230 lbs bulked at 12.65-12.85. Weights downward to 180 lbs ranged as low as 12.00. Most 275-525 lb sows closed at 10.25-12.00, largely according to weight.

Cattle 100; for the week: Early bulk choice and mixed choice and prime steers 26.50-29.00, over a dozen loads high choice to mostly prime 1125-1325 lb steers on the midweek market 28.25-28.75, load at 28.75 feedlot mates of 29.65 top cattle last week, few loads choice around 1500 lb steers sold down to 25.50 and load mixed choice and prime near 1600 lb weights also 25.50, some high choice yearlings 1050 lbs down still sold as high as 28.00 on the midweek market when many loads high choice and mixed choice and prime 1300-1450 lb steers sold at 26.25-27.00, most good grade steers late 24.00-25.75, some weighing 1050 lbs down 26.00-26.25, few utility and standard steers 20.00-23.50, load standard 1040 lb holsteins included at 22.50. Early bulk good and choice heifers 24.00 - 26.50, comparable heifers late 23.00-25.75, loadlots mixed choice and prime heifers early 26.75-27.25, comparable cattle late 26.00-26.75 with load prime 1156 lb heifers 27.00, utility and standard heifers closed at 17.00-22.50. Standard cows 18.00-20.00, utility and commercial cows 14.00-18.00, bulk 14.50 - 17.50, canners and cutters 11.50-15.50, canners and cutters 11.50-15.50, mostly 12.00 up but few shelly canners as low as 10.00. Most utility and commercial bulls 18.50-21.50. Few good and choice vealers 33.00, standard and good grades 25.00-32.00, mostly 30.00 down late, cull and utility vealers 15.00 - 24.00. Two loads good 584 lb stock steers 28.25, good 700-725 lb weights 26.25-27.00, load medium 690 lb stockers $5.10, load choice 925 lb feeding steers 26.75, load good and choice 750 lb weights 27.00, several loads largely medium 750-825 lb weights 24.50-25.25 with few medium feeding steers down to 23.00.

Sheep none; for the week: Good and choice 80-105 lb wooled slaughter lambs 18.50-20.50, with lots at 20.50 mostly choice 90-100 lb weights. Utility and good 13.00-18.50, culls down to 10.00 and occasionally below. Several loadlots mostly choice 95-113 lb shorn lambs with mostly No 1 pelts 20.00-20.25. Cull to choice slaughter ewes mostly wooled 3.00, 4.50 late.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Space age stocks revived and made great strides this week while blue chip issues wallowed uncertainly in the stock market.

The over-all market took a small loss while the industrial section gained slightly.

The moon-girdling Russian satellite and the conviction that the United States must spend heavily in the space race inspired the missile-rocket-electronics group.

The big industrials and rails, however, pursued an uncertain course as they waited for President Eisenhower to do what the market expected him to do, namely, invoke the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike which finished its 87th day as the trading week concluded.

Accrodingly, the over-all market, which was buovant a week ago in hopes that the steel mills would resume operation soon, lapsed into a watch-and-wait mood. The rails, especially sensitive to this situation, took a slight loss on balance. Not until after the final trading session was over did the President invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

The President also used this weapon on Tuesday to put the dock workers back on the job and this gave the rails a nice one-day rally. But later on they dropped.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week rose .41 to 636.98.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 40 cents to $222.40

Volume dropped to 11,862,845 shares from 13,638,990 the week before.

Bond trading for the week amounted to $27,520,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange. This compared with $31,520,000 the previous week and $30,098,000 a year ago.

POOR HARVESTING WEATHER PROVIDES TRADING INCENTIVE

By EARL AYKROID
AP Business News Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Unfavorable weather for harvesting the soybean and corn crops provided the principal incentive for trading on the Board of Trade this week.

Trading in beans amounted to better than 70 per cent of the total volume on several days and prices advanced daily except Friday when beans suffered a setback on profit-taking.

Other factors in the trade during the week included the longshoremen's strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, potential foreign demand which failed to develop to any great degree, and several estimates both private and government, of the total 1959 production of soybeans, corn and wheat.

At the finish Friday wheat was ⅜ higher to ¾ lower, corn ⅛ higher to ¾ lower, oats ⅞ higher to ¼ lower, rye ⅝ to 2⅞ higher and soybeans 1½ to 2⅛ higher.

Wet weather blanketed the midwest corn and soybean belt all week—except Friday—as well as part of the previous week. The harvest delaying moisture brought good support to beans and prices kept advancing until Friday.

Reports of clearing weather on Friday caused a selloff.

There was virtually no news of importance to affect wheat prices.

Corn held within a narrow trading range all week, with weather conditions the main factor. Oats were independently steady most of the time.

Rye followed action in wheat except on Friday when deliveries advanced as much as 2⅛ cents a bushel in sympathy with Winnipeg flax which advanced the limit for one day as a result of harvest delaying snow in Canada.

FACT-FINDERS CHART COURSE FOR HEARING

tion in invoking the Taft-Hartley Act.

There was no sign that Eisenhower would do so. He has said he is sick and tired of the situation and could not let it drag on to the point where the American people would suffer serious hardship.

Similarly, there appeared little prospect that either the fact finding board or a federal court would reject the idea of an injunction to halt the strike for 80 days.

Eisenhower gave Taylor's fact finding board until next Friday to file its report.

Not until it reports will Eisenhower be free under the law to instruct the Justice Department to seek an injunction.

Thus the steel shutdown will continue—barring a surprise agreement between union and industry—until at least next weekend.

And if no agreement should be reached within the 80-day cooling off period, the steelworkers would be free to walk out again early in January.

In the meantime, of course, seriously depleted supplies of steel could be replenished. To what extent was a question. Industry sources in Pittsburgh estimated it might require five weeks to get the mills back to 90 per cent of capacity.

When the strike started, there was a big supply on hand.

Critics of Eisenhower's action contended that an injunction would have the effect of removing the pinch from the industry.

Strikers in steel centers voiced blunt complaints.

"Ike is favoring the corporations," one said. Other comments: "It won't settle the strike. They have the same kind of forced labor in Russia. They want to take the guts out of our contract."

An 80-day injunction taking effect next Saturday would expire Jan. 4.

Before that time comes, the law calls for the workers to vote by secret ballot on the companies' last offer, as reported by the fact finding board.

While the board is charged only with fact finding and not with recommending settlement terms, such panels in other disputes in the past have sometimes acted as unofficial mediators.

MACMILLAN DRIVES FOR EARLY SUMMIT

before setting out for his country home in Sussex for a quiet weekend. Lloyd was expected to transmit to Washington and Paris immediately the Prime Minister's latest view on hastening to the summit. With the British elections over, the United States and France were thought here to be more ready to make arrangements for such an East-West parley in late fall or early winter.

Macmillan is expected to devote the next few days to mulling over possible changes in his cabinet, although no major shake-up is likely in the immediate future.

Most politicos expect the Prime Minister to retain Lloyd as foreign secretary, at least until after a summit conference.

The new parliament will convene Oct. 20 to swear in the 639 members elected Thursday. It will recess immediately afterward until Oct. 27 when it begins its regular session.

Issue Traffic Tickets After Two Cars Collide

Traffic tickets were issued Saturday evening as the result of a two car collision on North Main Street. Both drivers were issued violation notices after they collided at the Jacksonville Foods Store about 6:10 p.m.

A ticket was issued to Donald Frye of Bluffs for failure to yield the right of way and one to Donald Walden of Literberry charging the driver with not having a driver's license.

Police reports show the accident occurred as the Frye auto heading south on North Main attempted to turn into the Jacksonville Foods driveway. Walden was heading north on Main street at the time of the collision.

Damage was done to the right front headlight and fender of the Frye auto and the Walden car received major damage to the entire front end. It was towed to Brummett's garage.

Mrs. Beverly Walden, passenger in the auto, was taken to Our Saviour's Hospital for observation and later released. City police officers assisted at the scene of the accident.

Stirks maintain their summer residence in the marshes of Denmark, and their winter homes on the banks of the River Nile in Egypt.

Powell, Ridings Rites In Greene

CARROLLTON—Funeral services for John Powell of Florissant, who died suddenly this week while at work at the McDonnell Aircraft Corporation, were held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Mehl funeral home.

The minister was the pastor of the Presbyterian church in Florissant and the music was also furnished by the choir of that church.

The pallbearers were Norman Meyer, Harold Hardy, Ellis McCandling, Kendall Seely, Kenneth Black and Dr. Robert Piper. Burial was in Carrollton City cemetery.

Ridings Rites Friday

Funeral services for Ernest Ridings, a farmer of the Berdan vicinity, were held Friday at 9 a.m. at St. John's Catholic church.

Mass was said by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael Enright. The pallbearers were Earl Vandergriff, Leroy Vandergriff, Ernest Wade, Williams Ridings, James Carmody and Vincent Becker. Burial was in St. John's cemetery.

Wildcats And Purdue Fare Well Without Key Quarterbacks

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Northwestern and Purdue — heading for a titanic struggle for the Big Ten championship—didn't blink an eyebrow Saturday at the loss of their top offensive threats.

The Wildcats, No. 2 in The Associated Press weekly poll, polished off Minnesota 6-0 behind fourth - string quarterback Bob Eickhoff. Purdue, rated No. 7, shut out ninth-ranked Wisconsin 21-0, with scrub Bernie Allen supplying the punch.

Northwestern lost Dick Thornton, who had directed the Wildcats to their opening-game stunner over Oklahoma, last week. The Boilermakers' big man, Ross Fitchner, also is out with injuries.

Eickhoff, 157 pounds, led an 86-yard scoring march in the final period, pulled Northwestern out of the doldrums, and capped his performance by firing a 7-yard touchdown flip to end Paul Yanke.

Bernie Allen took over for Fitchner and tossed three touchdown passes and kicked all three extra points.

Louisiana State, top team in the weekly poll, played a night game against the University of Miami.

In another struggle between two Goliaths, Georgia Tech, No. 3 right behind LSU and Northwestern, cut down Tennessee 14-7 in the South's top game. Tennessee was the third national power to fall before Tech. Taz Anderson, one of the Rambling Wrecks' lesser lights, ran, grabbed passes and anchored the defense.

Texas, No. 4 in the country, continued unbeaten by smashing once-mighty Oklahoma, 19-12. This was the second straight year the Longhorns have put the hex on the Sooners. Texas now ranks as the favorite to win the Southwest Conference title.

Iowa, the defending Big Ten champion, and No. 10 in the current national listing, walked all over Michigan State, 37-8.

Syracuse, which looks more and more like the class of the East, throttled Navy 32-6 in the Oyster Bowl.

Notre Dame bounced back from last week's defeat by Purdue and walloped California 28-6 in their intersectional game on the Pacific Coast.

Other major scores included:

EAST — Boston College 39, Villanova 6; Pitt 12, Duke 9; Yale 14, Columbia 0; Penn State 17, Army 11; Penn 18, Princeton 0; Brown 0, Dartmouth 0; Cornell 20, Harvard 16; Rutgers 15, Colgate 12; Holy Cross 8, Dayton 0.

Iowa Hawkeyes Rout Michigan State, 37-8

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa bounced back into the Big Ten title picture Saturday with quarterback Olen Treadway's passes providing the punch in a 37-8 victory over Michigan State before a record crowd of 59,300.

The defending champions, who lost their conference opener to Northwestern last week, stunned the Spartans with a 23-0 halftime lead based on a flurry of passes from Treadway to end Don Norton. The combination accounted for two first-half touchdowns.

Interceptions and penalties hobbled the Spartans and they never seriously threatened. Quarterback Dean Look capped a 64-yard drive with a 13-yard touchdown toss to fullback Carl Charon late in the third period for their only score.

A 95-yard runback by Bob Jeter with the ensuing Michigan State kickoff permanently erased any threat the Spartan touchdown might have presented. Although Jeter was pulled down on the Michigan State one, Wilburn Hollis got the touchdown a couple of plays later.

Sixty Parking Violations In Police Court Saturday

Sixty parking violations, ranging from $2 to $6, were received in the court of Police Magistrate Fred Daniels Saturday morning.

Saturday's turnout proved to be one of the "busiest ever" at city hall. The violators paid their fines of $2 per ticket without incident. All violators came under the jurisdiction of the city's new parking ordinance which includes provision for fines paid on a graduated scale, depending on the lapse of time.

City officials were pleased with the arrangement and promised quick installation of boxes throughout the metered area as soon as they arrive. Motorists will simply drop their fines in an envelope and place the envelope in one of the boxes later.

Other fines assessed included: speeding by radar, Ronald Stubblefield, Detroit, $6; James Harris, Alexander, $5; William Conklin, 212 Park, $9; Thomas Bennett, Chapin, $7; and William Rensker, Hillcrest, $6.

Running stop sign, all fines $5, C. S. Benson, Winchester; Francis Tendick, 327 North Diamond; Max Dramin, 296 Sandusky; Mrs. Edwin Spatz, 929 South Diamond; George T. Rees, Springfield; and Ellis Brant, 1081 South Diamond.

Disorderly conduct, Louise Liming, 316 Fulton, $14; Gerald Roberts, Lynnville, $14; Tom Antle, Jacksonville, $14; and F. Benson, Jacksonville, $15.

Convict Tells Story Of Slaying Of Joliet Woman

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Illinois convict told Senate Rackets Committee investigators he took part in the killing of a weekly newspaper official who disappeared in 1957. Robert F. Kennedy, former committee counsel, said Friday night.

Amelia J. (Mollie) Zelko, 47, business manager for the Joliet (Ill.) Spectator, disappeared after the paper had been critical of coin machine operations in the area.

Kennedy confirmed a Chicago Tribune dispatch from Washington which disclosed that investigators had gotten the slaying story from an Illinois penitentiary inmate.

Kennedy said the man he identified as James V. Rini, 43, told him that two other men had taken part with Rini in kidnaping and killing Miss Zelko.

Kennedy said he was told she was shot and her body buried in lime.

"I don't know whether the story is true or not," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said he had written Gov. Stratton of Illinois outlining what the convict had told him.

Rini, Kennedy said, is serving time in Stateville Penitentiary for breaking and damaging coin machines.

The Senate Rackets Committee made an intensive investigation into the coin machine industry. It was during this investigation, Kennedy said, that information about Rini turned up. Kennedy resigned as committee counsel recently.

Rini was unable to locate Miss Zelko's grave. The Tribune said that last November Kennedy and other committee aides took Rini to the farm near Joliet where he said the body was buried.

"The Senate agents dug six feet into the earth in two places on the farm, but were unable to find any trace of the body."

In Springfield, an aide in the office of Gov. Stratton said a letter from Kennedy detailing Rini's purported confession was turned over to authorities for an investigation.

Soviet Scientists Think There May Be Life On Moon

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists think there may be microbes on the moon, seaweed on the planets, and, in far corners of the universe, superbeings more intelligent than man.

One Soviet astronomer, Felix Zigel, looks forward to the day when space travelers from the earth will meet these beings and cooperate with them. Moscow radio said Saturday night.

A commentator said Soviet scientists think there may be a low form of life on the moon for these reasons:

They have seen a change of color on the moon's surface.

Last November Soviet astronomer Nikolai Kozyrev observed a volcano erupting on the moon.

With volcanoes there, a constant temperature may be maintained below the moon's surface.

Carbon dioxide issues from cracks in the craters, and by decomposing could provide oxygen. There may also be moisture in these cracks.

What life is there on the moon?

'Microbes, bacteria and molds might well exist," says Prof. Aleksander Imshenetsky, director of the Moscow Institute of Microbiology.

And on other planets?

Probably only the simplest organisms such as bacteria, mosses and seaweed, astronomer Vassily Fesenkov thinks.

As for the superbeings that may inhabit distant solar systems, the commentator said people may wonder why we haven't seen or heard from them.

The rhododendron is the state flower of West Virginia.

Charles "Chuck" Crosby, former head basketball coach at Canton high the past two years, and Judith Pschierer applied for a marriage license at Lewistown last week. Crosby's fine Canton five lost a heartbreaker by a single point to the Peoria Central five in the Sectional tourney last March. He is a native of Branson, Mo., and the future Mrs. Crosby was born and raised at Canton and she has completed three years of study at Northwestern University.

Lee Polhill is the new head basketball coach at Elmwood high school and he is assisting head football boss, Bob Riggenbach, this Fall. The Trojans are improving with each game and end the season with the Galva eleven on November 13. Lewistown's Indians dropped their initial game of the season last night 20-19 to Metamora while Cuba high dropped Astoria by the same score and it was Cuba's first win of the season.

V. I. T. (Table Grove) ruined Industry's homecoming Thursday night with a 20-0 win, scoring in each of the first three periods. Knoxville beat a stubborn Abingdon eleven 18-6 after setting up two touchdowns with pass plays. Stronghurst high lost a football thriller Thursday night to Kirkwood 12-6. Larry Keener, a high-stepping fullback, carried a pay load 58 yards to a touchdown with four minutes left in the game to lead the Kirkwood eleven. Ron Annegars, Stronghurst's right halfback, sped 40 yards for a game tying touchdown only seconds before Keener, 6-1 and 185 pounds, had scored for the winning team.

Peoria Woodruff's cross-country team raced to its sixth straight win of the season by defeating Low-point-Washburn high Thursday 24-35. Monmouth's Zippers won 19-0 over Macomb's Bombers at Macomb Thursday night as the winning team scored in each of the first three quarters. Farmington won over Morton 26-0 to stay unbeaten in the Illio conference with three consecutive wins. Jim Williams of Feltshans high raced for 80 yards and a touchdown against Rushville on the opening kick off and the Flyers won 27-0.

Aledo high has a one man gang in Fred Schapper who scored four touchdowns in beating Roseville 37-6. The Green Dragons ruined Roseville's Homecoming game with the Little Six loop win. Tom Sawyer, fullback, scored Roseville's only six points. Schapper scored on runs of 37, 11, 28 and 60 yards before tossing to his End, McClelland on a 5 yard pass.

Frank Ruffato, ace halfback for Lewistown from St. David, scored two touchdowns in a losing cause. He galloped 38 and 90 yards as his team lost by a single point to unbeaten Metamora. Dennis Woosley scored two touchdowns for Metamora on runs of 50 and 12 yards and he did not start the ball game.

Don Dison, fullback for Bradford high, scored 58 points this season. He scored eight points in helping his team beat Dunlap 14-7 Thursday night at Bradford. The Bradford eleven shook halfback Terry Horack loose around end in the final five minutes of play, breaking a 7-7 deadlock and giving the Panthers a hard fought Blackhawk conference win.

Peoria Manual's unbeaten Rams recovered a Limestone (Peoria) fumble on the opening kickoff, scored four plays later, and then went on to hand the Rockets a 34-0 Mid State Eight thumping at Peoria's stadium. The Rams rolled up 20 first downs and 406 yards from scrimmage. Coach Ron Little of Limestone has a fine fullback in speedy Dick Clemons who racked up more than 50 yards in offensive rushes.

Frank H. Miller, I.C. Grad Dies At Springfield

Frank H. Miller, 49 year old Springfield man who graduated with the class of 1931, Illinois College, where he was a member of the school's varsiety basketball team all four years, died Friday morning at Memorial Hospital in Springfield.

Miller was associated with the Springfield Association of Commerce and Industry and the La-Porte, Ind., Chamber of Commerce for a number of years. He was later sales representative for Alpha Cement Company.

The deceased was a member of Westminster Presbyterian church, Sangamon and Elks club in Springfield. While at College he became a member of Sigma Pi society.

He is survived by two aunts, both living in Iowa.

The body is at Smith Funeral Chapel in that city where services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday. Dr. Edward Ziegler will officiate and interment will be in Oak Ridge cemetery, Springfield.

SENTENCE YOUTHS FOR STEALING PLANE

WARSAW (AP) — Two Polish youths have been sentenced to 10 years each in prison for stealing an air rescue plane at night from Bydgoszcz Airport and crash landing on the Baltic Sea coast. Their names and ages were withheld from publication. Neither had flown before but one had read up on flying. Neither was hurt.

Flower bearers were Mrs. Ed Lonergan, Mrs. Warren Floyd, Mrs. Ossie Surratt, Jr., Mrs. Robert Whitlock, Mrs. Edwin Clayton, Mrs. Gerald Baker, Mrs. Lester Penick and Mrs. Ivan Crum.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Flynn, Harry Thompson, Oliver Cromwell, Lloyd Sorrells, Virgil Vedder and Dean Craig.

Freak Hailstorm Hits Fillmore

FILLMORE, Ill. (AP)—A freak hailstorm, accompanied by high winds and a driving rain, hit this town of 400 late Saturday, blanketing the village in a white covering of hailstones.

Three houses were damaged extensively by falling trees and a number of windows were shattered by the marble-size hail, but no one was injured. The wind piled hailstones up in drifts of seven inches in places.

Several outbuildings were blown down on nearby farms, but the damaging winds appeared to be limited to the immediate vicinity of the town, 60 miles northeast of St. Louis.

More than one inch of rain fell during a half-hour period.

Heavy rain also was reported at Litchfield and Hillsboro.

Morgan To Host 200 Lawyers At District Bar Association Meet

More than 200 Illinois lawyers are expected in Jacksonville next Thursday, Oct. 15, to attend a meeting of the Fourth District Federation of Local Bar Associations. The Morgan County Bar Association will act as host.

Among the speakers for the all-day session will be Illinois State Bar Association President Gerald C. Snyder of Waukegan.

The meeting will open with registration in the Courthouse. Activities are planned for both the lawyers and their wives.

Robert E. Bradney of Jacksonville, president of the Morgan County Bar Association, will deliver the address of welcome. The response will be given by Richard P. Lamoreaux of Monmouth, vice president of the Fourth District Federation. William L. Fay of Jacksonville, president of the Federation will preside.

Set Morning Discussion

The remainder of the morning program will be devoted to a full discussion of the changes in the law enacted by the 71st General Assembly of particular interest to the general practitioner.

"The New Garnishment Act and Other Legislation" will be discussed by Gerald A. Nichols of Springfield, a member of the executive committee of the ISBA Section on Commercial and Bankruptcy Law.

Loren E. Juhl of Chicago will discuss "Uniform Gifts to Minors Act and Other Changes Affecting Probate Practice and Trust Law." Juhl is chairman of the ISBA Section on Probate and Trust Law.

Maurice W. Scott of Springfield, vice-chairman of the ISBA Section on State Taxation, will review recent legislation affecting the state taxation field of practice.

Luncheon With Wives

At 12:30 p.m. the lawyers and their wives will hold a luncheon at the Hotel Dunlap. ISBA President Snyder will address the group on "Prestige with Profit."

The afternoon session will open at 2:00 p.m. in the Hotel Dunlap with committee reports and election of officers.

At 2:15 p.m., Thomas F. Ryan of Mattoon will discuss the "Merchantability of Titles Act and Other Legislation." Ryan is a member of the ISBA Real Estate Law Section.

Adjournment is scheduled for 3:30 p.m.

Ladies Program

After registration, the lawyers' wives will have coffee at the home of Mrs. William L. Fay, 1338 Mound Avenue. After the luncheon for the lawyers and ladies, there will be a business meeting of the Association of Wives of Illinois Lawyers.

At 2:30 p.m., the wives will take a tour of the City, including Illinois and MacMurray Colleges and the School for the Deaf.

Mrs. Robert E. Bradney and a committee of the wives of Morgan County lawyers are in charge of the ladies' activities. Robert E. Bradney of Jacksonville is in charge of reservations.

Yeggs Fail To Open Safe—Contents 'OK'

Burglars failed to open a large safe taken sometime Friday night at the Walker Motor Company on West Morton Road. Police investigated the theft early Saturday morning shortly after workmen arrived and noticed the loss.

Entry to the building was gained by breaking a small window on the north side of the building, then a door was opened. The burglars moved the 750-pound safe from the office, out the back door, across a parking area and into the brook. The safe was then pulled up the north bank of the brook by a winch or several strong men. The safe was loaded on a vehicle and taken from the scene by way of Hoagland Blvd.

Found Saturday

A large safe in a ditch about 1¼ miles southwest of the city was reported to the Sheriff's office Saturday morning about 11 o'clock. Investigation showed it to be the one removed from the Walker garage.

The safe was then taken to police headquarters to be opened. The combination and hinges had been knocked off before the yeggs gave up on the project but police were able to open the door after considerable effort.

A tear-gas mechanism was apparently triggered by the burglars. Police officers scattered when the door was finally opened and tear-gas escaped.

The contents were intact, although water-soaked. Company officials said the safe contained a small amount of cash. Checks and bonds, both non-negotiable, accounted for several thousand dollars additional.

The safe was removed to the Walker garage late Saturday and repaired.

United Fund Donations Near Goal; 6% Short

Solicitors are continuing to bring in reports and the total to date is just $4,792 short of the goal or 94% complete.

The campaign office has been busy recording the more than 5,500 contributions to the United Fund. This is necessary in order to determine those who have been missed in the campaign. This coming week, it is hoped that all of these people can be reached and to push the total over the $80,000 goal.

F. Osborne Elliott, General Chairman stated, "Our Campaign Organization has done a fine job of trying to reach everyone possible in Morgan County. The $80,000 goal for this year's campaign, we knew, required that we obtain the maximum number of contributions. The recording of the many gifts is a time consuming task but until they are recorded we can not determine whom we have missed. This job is about complete. We will try now, one way or another, to contact these people. Many, of their own accord, have mailed in their gift."

"We don't want this follow-up to drag out, yet we know the importance of reaching $80,000 and do not want to give up until all that is needed to support our community youth and welfare program is in hand."

All employee groups are asked to complete their solicitation so that a final listing of 100% groups can be made on the 18th. The Campaign office, 209 Gibson Building, will be open one more week for this final clean-up.

PHI ALPHA WINS IC FLOAT COMPETITION

Judges wore their raincoats and walked from float to float in an effort to determine the winner. The parade line-up assembled on Westminster but was forced to cancel the scheduled run through the downtown area by a quick thundershower. Every float was quickly reduced to soggy napkins when the rain started.

This was judged the winning float, constructed by the men of Phi Alpha Literary Society, and was captioned, "I.C. De Brer Facts."

The float was in two sections, the lead shows Uncle Remus sitting on a tree stump, telling the story of Brer Rabbit. Standing on the second section, in center, is Brer Bear with the big stick which alternately struck Brer Fox (Principia), while Brer Rabbit (IC) runs around the pair on a special track through the goal posts.

A large number of alumni returned to the campus this weekend.

Pro Basketball Coming To Jacksonville

The Jacksonville Knights of Columbus will sponsor a Pro Basketball game this Wednesday evening, Oct. 14, in the Jacksonville High School Gym.

In securing the Hawks to come here and play a preseason game the Knights had to convince the management that Jacksonville was a sports minded town and it would be an advantage for them to come here since we are a short drive to St. Louis to see their regular season games. The St. Louis Hawks were World Champions two years ago and were beaten in the playoffs last year.

The Jacksonville fans who attend this game will see some real basketball played at its best. And also they will see some Pro Basketball players that are veterans in the game. Bob Petit, Hub Reed, Cliff Hagan, Dave Gambee, Clyde Lovelette, Al Ferrari, Jack McMahon, and rookies Cal Ramsey, Bob Ferry, and John McCarthy. The Hawks are coached by "Easy Ed" Macauley.

The Syracuse Nats have George Yardley, Red Kerr, Larry Costello,, Hal Greer, Dolph Schayes, Dick Barnett and others. Paul Seymour is coach of Syracuse.

There will be also N.B.A. officials, 12 minute quarters, and 24 second clocks as the players have to shoot within 24 seconds.

Come and see the Hawks and Syracuse play the game of Pro Basketball.

Tickets for this game are on sale at Mac's Clothes Shop. All seats are reserved. Plenty of good seats are available. (Adv.)

Fugitive Nabbed In Tussle At Plant In Jersey Admits Killings

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A thin, wiry bellhop with an edgy trigger finger was overpowered and captured Saturday by victims he attempted to rob and threatened to shoot.

Lewis Gorman, owner of the Gorman Brothers Redi-Mix Cement Co., jumped 21-year-old James Palmer and knocked a .22 caliber rifle out of his hands. Seven of Gorman's employes then helped subdue the fugitive.

"He said he was going to shoot the others in the head and take me with him," said Gorman, "so I figured I had nothing to lose."

Ernest Pohlman, manager of the Gorman firm, said Palmer apparently broke into the building during the night. He was waiting inside when Pohlman and seven other men arrived for work at 7 a.m.

He trained the rifle on them, growling, "You do what I say or I'll kill you."

"He covered us with his rifle and forced us to lie on the floor with our heads against a wall," Pohlman said. "He was very polite, but he threatened several times to kill us."

Palmer took $500 from Gorman, a partner in the firm, and $150 from Pohlman. He also took money from the other men during the hour and a half he held them at bay with his rifle.

Palmer then ordered Pohlman to open the safe, threatening to "put a hole in your head" if he didn't. There was about $1,000 in the safe.

Ties Up Men

He then ordered Gorman to tie up the men. Using a length of rope from a freight elevator Gorman trussed up three of his companions. Watching for his chance, Gorman lunged, catching Palmer off guard. He shouted, "Let's get him, boys," and they overpowered the gunman and held him until police arrived.

Taken to the Jerseyville police station, Palmer, officers said, admitted shooting a railroad brakeman early Friday while being chased by police. Officers said Palmer did not remember firing a shot through the door of a farm home near here during his flight. The farmer was cut by flying fragments.

Files Charges

A charge of assault with intent to kill was filed Friday in connection with the shooting at the farm home of Charles Hunter. State's Atty. Claude Davis later filed a similar charge in connection with the shooting of James Whitworth, of Roodhouse, Ill., a brakeman for the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad. Whitworth, shot three times, was recovering late Saturday in Jerseyville Community Hospital.

A third charge, armed robbery, was filed Saturday following the capture at the construction company.

Five hours after his capture, authorities said, he orally admitted the holdup-slayings of a waitress and a bait shop proprietor last month.

Admits Shootings

Capt. F. J. Vasel, commander of the St. Louis County secret service division, quoted 21-year-old James Palmer as saying he shot both victims with a .22-caliber rifle "so they couldn't identify me."

Palmer, who eluded a posse of 100 men Friday after shooting up a farm house and wounding a railroad brakeman, was to be charged with murder Saturday night.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davenport of 603 North Prairie became the parents of a son born at 8:25 p.m. Saturday at Passavant Hospital; weight, seven pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hayes, 504½ Hardin, became the parents of a son at 9:33 a.m. Friday at Passavant hospital, weighing eight pounds and one ounce.

Illinois law does not specify degree.

The murder charge applies to the death of a red-haired, 22-year-old Mrs. Hazel Riley, whose ravished body was found on a lonely, dirt road in nearby Wood River, Ill., Sept. 17.

Vasel said "there's plenty of time" for Missouri authorities to file a similar charge against Palmer in connection with the Sept. 12 slaying of Thomas L. Nelson. Nelson's bullet riddled body was found outside his bait and tackle shop in St. Louis County. Jerseyville is about 50 miles north of St. Louis.

Takes Money

Vasel said Palmer, who was questioned once about the slayings and released, claimed he took $100 from Nelson and about $35 from Mrs. Riley. Each victim was shot six times.

Vasel also quoted Palmer as saying he held up a tavern in El Paso, Texas, Sept. 28 or 29 while on a honeymoon trip with his 16-year-old bride.

The fidgety Palmer, a bridegroom of only a few weeks, pleaded loss of memory at first, but then started talking when confronted with the rifle.

"I think he was just scared, that's all," said Vasel, who previously described the murders as the work of a pathological killer. "He knew we could match a bullet from this rifle with the ones from the two victims."

Breaks Into Tears

Palmer broke into tears as he was being questioned and then in halting sentences told how he had eluded the posse.

"I spent most of my time in a cornfield," he said while eating a breakfast of bacon and eggs. "The police were all around me. I walked the railroad tracks, just kept walking along. I don't know in what direction."

Palmer, tired and unshaven, would not look into the cameras of photographers at the jail.

"I don't like newspapers," he said. "They make too much of me because I'm being chased."

Asked why he was chased, he replied:

"Because I've done wrong."

Tells Story

Although Palmer wept while eating breakfast, he was calm and dry eyed while telling this story.

He told officers he walked into a Wood River cafe where Mrs. Riley was on duty alone and ordered a hamburger, coffee and a doughnut. He said he then drew a .22-caliber pistol from a paper bag, forced her to accompany him to a deserted road and shot her with a rifle.

Police said Mrs. Riley had been raped, but Palmer denied that he did it.

A St. Louis hotel bellhop until recently, Palmer told Vasel he selected Nelson's remote shop at random "while driving around looking for a place to hold up."

Disappears

Police lost track of Palmer after their initial questioning of him last month. He was picked up originally because his 1956 convertible matched the description of a car seen in the vicinity of where Mrs. Riley's body was found. They wanted to requestion him but Palmer and his wife took a honeymoon trip.

Then late Thursday two Jerseyville police officers spotted Palmer and his 16-year-old wife, Naomi, in the convertible outside Palmer's rooming house. During the chase that followed Palmer wrecked his car and fled on foot, leaving his wife behind.

The two shootings followed and then the trail grew cold once more until Saturday morning.

Bert Watts Of Lowder Dies At Passavant

Bert Watts of Lowder, Ill., passed away at 9:05 Saturday morning at Passavant Hospital. Mr. Watts had been ill for a long time.

Scott Man Attends Meat Promotion Convention

By Nancy Hainsfurther
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-5520)

WINCHESTER — Robert Reid was among the farm people from Illinois and Missouri who saw first hand progress being made toward developing new methods to process and use farm products on a one-day St. Louis meat promotion visit.

Farm men and women from the two states were in the nation's eighth largest city to promote greater consumption of meat. The program was sponsored by the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation and the Illinois Agricultural Association with the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce co-operating. At a breakfast launching the day-long program, industry leaders were guests to learn what farmers are doing in product promotion.

For the rest of the day the 100 farm men and women were guests of industrial leaders to see how food is handled from the time it leaves the farm until it is served.

They visited processing companies, talked to housewives at independent and chain grocery stores, and watched as food was prepared in the huge kitchens of major St. Louis restaurants and hotels.

Divide Into Groups

Dividing into groups of three and four persons, the farm people visited about forty different places as representatives of retailers, wholesalers, restaurants, grocery stores, processors and others who merchandise meat showed them around Metropolitan St. Louis.

Olen Monsees, president of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, was chairman at the kick - off breakfast. At the first meeting of the day, the guests saw a display of meat cuts of today and meat cuts of a decade ago. Monsees pointed out that meat cuts of today are leaner, better trimmed and smaller in size to provide the kind of product homemakers show they want through their purchases.

"With the variety of cuts of meats available in beef, pork, lamb poultry and turkeys there should be little trouble finding a tasty way to prepare a tempting meal three times a day," Mr. Monsees observed. "And of course, meat at every meal helps keep us healthy."

At the breakfast, Eugene V. Stadel, IAA associate secretary of marketing, told the group that two strips of bacon and two eggs are the equivalent to consumption of four pounds of corn. "Four pounds of corn would make two gallons of mush—and that's a lot of mush to eat at one sitting," he said.

Promote Consumption

"By actually promoting the consumption of meat, farm people are using their ability to lessen the surplus of corn and other feed grains. At the same time, people who eat meat are healthy and assured of the daily food needs."

With a twinkle in his eye, Mr. Stadel added, "Meat puts the sparkle in a pretty girl's eye, spring in her step, and bloom on her cheeks that does not wash off at night."

He praised our present program where producers, processors and retailers can freely work out a program to reduce the surplus. Illinois farmers three years ago set up a plan to invest their own money in promoting consumption of all farm products. This year-round effort is called Agricultural Marketing Development and Promotion Program and is financed by voluntary contributions of farmers.

At the breakfast, identification badges were made of leather—an innovation started two years ago by the IAA's product promotion program. Since then through the contact of various industrial groups, use of leather in such things as awards, plaques, national livestock and dairy show ribbons and other purposes has evolved.

Repeat Story

During the day the guests repeated their story to retailers, wholesalers, processors and others who use it to sell meat, reminding them that the supply of meat is plentiful and that prices are moderate. "Food is a good buy" is the theme of this year's meat promotion campaign. During their visits, farm people discussed costs of products, investments, labor, methods of production and sales problems with restaurant owners, hotel dining room managers, processers and others.

A report meeting was held Tuesday night at the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel with farmers exchanging information on their experiences and offering suggestions on how to stimulate the sale of meat.

Among organizations cooperating were St. Louis Local Meat Packers Association, Missouri Retail Council and Independent Food Dealers of Greater St. Louis, the Hotel Association of St. Louis and the St. Louis Restaurant Association.

Polygraph Results

James Nolan Ragsdale, Mrs. James Ragsdale and Norman Smith, who were given polygraph tests at the Scott County Court House on Oct. 5 have been cleared of any involvement in the stealing of silver coins.

The silver coins in the above named people's possession on Sept. 28 have been found to be not stolen as a result of the tests. Coin machines in Calhoun, Pike, Greene and Scott counties have been tampered with in the past few weeks as well as $40 in silver coins taken from the Pleasant Hill Elevator.

Queen Crowned

Kay Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day of Alsey, who was announced as 1959 Homecoming Queen Thursday evening, received her royal crown in special coronation ceremonies following the football game which was a victory for the Wildcats Friday evening. The crown, which was carried by Harry Pate, was placed on Queen Kay's bowed head by the retiring queen, Mrs. Bonnie Shandrow Davidson, who was escorted by Les Watt.

Miss Palmer, lovely in a pale blue floor length formal, was escorted to the dais by Ronnie Slagle and presented her bouquet of yellow mums, at the dance in the gymnasium. The flowers were carried by little Miss Debbie Wright.

Special attendants to Miss Palmer were Linda Havens who wore a short white formal escorted by Tom Lashmett, Ruth Ann Sipes in a pale pink formal over billowing petticoats escorted by Tom Flynn and Janet Ehlert, who wore a rose strapless gown, escorted by Stanley Likes. Each of the attendants wore a fall corsage.

Fire Prevention Week

Mayor Horace Walmsley has proclaimed the coming week Fire Prevention Week in Winchester as the national observance is held.

Opening the week on Tuesday, the 13 the 22-member volunteer department will request permission from all Winchester merchants throughout the business district to inspect their basements and cellars for potential fire hazards. This check will be made from two to four o'clock in the afternoon.

The examination is to be made without charge and is in line with the fire prevention program inaugurated by Fire Chief Addison Scott several years ago.

The fire records over the past 50 years reveal that approximately once every five years the City has had a major fire. It is thought that the annual checkup will serve to reduce the likelihood of this percentage continuing.

Change Date

Members of the Dorcas Circle of the Christian church are reminded that the meeting date of the group has been changed due to the Tri County convention to be held here this week.

The meeting is to be Oct. 22 in the home of Mrs. Lucy Jones as previously announced. The time remains at 2 o'clock.

Convention

Members of the Christian Women's Fellowship in Cass, Morgan and Scott counties will meet at the local church Thursday, Oct. 15, for a tri-county convention.

The all day meeting which will start at 10 a.m. will feature reports of various committees as well as a potluck lunch at noon with Miss Margaret Shaw, a former missionary to the Belgian Congo, speaking in the afternoon session.

Sells Store

C. W. Rodgers has announced the purchase of the jewelry store he now operates, by Ronald Hoots. Mr. Hoots, who plans to take over the business on Feb. 1, is now at a school training for watch repair.

The Rodgers family plans to move to Memphis, Mo., where Mr. Rodgers will continue in the jewelry business.

Married

Miss Sandra Williams and Carl Sanders of Jacksonville were united in marriage by Justice of the Peace Bill Boston in his home Tuesday evening, Oct. 6.

Attending the couple were the groom's brother, William Lee Sanders and the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Ellen Williams.

Personals

Mrs. James M. Coultas entered the White Hall Hospital on Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Breeding and Larry are spending the weekend on the Northwestern campus visiting Pam who recently auditioned and was accepted as a member of the Women's Glee Club there.

Visiting Mrs. Mildred Snow on Monday of last week were Misses Rosemary, Sandra and Debrah Pressey of Florence, Clifford King of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pressy and Charles Pressey of Florence.

Al Watt spoke to members of the Carrollton Lions Club on his trip to Hawaii last year at the club's meeting on Thursday.

Mrs. Temple Grout drove her daughter, Mrs. Fred Leiner and son to Ohio earlier this week where she is visiting Mrs. Dalton Irwin who is ill. Mrs. Leiner and son continued on to Boston to join Mr. Leiner who has been transferred to that city.

Hold Smith Rites In Winchester

WINCHESTER—Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. Annie L. Smith were held Friday afternoon at the Methodist church with Rev. Roy Goodell officiating.

Mrs. Albert Herring, organist, accompanied Mrs. Wendell Brackett who sang "I've Done My Work" and Richard and Robert Coultas who sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Pallbearers were Harry Montgomery, James Coultas, L. Allan Watt, Floyd Redshaw, Tom Coultas and Dr. A. E. Barrow.

Those caring for the flowers were Mrs. Clayton Stewart, Mrs. Floyd Redshaw, Mrs. J. Ralph Peak, Mrs. Elsie Thomas, Mrs. Loretta Glossop and Mrs. L. Allan Watt.

Burial was made in the Winchester City cemetery.

NOTICE

The Jacksonville City Treasurer's office will be closed Monday, October 12th, Columbus Day, legal holiday.

Health Improvement Groups Meet Here

Representatives of 11 county health improvement associations met for a district conference at the Dunlap hotel Wednesday. They heard several speakers and advanced plans for the coming year.

County health improvements were formed to enable farmers and residences of villages to participate in group hospitalization and medical plans, such as Blue Shield and Blue Cross. The district fosters wider health programs.

Delegates were present from Cass, Calhoun, Greene, Jersey, Logan, Macoupin, Menard, Morgan, Montgomery, Sangamon and Scott counties.

A few of the programs now being sponsored by the groups are: complete survey of health problems in cooperation with the University of Illinois Extension department and State of Illinois Health department, registered nurses' scholarships, promotion of Red Cross Blood Bank, county blood typing, county swim programs in cooperation with the American Red Cross, mental health clinics, schools for mentally and physically handicapped children, scholarships for students entering the various health educational fields and sponsorship of Chicago Blue Cross-Blue Shield programs throughout the state.

Mrs. Faye Wagner, District V director, said at the close of the meeting, "It is necessary to continue the promotion of needed health projects on a voluntary basis, in order to maintain the free choice of people in the future selections and progress in the health prevention and treatment fields."

Lower Price May Be Better Than Loan Figure

Some farmers may be money ahead by selling corn from the picker this fall even though the market price is several cents below the loan price, according to R. J. Mutti and Max R. Langham, University of Illinois agricultural economists.

Profits from storing corn for government loan depend on the difference between the loan price og $1.12, plus local adjustments, and the open market price at picking time. But costs may cut the loan price as much as 15 or 20 cents a bushel.

Studies show that moisture shrinkage losses in ear corn usually run from about 4 percent in southern Illinois to 10 percent in northern Illinois. An average 6 percent shrinkage loss means that there will be only 94 bushels of corn left next August for every 100 bushels stored this fall. This shrinkage costs about 7 cents for each bushel of corn sealed.

If corn is stored, interest costs until the loan money becomes available will be about 2 cents a bushel. Extra labor, transportation and handling add another 3 cents a bushel.

Economists estimate that taxes, insurance and insect and rodent losses, plus allowance for risk, cost another 5½ cents a bushel. Allowing a 1½ cent premium for corn delivered below 15.5 percent moisture next August, these costs will take 16 cents a bushel from the $1.12 loan price. This leaves an effective price of 96 cents a bushel for corn sealed.

Individual farmers may want to allow more or less than 16 cents for these variable costs. If storage space is not available, additional costs of providing new space must be added.

More than 700 census takers will be combing Illinois farms this fall for agricultural facts and figures. They will want to know about the number and sizes of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, farm expenditures, farm values and mortgage debt.

The 9th annual University of Illinois Sheep Day is scheduled for Friday, October 30. There will be something of interest in the program for all who are in the sheep business.

ANGUS CATTLE SCORE GAINS IN ILLINOIS

The biggest gains in the 76-year history of the American Angus Association were scored in the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30, according to Secretary Frank Richards. The national organization issued a record number of registration certificates, transfers, life memberships and junior memberships.

Angus expansion in Illinois was underscored when it was announced the state ranked third in the nation in all phases of activity. Illinois Angus breeders recorded 18,597 black calves, nearly 1,500 more than they did in 1958. Transfers in Illinois totaled 15,266, and 234 breeders of Angus in the state were issued life memberships during the fiscal year.

Early October is a good time to plant shrubbery and small trees.

Shipping fever in cattle resembles the common cold in people. The disease is so named because it occurs frequently in cattle, particularly calves, after weaning and movement or shipment into feedlots. Even when not subjected to the rigors of long shipping or hauling, calves often contract the disease after weaning. It's really quite a change for the animals to go from a wet teat to a dry lot. They exhaust themselves by bawling and fretting and thus lower their resistance to the disease. Also, weaning and shipping usually come at a time when the weather may change from balmy and warm to cold and wet. So, you see, an accumulation of things can contribute to shipping fever.

Cause Unknown

As in the common cold, the cause of shipping fever is unknown. Until the causative agent or agents are known, it is impossible to develop a vaccine against the disease. Research is searching for the cause and for treatments that will offer protection. And if research can put a man into space or hit the moon, it can find the cause of shipping fever. But until it does, farmers will pay in weight losses and in treatments for sick animals.

Use T.L.C.

Today you can use T.L.C. to help reduce the incidence and severity of shipping fever. You can move cattle easily to avoid crowding and exhaustion. You can give them a good ride from ranch to feedlot. When you get them home, you can place them in comfortable dry quarters, uncrowded both in sheds and at feeders. Dr. M. E. Mansfield, station veterinarian, suggests dividing calves into smaller groups to make observation easier. You can isolate sick calves. If it does nothing else, separating the sick calves will make the rest of the lot look better and will make individual treatment easier. You can use the very best quality roughage, and you can feed some grain that is kept fresh and appetizing.

If you put all of these things together, they add up to T.L.C., which Bob Webb, station superintendent, translates as Tender, Loving Care.

PLAN NUT TREE TOUR AT BLUFFS OCT. 21

The Extension Service of Brown and Scott counties are sponsoring a trip to the Royal Oakes farm at Bluffs where they will study nut trees, their propagation, care and production. It will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 21, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Everyone interested in nut trees is invited to attend. Mr. Oakes has a wide variety of walnut, hickory, pecan and hican trees now in production.

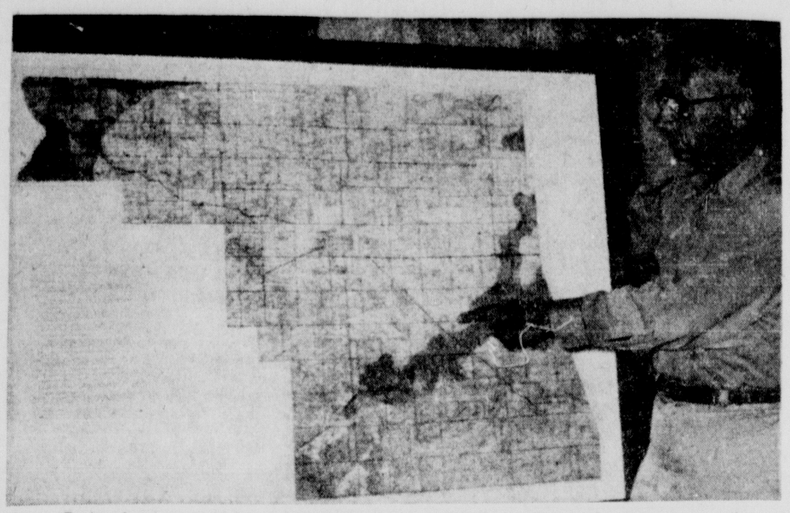
TO TAKE SOIL AND WATER INVENTORY



Federal, state and local farm agencies, aided by individuals, are now making a soil and water resources inventory of the entire United States, in compliance with an order by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson. It is to be completed by Jan. 1.

Ted Pierce, Soil Conservation Service farm planner, is the chairman of the local committee. He stands beside a new map of the county which shows the classes of soil and where they are to be found in Morgan county.

The map was prepared by Charles Downey, SCS soil scientist, of Hillsboro and delivered to the local SCS office last week. Areas suitable for cropland are shown in green, blue and brown colors; mixed crop, pasture and timber lands in orange, yellow and pink; marginal crop land in red; woodland and wildlife areas in orange-red; prairie-timber soils with special erosion hazards, uncolored.

Benson asked for a specific study of watersheds and river basins, soil and water resources and the problems in their use, and an estimate of the area needing treatment necessary to maintain and improve their service for all the people.

He requested the committee determine what use the land should be turned by 1975 "to benefit both private and public in providing adequate food, fibre, forest products, recreation and wildlife resources now and in the future."

Named to the local study group by the state committee were: Pierce; Edward J. Collins, Farm Home Administration, Carlinville; Wallace T. Hembrough, office manager, Morgan County ASC; Walden Lewis, Division of Forestry, Jerseyville; George A. Trull, Morgan county farm adviser, and R. Gloyd Leavell, chairman of the Morgan County Soil Conservation district.

Individuals aiding this committee include Wilbur Williams, Chapin; R. Clyde Cooper, Jacksonville, and Lester Martin, Alexander, of the county ASC committee; County Commissioner Hobart Rigg and R. T. Drake, county highway engineer.

The group expects to complete its work at a meeting to be held in the conference room of the Morgan County Service company on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Red Clover Seed Production Up

Red clover seed production in Illinois is forecast at 11,160,000 pounds, compared with 8,370,000 pounds a year ago and the 1948-57 average of 10,877,000 pounds. Harvested acres of red clover seed at 186,000 is the same as last year, but 15% below the average. Yield this year is indicated at 60 pounds, 15 pounds above a year ago and 10 pounds above average. Harvest of this year's crop, on the average, began Aug. 22, about a week earlier than last year.

Nationally the 1959 crop of seed is forecast at 78,462,000 pounds. This is 9% larger than last year and the largest crop in four years, but is 12% smaller than the 10-year average of 88,772,000 pounds.

The sweet clover weevil has been an important factor in the decline of sweet clover seed production. In 1959 the production of sweet clover seed is estimated to be about 45% below the 10-year average.

Alsike clover seed is expected to be down 26% below 1958 and 45% below the average.

White clover seed production is forecast to be about 10% larger than average.

Ladino clover seed is forecast at 18% larger than last year, but 20% below the average.

Adams Soybeans Take First In 1959 Tests

The Morgan county soybean variety plots have been harvested and yield results announced by Farm Adviser George Trull. The plots this year were on the C. D. Ransdell, Jr., farm, west of Franklin.

In comparing varieties, farmers should remember that these results are for only one year, at one location in the state, Trull said.

More than 30 counties participated in the soybean variety demonstrations on farms this year. Results of the yields of all the locations in the state will be announced by the University of Illinois Department of Agronomy as soon as all results are received.

Selection of a high yielding, adapted variety is the first step toward high profits with soybeans. Other factors to consider are time of maturity, lodging resistance, shattering resistance, ease of combining, and oil content, the farm adviser observed.

Yields of the 9 varieties were:

Variety	Bushels Per Acre
Adams	47.4
Harosoy	44.3
Harosoy and Hawkeye (mixture)	42.1
Ford	41.5
Shelby	41.3
Hawkeye	40.3
Clark	39.3
Lindarin	39.1
Lincoln	35.6

All of the varieties are adapted to central Illinois, except perhaps Lindarin, which is recommended primarily for north and north central Illinois.

All of the early varieties—Lindarin, Harosoy, and Hawkeye—stood well in the demonstration plots, but there was some lodging of all of the later varieties.

Watershed Project In Brown Dedication Set

The public is invited to attend the dedication of the Hambaugh-Martin watershed on Friday, Oct. 23. It will be held on the Ray Sides farm a quarter of a mile north of Route 99 on the La-Grange Locks road across the river from Meredosia.

U.S. Senator Paul H. Douglas will be the principal speaker on the afternoon program. Other speakers will include Mrs. Edna Simpson, Congresswoman from this district; Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman; Col. Schweizer of the U.S. Army Engineers Corps and Gladwin E. Young, Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D.C.

Tours of the watershed will be made during both morning and afternoon.

A large map has been prepared by the Illinois SCS to show the visitors the extent of the improvements made in the watershed. Structure No. 3 of the project is the first watershed structure completed in Illinois under Public Law No. 566.

A preliminary tour of the watershed was held in October, 1957, on the James Crawford farm along the bluff just south of Route 99. The project was approved by the federal government following strong support of the Brown County Soil Conservation District and the late Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton.

Harold Hoelscher is chairman of the Brown County Soil Conservation and Raymond Turner is president of the commissioners of McGee Creek Levee and Drainage District.

Dinner will be served that day by the Chambersburg Christian church and everyone is invited to attend.

The speaking program is expected to follow immediately after the serving of a chicken or fish dinner by the members of the Chambersburg Christian church. The dinner will cost $1.

Durce Hog Sale At Potter Farms

Thirty-four purebred Duroc boars and 35 gilts were purchased by buyers from six states at the highly successful annual fall sale held Saturday, Oct. 3, at the Potters Farms west of Jacksonville.

Buyers were present from Ohio, North Carolina, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana and all sections of Illinois.

Carman Potter and Sherman Vance of Carthage were the auctioneers. The clerks were George Thayer and George Wilson of Jacksonville.

Buyers from this area included Edward Hymes, R. G. Leavell, Oliver Cromwell and Gerald Heaton, Jacksonville; Truman Scott, Winchester; Howard Boyer, Franklin; W. R. Dean, Griggsville; W. B. Stephenson and John Pender, Pittsfield; Allan Anderson, Chapin; Ernest Ragan, Liberty; and Ronald McKaskill, Timewell.

FEED PRODUCTION RATE SLOWED DOWN

Everyone knows that this year's corn crop is a record-buster—by a big margin. But some other important facts about the corn and feed situation are largely overlooked.

The corn crop was estimated in September at 4,382 million bushels, 15 percent more than the previous record set a year ago. But the production of each of the other three feed grains—oats, barley, and sorghum grains—is less than it was last year.

While the production of corn shows an increase of 16 million tons over 1958, half of this amount is offset by the smaller crops of the other feed grains. The net increase in production therefore amounts to only eight million tons, which is the smallest increase since 1956.

In percentage terms, the increase in production of feed grains this year amounts to only 5 percent, compared with increases of 10 percent in each of the two previous years.

According to USDA estimates, about 12 million tons will be added to the feed grain carry-over next fall, or only a little more than the nine or ten million tons added to carryover stocks during each of the past two years.

The big cash corn area of central and eastern Illinois was hardhit by drouth this year. This drouth also extended over into the adjoining area of Indiana. Reduced acre yield in this drouth area will partly offset the increase in acreage planted and harvested.

This year's corn crop matured earlier than usual, particularly in the drouth areas of central and eastern Illinois. The low moisture content of the grain makes for easy storability, and this tends to support market prices.

The very early maturity of the crop may spread out the harvest season and thus avoid excessive pressure on market prices.

The big corn yields are in northern and western Illinois, in Iowa and other heavy livestock-producing areas. Corn produced in these livestock sections tends to be used up faster than corn produced in cash corn areas.

Production of corn and other feeds in the southeastern states is not excessive this year. This area will again require a large amount of corn from Illinois to feed its increasing numbers of livestock and poultry.

The general price support level is four cents a bushel higher for the 1959 crop than it was for the 1958 crop.

These facts lend support to the belief that prices for the 1959 Illinois crop will be at least as high as those for last year's crop.

Dark Side Of The Moon

Whether the new Soviet Lunik finally does everything it is supposed to do exactly according to plan is no longer the question. It has accomplished enough to add great new luster to Russia's reputation in the space field.

First Russia hit the moon and now it appears to have looped it with a stunning satellite flight that may bring the world its first knowledge of the moon's dark side.

It is one more demonstration of the Soviet Union's evident mastery of the problem of rocket power. Most scientists seem to credit that victory as crucial to the subsequent Russian successes with space vehicles.

Soviet rockets are believed capable of developing an initial thrust roughly twice as great as we can muster. Our rocket research officials declare frankly this puts us in second place in the space race for an uncertain time ahead.

To come abreast of Russia in rocket power we are relying on the Saturn rocket, which is actually a cluster of rocket engines designed to produce a thrust of 1,500,000 pounds — about twice Russia's believed present maximum.

Yet there is nothing in this prospect to give us early comfort.

For one thing, Saturn's future is tangled up in a budget and organization review of the whole U.S. space program.

For another, clustering rocket engines is a technique the Russians might employ as easily as we. We have no assurance that a successful Saturn would indeed find us catching them. The latest Lunik shows they do not rest on their laurels.

Nor do they rest content with solving but one problem. Their moon-hit and moon-loop shots suggest strongly they are conquering with amazing skill the intricate difficulties of rocket guidance, once our vaunted specialty and our offset to Russia's superior rocket thrust.

U.S. officials can with good sense assert that Russia's space achievements do not mean it is likewise ahead on intercontinental missiles. It is felt we are roughly equal in this vital defense field.

Yet we would have to be utterly foolhardy not to fear that the tremendous momentum the Russians have developed in space exploration will not make decisive impact in the field of weapons.

Our misfortune—and it could one day be tragedy—is that Soviet momentum was achieved from a start made in 1945. We waited almost 10 years before we awoke and began moving frantically to try to catch up.

We are still trying.

'Love Me, Love My Magoffin,' Humphrey Says; Twice-Told Tales From the Washington Beat

By JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Treasury Department Public Affairs Chief Nils Lennartson decided to send a prize Dalmatian puppy to his old boss, ex-Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey. Nils raises the pooches as a hobby.

While waiting for the pup to get big enough to ship safely by air express, Nils started calling him Magoffin. Humphrey's middle name. He used the name only when showing the dog to friends who visited the kennels.

The day before Nils air-expressed the pup, he pointed him out to a visitor and said, "That's Magoffin." He was both startled and distressed when the pup ran to him wagging his tail.

Nils wrote Humphrey and explained that without meaning any disrespect, he had dubbed the pup Magoffin, and that he had started answering to the name. Other day Humphrey called to thank Nils and reassure him that both he and the pooch consider Magoffin a fine name.

GOOD DEED of the week: A bum walked up to a running water fountain in Lafayette Park, just across the street from the White House, and found a sparrow perched there getting a drink. Instead of shooing the bird away, he waited for it to finish. He waited a full two minutes. When the bird finally took off the bum muttered: "Glutton!"

HERE'S THE week's craziest yarn as told by Sen. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.):

One night a man walked into a bar with a boxer dog and a beagle hound. To the bartender's bewilderment the two pooches hopped up on stools. Their master said, "Give each of my two friends a martini and me a Scotch and soda."

The puzzled bartender filled the order and watched in amazement as his two canine customers guzzled their drinks. When the dogs finished, they jumped to the floor and trotted outside followed by their master. This routine went on every night for the next week.

Then one evening, the two dogs came in alone. The bartender served each a martini as usual, and made a mental note to collect from their owner the next time he saw him.

That turned out to be the following evening. "I gave your two hounds their booze last night," the bartender said, "and you owe me a buck."

"I heard about that," the man said, "and although I can't pay you now, I want you to have this instead." He reached into his coat pocket and pulled out a live lobster.

"This is wonderful," the bartender exclaimed. "I'll take it home tonight for dinner."

"No, just take it to the theater," the man replied. "It has already eaten."

He had been warned by Indians up the river that he was trespassing the forbidden territory of the "women warriors" and Orellano reported that the women fought beside the men. Many people believe that this river — the Amazon—derived its name from these fighting women.

Child Has Grown Up When Parents Take Role of Friends

How does a parent let his child know that he realizes the child is finally grown-up? He does it in many little ways, all of them important in establishing a new relationship of equality.

The parent doesn't offer the grown son or daughter advice unless it is asked for. And then it is given in a "take it for what it is worth" manner instead of with the old, parental "do it because I say it is right" attitude.

The parent stops criticizing and trying to improve the child, knowing that the time for molding of character or personality is past.

The parent treats his son's or daughter's ideas with respect, instead of dismissing them as nonsense if he doesn't happen to agree. He may say, "I don't agree," but he doesn't try to force his ideas on the son or daughter.

The parent no longer has to pretend to be all-knowing. He can begin to relax and admit he is as prone to error as the next person.

The parent gives up trying to influence his child by showing displeasure.

The parent doesn't criticize his son's or daughter's choice of friends. He may be more enthusiastic about some than about others, but he keeps his criticisms to himself.

The parent doesn't try to make life easier for the grown child by taking on his responsibilities, financial or otherwise. He stands ready to help, if he can, in a crisis, but he doesn't feel the child who is grown and on his own has to have his constant help.

The parent, in short, stops acting like a parent and begins to behave like a friend.

The World Today

By WILLIAM RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Little or big, cold wars are all alike.

To be an able cold war statesman, a man has to learn how to look reasonable without budging an inch.

What he says to his adversary, in effect, is: "I propose to give in to one or the other of your more reasonable demands. In return I ask that you do something I already know is impossible for you. All this will get us nowhere, in reality, but it provides something to talk about, and while we're talking, at least we're not fighting."

In the Middle East's own cold war, Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic has demonstated the application of this basic cold war rule once again. It is not peculiar to him. It's common to all cold war participants.

That master of cold war politics, Nikita S. Khrushchev, applies the rule over and over again in the big East-West contest.

In Cairo, Nasser shows himself to be an astute student of modern cold war tactics. In an interview with Wilton Wynn of The Associated Press, Nasser expressed willingness to let a United Nations commission carry out a Security Council resolution providing for freedom of shipping for all the Suez Canal, including Israel.

This sounds attractive. Israel has been trying to force this issue to a showdown. But what is the price?

Israel, says Nasser, must accept internationalization of Jerusalem and the 1947 U.N. plan for partitioning Palestine.

The Arabs went to war in 1948 rather than submit to that program. They lost. Israel occupied territory which otherwise might have been Arab. She also took half of Jerusalem, ancient citadel of Zion, and set up a capital there. Obviously, Israel will not surrender voluntarily on either of these issues.

Neither Israel nor Nasser, who still must be considered the main voice of the Arabs, seems to make much of an attempt to get down to reality in talking about how their 11-year-old state of war might be ended.

But Nasser has put a finger on one thing which might help prepare the way. In his package proposal, he asked that Israel concede the right of Palestine refugees from Israeli territory to choose whether they will return to their former homes or accept payment for their losses.

If Nasser had confined his proposal to swapping the Suez concession for the Arab refugee concession, it would have a chance of getting somewhere. Tied in with the other demands, the proposal remains just talk.

It's possible something could be accomplished if the refugee question could be settled. Few of the million refugees, it is certain, would choose to return to their old homes under Israeli rule. But for the sake of their dignity, they want to have the choice between that and compensation. The payment would be costly, but far less so than a new war, or even the never-ending threat of such a war in the Middle East. The refugee question is the key problem in the search for stability.

The idea of such a swap is sound and logical. Only Nasser, among the leaders of the Arabs, is strong enough to be able to afford logic in that ever-perturbed slice of the world.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To many an American, One Man's Family was like his own. That's why the disappearance of the long-time radio-TV serial has caused a void in so many lives.

The saga of the Barbours dropped out of broadcasting last spring after 28 years on the air. Creator Carleton E. Morse estimates that between 25,000 and 30,000 letters of protest poured into NBC. He is still receiving 100 letters a week.

"But NBC moved into a new policy of radio programing," the veteran producer remarked. "Our show didn't fit into it, so we were dropped.

"There still is considerable interest to revive One Man's Family. There has been talk of going onto the new worldwide network. Something may eventuate. If it does—fine. But I'm not going after it."

Morse has suffered two serious illnesses and has been limiting his activities. He spends a great deal of his time at his farm on the peninsula south of San Francisco. But he is also here part of the year and keeps in touch with those who were members of his professional family for many years.

"J. Anthony Smyth, who played Father Barbour from the beginning, is near 80, but he still asks me if the show is going back on the air," Morse said.

Of the others, Page Gilman, who started as Jack at 14 and continued through the history of the show, is a printer living in Ojai. Bornice Berwin, who was Hazel, is married to a San Francisco attorney.

Russell Thorson (Paul) and Virginia Gregg (Betty) are active in television, as are most of the other cast alumni. At least two of the TV cast have prospered since their One Man's Family days — Eva Marie Saint, who played Claudia, and Tony Randall, who was one of her suitors.

Oldsters Appreciate Visit Rather Than Monetary Gift

BY MARIE DAERR

Retired people would rather have affection, personal visits and letters from their children than material help from them, two Cornell University professors discovered in a survey they made.

There still is no medicine for loneliness and rejection, Dr. Frederick C. Swartz of Lansing, Mich., told the Senate Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging.

"It is a plain fact that people who feel rejected, shunted to the sidelines by society, all too often lose the will to live," Dr. Swartz told the committee headed by Sen. Pat McNamara.

And in Geneva, Switzerland, the World Health Organization urges communities to make a big effort to provide more human contact for old people who have no family or friends living near them.

How can you and I help old people slay the dragon of loneliness? If we have aging parents or other relatives, our opportunities are endless.

No check or expensive gift is as good "medicine" as a personal appearance.

"I know my son is busy," an older woman said to me, apologetically. "I know he doesn't have time to drop in here."

The son, a prosperous executive, paid his mother's rent in a beautiful apartment. ("She can have anything she wants," he once told me.) But, except for holidays, the time was rarely right for a visit with her.

If we have no relatives in the older age group, we needn't look far to find the older person living alone who, according to the World Health Organization, is desperately in need of human contact.

It doesn't take a lot of effort to drive widowed Mrs. G. to the art museum, to a public garden or park, to the downtown shops. It takes even less to drop in on her for a game of cards, or a chat.

The old-age assistance officials in my city have discovered the value of such efforts. They have developed a "friendly visitors" program.

Through it, volunteers call on these older people whose only income is from the state. Often, they bring them a little treat or take them out for a few hours.

One 90-year-old has a "pet" trip to an amusement park where the popcorn balls are especially good!

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

The Realism of the Bible

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I wonder whether anyone has ever commented on the fact, the very remarkable fact, that the Bible, the best of all books, the supreme guide to life at its best, and to eternal life—comprises within its covers the records, often extensive, of every sort of evil, violence, and crime.

Consider the realism and almost incredible honesty of Bible writers in depicting and recording the life of their times. For, over against the records of evil are depicted beauties of character, and glories of the aspiration and achievements of saints and prophets, whose zeal for righteous and whose passion for brotherhood and peace might well be regarded as the noblest things in history.

In this strange contrast much concerns many (there were Jezebels and Salomes), whose characters and purposes were unabashedly evil.

It is all set forth by true prophets, who suffered even martyrdom, for the unpopularity of denouncing the social wrongs and evils of their timse.

There are the stories of the ambition and lust for power of those who set no limit to horrors of violence in attaining their end. For example: Most sordid and brutal of all assassinations was the killing of Amasa, a captain of King David, by Joab, another captain of King David (II Samuel. Joab saluting him as a brother, holding him by the beard and kissing him, as he slyly stabbed him to death.

The realism of the Bible in depicting acts of sin and evil for what they were, and in sparing nothing in its records of war and violence, has its most amazing aspect in the way in which lapses from rectitude, or downright wrong, on the part of those who might be thought of as national heroes are recorded.

The adultery of David and his virtual murder of Bathsheba's husband are recorded as realistically as the stories of the shepherd boy-giant killer, and the gentler harpist and psalm singer.

And the depicted glory of Solomon, with its climax in the beautiful prayer at the dedication of the Temple, has its shameful counterpart in the revelation of Solomon as an oppressor of his people, actually responsible for the civil war and disruption that rent the kingdom immediately following his death.

But the greatest realism of all is that in this Book, above the evil, perfidy, and violence, the tragedy of individuals, and the downfall of kings and kingdoms, there is no question concerning the primacy of the Bible's purpose and message.

It is pre-eminently the book of goodness, righteousness, truth and salvation. It is the Book of human life, and for life at its best and for eternal life.

In all its amazing aspects of realism and variety, it has the great aspect that it is the Book of Life, man's supreme guidebook to time and eternity.

It is the source of the greatest lessons, as it is the inspirer of surest and truest goals of humanity.

Corn and Tuna Fish Team Up in a Delightful Souffle

By GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For a luncheon or dinner, canned tuna combined with corn, or served with rice and a chili sauce, can provide a delicious one-dish meal.

Corn and Tuna Souffle
(Yield: 4-6 servings)

Three eggs, 1 can (1 pound) cream-style corn, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon Tabasco, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, 1 cup buttered bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese.

Beat eggs; stir in corn, milk and Tabasco. Add salt, dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice; mix well. Stir in tuna. Turn into a 10x6x2-inch casserole. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

Chili Tuna With Rice
(Yield: 4 servings)

Two cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, ¼ cup chopped onion, ½ cup diced green pepper, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup chili sauce, 3 cups hot cooked rice.

Drain oil from tuna; measure 3 tablespoons tuna oil into saucepan. Add onion and green pepper and cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add flour, salt and mustard; stir to a smooth paste. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Stir in chili sauce and tuna; heat. Turn rice on serving platter; spoon tuna mixture in center.

MONDAY'S DINNER: Chili tuna with rice, buttered broccoli, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, orange layer cake, coffee, tea, milk.

THE QUICK WAY DOWN

What appears to be the "lynch mob" of Washington School is just one of several demonstrations being given by Jacksonville firemen during fire prevention week.

Fireman Ronnie Campbell demonstrates the "Davy Automatic Fire Escape" for the students of Washington elementary school Friday morning. As an accent to fire prevention week, Jacksonville firemen demonstrated the big ladder truck to schools throughout the city.

The escape device can be used on windows, buildings or as a quick way down from the top of the ladder.

Jersey Co. Man Falls 20 Feet From Corn Crib

JERSEYVILLE— Valentine Kallal, was admitted as a patient at the Jersey community Hospital Wednesday morning following an accident at his farm home. He fell a distance of twenty feet from a corn crib, and suffered a laceration of the middle finger of the left hand requiring sutures, and had abrasions of the little finger. He was admitted to the hospital for further examination and treatment.

Ricki Huett, aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Huett of Jerseyville, was victim of an accident which occurred at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday at the corner of Adams and Curtiss Streets. He was riding his bicycle which was hit by a car driven by Kenneth Blaeser. He was given emergency treatment at the hospital for abrasion of the right side of the face, right arm and both knees. The patient was dismissed following treatment.

Jeffrey Smith, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith of Jerseyville slipped and fell from a Pogo Stick in the basement of his home Sunday morning and incurred a head injury. He was treated at the Jersey Community Hospital and released.

Mark Vanausdoll aged 14 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vanausdoll of Kane, fell at the VFW Home Sunday afternoon while playing with other children at a family party, and sustained an injury to his right leg and ankle. He was treated at the Jersey Community Hospital and released.

Farmers Want Clear, Crisp October Days

The farmers of this area enjoyed Friday's weather. All they want for the next month is some more of the same.

Friday came in as an October day should, with a light skiff of frost. Heavier frosts would be welcomed, as all commercial crops have been past frost danger for three weeks or more.

Although the moisture that came during the past two weeks was needed and will come in mighty handy for the next growing season, the intermittent rains and cloudy weather—mixed with winds of varying strength — damaged corn and soybeans to a certain extent and has greatly curtailed harvesting of crops ready for the bin.

Since Sept. 2 some farmers got in two days in the field, some one and some none.

The winds tangled the corn, but the damage done varied greatly in Morgan county. In some cases many stalks were blown down and many ears fell from the stalks. In other cases the stalks were just twisted around, which will make picking more tedious and wasteful.

The damp weather has caused some early corn to begin sprouting in the husks. A good freeze would halt this trouble. Soybeans, in all sections, were damaged some. Low hanging pods are showing some signs of "ground damage" and there also will be some loss when the pods dry out and pop open. Experienced observers believe the Hawkeye variety will be more affected than others.

U.I. PLANS THREE DAY FARM SHOW

URBANA — "Progress for Better Living" will be the central theme for the 1960 University of Illinois Farm and Home Festival, Dean Louis B. Howard of the College of Agriculture announced this week. The dates will be March 31 and April 1 and 2.

Following this central theme, the festival will portray how science and education have led to better farming and better living for people in Illinois and throughout the world.

The Farm and Home Festivals held during the past two years have attracted an estimated 15,000 people each year. They have replaced Farm and Home Week, formerly held in late January or early February.

Nortonville Club To Plant Trees Around Park

NORTONVILLE — The Norton-Community Club met at the hall on Oct. 2 with Mrs. Fletcher Seymour and Mrs. Curtis Blair as hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Lowell Wells. The group joined in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" followed by the pledge to the flag.

The club motto was repeated in unison. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved followed by the treasurer's report.

During the business session the club voted to sponsor a tree planting project in Nortonville park. The committee appointed was Mrs. Herbert Clayton Mrs. Hugh Burnett and Mrs. Harley Mayberry.

The members also voted to repair the Service Men and Women's Honor Roll in the park. The committee to work on this is Mrs. Edwin Clayton, Mrs. Claude Bolton and Mrs. Frank Vedder.

These projects will be entered in the Community Achievement contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Robert Whitlock introduced John Burnham, from Massachusetts, who spoke on "Mental Health." Mrs. Edwin Clayton played several numbers on the piano and accompanied Mrs. Fletcher Seymour as she sang "Indian Love Call."

Roll call was answered by giving items for the state hospital. The social hour was conducted by Mrs. Lionel Seymour and Mrs. Everett Starner. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lowell Wells and Mrs. Lloyd Sorrells.

The next meeting is Oct. 16 with Mrs. Frank Vedder as hostess.

Veterinarians Seek Shipping Fever Cause

URBANA — Shipping fever research swings into high gear at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine as large numbers of feeder cattle start coming into Illinois.

Each fall for the past two years, researchers under the direction of Dr. A. B. Hoerlein have been working on this disease complex. These workers are now carefully evaluating a virus, called "para influenza 3," which was shown by previous work to cause an infection in calves during the first few weeks in the feedlot.

Although this viral infection has been found in all groups of calves studied, Dr. Hoerlein says further research is necessary to establish a direct cause-and-effect relationship between this virus and shipping fever.

Once such a relationship can be demonstrated, research workers will be able to work on measures to control and prevent this disease.

This fall over 2,500 feeder cattle will be studied. The broad scope of this project is possible only through the cooperation of farmers, livestock associations and veterinarians throughout Illinois, according to Dr. Hoerlein.

Morgan Farmer To Help Meat Promotion

James Swain of the Sinclair neighborhood will represent Morgan county in the meat promotion campaign sponsored in Chicago Tuesday by the Illinois Agricultural association. At that time Swain will join 98 other Illinois farmers and 18 rural housewives to visit those who sell or serve meat.

They will talk with processors, wholesalers, hotels, chain and independent grocers and restaurants to tell them that meat is in abundant supply and inexpensive. They will be able to point out that the price of prime butcher hogs are now at the same level they were in 1941 and should be a good buy for the housewife.

This promotion is financed by the farmers themselves, through voluntary contributions. Last May the Women's committee of the Morgan County Farm Bureau raised slightly more than a thousand dollars for the purpose of promoting meat.

The Chicago visitors will also encourage the "Meat for Christmas" campaign. The slogan is "Give Meat for Christmas—Always in Good Taste."

Swain is a Farm Bureau director and chairman of the marketing committee.

Maiden name of Mother Eddy founder of Christian Science, was Mary Ann Morse Baker.

'WONDER OF WATER' BOOKLETS TO PUPILS

The story of water conservation, in comic book format, will be distributed to all grade schools in Morgan county this month by the directors of the Morgan County Soil Conservation district.

The book of 16 pages of colored drawings showing the importance of conserving water and how it can be done is a part of the education program of the local district. Five hundred copies will be distributed.

Similar books on slightly different themes have been provided by the district in previous years and teachers report they stimulate interest in the subject.

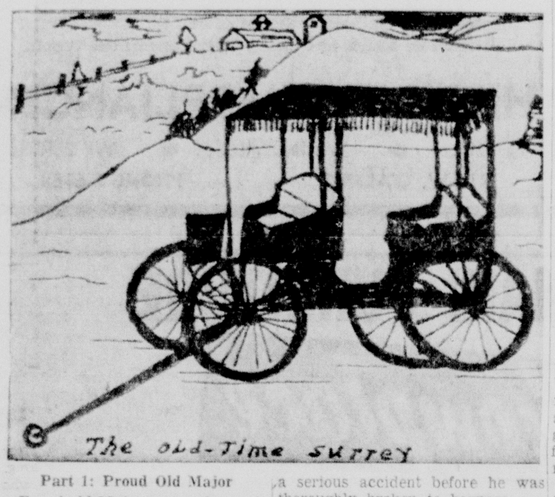
The Thoroughbred

By Mary Pence Claywell



Part 1: Proud Old Major

Proud old Major was a thoroughbred and he seemed to know it, though he had no written pedigree.

The big, white horse, beautiful to behold, belonged to a poor farmer. But it had come about in an unusual way and it hadn't cramped Major's style one bit.

In the first place, he was owned by a very wealthy, land-holder, but was used mostly as a carriage horse by the ladies in the family. They were as proud of Major as he was of himself when he was drawing the fringed surrey. Yet Major was also a good and willing work-horse whenever his master chose to use him as such.

However, when he became the pride of the poor man's family, he was used as an all-around horse, at home, in the fields or hitched to the wagon which was their only means of travel. But Major was not a buggy horse and, to the best of their knowledge, he was never driven single to either a plow or carriage.

Run-Away Accident

This is the way the thoroughbred horse became the poor man's pride.

In his fiery youth, Major had a serious accident before he was thoroughly broken to harness.

Te became frightened and ran away and ended up entangled in a barbed wire fence!

He received a very bad cut on one of his beautiful, fat, white hips. My, how the blood stained his satin coat as it ran down his hind leg and trickled down upon the ground!

His noctrils dilated and contracted rapidly, revealing both pain and fright as his master cut the tangled wires to free him. But he did not move knowing, in his animal way, that he was being freed from the cruel barbs.

Beauty Marred

The ugly wound soon healed, but it left a jagged scar on his once perfect body. So Major was sold to the poor farmer for a very reasonable price, and the man worked out the sum in the wealthy farmer's fields.

But, just the same, Major was still young and beautiful and the scar, in time, was scarcely noticeable at all. At least, it wasn't to Farmer Brown and his family, or to any of the others in their neighborhood for that matter.

Let's Go Birding

Winter Wishes
By Emma Mae Leonhard

During the long hot dry spell in August and September, the birds—even those that sing continually, whether it is hot or cold, rainy or sunny — were unusually silent. Several of our birding friends remarked about the lack of bird song.

Why weren't the Robins singing? Where were the Cardinals? What has happened to the Song Sparrows?

Birds are generally quieter in the late summer and early fall than during the spring, but they do call at times. However, there is one bird that is never baffled by the heat or the cold—the Carolina Wren.

Since there are not very many Carolina Wrens in the same territory and since they prefer tangles and underbrush or deep woods and parks, perhaps many of you readers haven't been aware of this cinnamon-brown wren with the white stripe over the eye. It stays with us the year round and can be seen in Jacksonville.

On the hottest days of late August it was cutting the Jacksonville heat waves with its burst of "chirpity, chirpity, chirpity, chirp." Perhaps you heard it say "Tea-kettle, tea-kettle, tea-kettle." No matter what it said to you, if you heard a loud, clear strong bird song—and no other song—you probably heard the Carolina Wren's song.

Even Sing In Winter

If you didn't hear it, don't despair. There will be many other opportunities to enjoy its hearty chirruping. Even on our coldest winter days, when birds are few and those few are silently busy feeding among weeds and brush, our Carolina Wren will again split the air with a burst of song.

It may be a clear chanting whistle, as Roger Troy Peterson describes it, or it may ring out a "willikie, willikie, willihie," or any variations of the songs which we have tried to describe. There will be no chorus of song, just one bird will be singing. This enthusiastic song will be enough, as it echoes from the hard-frozen creek or the snow-covered tangles, to awaken life in the cold silent air.

How can such a small bird, although it is larger than our House Wren, survive our cold-locked winters? Its wary eye ferrets out a sufficient winter from the tangles, logs, ledges overhanging frozen streams, or any available nook.

If you happen to maintain a bird-feeding station and keep tiny nut-meats there, you may have a Carolina Wren caller. It also likes peanut butter in the crevices of pine cones. It's fun to watch the wren snoop around the cone, get a bite of peanut butter, and then have to wipe its messy bill on any hard object.

This Carolina Wrens' song, so vivacious and hardy, can well inspire us with courage and cheerfulness to meet our own wintry problems. We hope that you will see and hear your Carolina Wren soon.

Golden Years

By Mabel Hall Goltra

She rounded out a century
Without the slightest trouble.
And I dare say she writes some rhymes
That make some folks bend double.

She makes the longest flight of stairs,
Then hears the radio:
She has so many features on
How fast they come and go.

She loves to go in lilac time
Where very many grow.
And there inhale the sweet perfume
They willingly bestow.

Those purple ones with heavy bloom;
The double white ones, too
That's when the world seems young and fair
With skies of heavenly blue.

And when October comes around
With all her bright blue weather,
She puts a feather in her hat,
And old friends get together.

Antennas And Tuners

It won't be long now before you should be taking that General License-Exam or Conditional Exam, for we are truly coming into the home stretch.

The best receiver or transmitter is little better than a small one UNLESS a good antenna is used at the station. You will find two such excellent antennas illustrated and discussed on pages 77 and 78 of "How To Become A Radio Amateur." So you would be wise to re-read this quickly.

Obviously the simplest and almost fool-proof half-wave all-band antenna is an end fed Hertz single wire around 125' long. By using a simple parallel tank (a 250uufd variable and the appropriate plugin or band-switching coil) the single wire may be loaded on 80, 40, 20, & 10 meters (See page 338 in 1956 A.R.R.L. Handbook.)

However for the best single band operation (on 80 or 40 meters, that is) the half-wave dipole center-fed with 75 ohm twinlead or RG-59-U coax feedline is still hard to beat, effective, and relatively inexpensive too!

The 40 meter dipole (66' long flat-top) will also load up on 15 meters as well. Viola, a two band antenna!

Want All-Band Antenna?

If you want an ALL-BAND antenna some say that the off-center-fed Windom antenna is a fine one (see page 343 of 1956 Handbook). Caution! Watch the strength of your second harmonic when using the harmonic radiating antenna; if, as when you are operating on 75 meter phone, it falls outside a harmonically related amateur band, you must take special pains to keep the rig's second harmonic well within the legal F.C.C. limits of strength or else! No such difficulties will usually be experienced with a one band center-fed dipole.

With twin-lead or coax feeders you do not have to use a tuner. The length of feedline may have to be adjusted a bit for best loading, however.

Many modern transmitters use PIE-TYPE tuners to match the rig's output Impedance to a wide range of load Impedances. The old reliable half-wave center-fed dipole fed with 600 ohm open wire (6 inch spaced) can be tuned to load on harmonically related amateur bands. Examples of suitable wide range antenna tuners may be seen in chapter 13— "Transmission Lines" in the Handbook.

For antenna change-over either a S.P.D.T. relay or a T.R. (transmit-receive) electronic switch may be used; a bandswitching T.R. switch could be made of the original series tuning circuit that appeared in C Q amateur Radio Magazine some time ago simply by using a S.P.S.T. rotary shortening switch, and a home tapped miniductor coil.

The ¼ watt NE-16 neon bulb (bypassing the center of the series tuned circuit to ground) and the 6.3 volt (250 Ma's) dial light is still used as before. Naturally, when you change bands you would have to switch the coil and retune the series 50 uufd variable capacitor. This is referring to the W2UNJ circuit.

Study

Theory study this week should consist of a thorough study of at least the first four pages of general antenna theory (Chapter 14—antennas) and the first 8 pages of chapter 13—transmission lines—again the general theory.

Code practice should continue daily as done in the past.

Exam questions to be studied should include 38, 44, 45, 95, 97, 98, 183, plus a review of others only briefly studied in the past.

Story Of Rubber

By Jerry Lawless

Work on Synthetics

The Germans' effort was the forerunner of a train of developments in production of synthetic rubbers from synthetic hydrocarbons. To this day the rubbers in greatest production are made with such substances.

From the beginning, the aim of chemists working with the hydrocarbons was to synthesize the hydrocarbon chain of natural rubber. Not only was the structure of the chain unknown, but there were no methods of distinguishing its structure from that of other rubber-like polymers. The efforts to make the rubber hydrocarbon chain began with isoprene as the building block.

A leader in this work was the firm of Strange and Graham in London which tried to produce isoprene itself from an isomer by the use of sodium as a catalyst. Instead of isoprene, he obtained another isomer—an acetylene.

F. E. Matthews, working in the same lab and at the same time, was trying to reverse the process—to convert isoprene into an isomer of it. He discovered that sodium could catalyze the synthesis of an elastic polymer (rubber from isoprene), and obtained a solid mass of amber-colored rubber.

Manufacturing companies had little interest at that time, however, in the synthesis of rubber-like products because they were inferior to natural rubber and much more expensive.

In the last few years, however, such companies as B. F. Goodrich, Gulf Oil Corporation and the Firestone Tire and Rubber Companies have been successful in duplicating the natural rubber hydrocarbon. They have made synthetically a wide variety of rubbers and have given them such names as Ameripoe S-N, Coral, Buna 85 and S, Butyl rubbers, the carboxylic type, and a rubber developed from the plastic, polyethylene.

AN ACTOR RETIRE — WHEN?

NEW YORK (AP)—An actor and an actress usually find they can never retire, although they sometimes think of it when they appear in a play which is not to their audience's liking. Give them a fresh script next day, and they are all enthusiasm again.

This was aptly expressed by Theater Guild star Alfred Lunt when he and his wife, Lynn Fontanne, were recently co-starring in one of their scores of hits.

He told the late Clarence Derwent, president of Actor's Equity, "The day that Lynn and I cease to find fun in the theater, that day we will retire."

DAUGHTER, LIKE FATHER

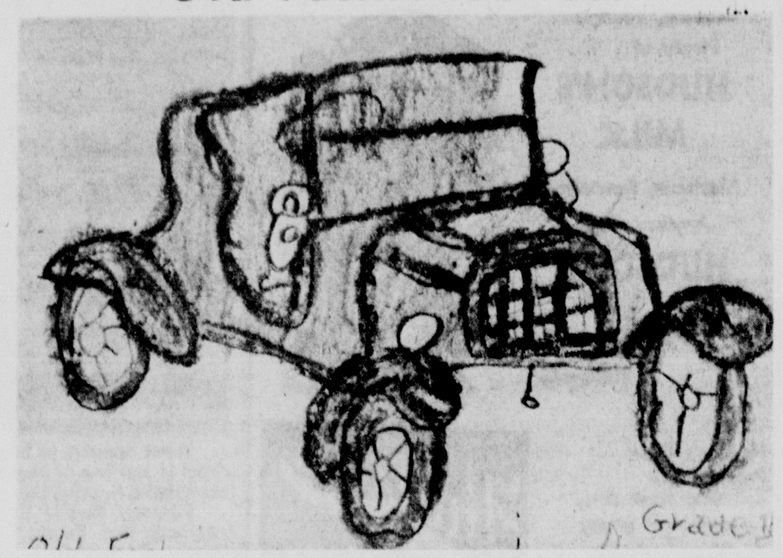
NEW YORK (AP)—Cornelia Otis Skinner, star of the current Broadway comedy, "The Pleasure of His Company," is following in the footsteps of her father. He was Otis Skinner, who was acclaimed for his performance in "The Honor of the Family" in 1908, and revived it with equal success in 1919. His most famed performance, however, was later in the role of Hajj in "Kismet."

A VACATION DOESN'T HURT

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Marriage-Go-Round," a sell-out before it took a summer vacation, has returned to the same thing.

It was an expensive vacation, however, for the two stars, Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer. Miss Colbert went to Paris and bought a new line of dresses from designer Lanvin. And Boyer ambled off to Italy and France for a sunshine holiday.

Old Fashioned Car



Jay Abbott, 1639 Lakeview, grade 2 South Jacksonville, calls this interesting drawing "Old Fashioned Car." If you visit the "Museum of Science and Industry" in Chicago you will see cars like this and other strange and interesting things.

More drawings next Sunday so keep watching for yours and for those of your friends.

BIRTHDAY PARADE

Corby Jay Taylor

When you hear the phone ring, boys and girls, it will signal the beginning of today's Birthday Parade. Corby Jay Taylor, the happy phoner, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor of Arenzville.

Corby was 2 years old October 4.

Marlene Kuppe

Marlene Kuppe marches next wearing the pretty plaid dress in which she started school this year.

Marlene was 10 years old October 4 and her many friends helped her celebrate the big day at a lovely Birthday Party.

Debora Lin Martin

The bright-eyed young lady, Debora Lin Martin riding by next is making her first appearance in the Birthday Parade since she was just one year old October 8.

Debora Lin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Martin of Chapin.

Tommy and Mary Lacey

Mary Lacey, looking very festive in her frilly frock and bonnet and accompanied by her brother Tommy, is our next marcher.

Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lacey of 1500 S. Church, had two candles to blow out on her Birthday cake October 9. Brother Tommy was three years old June 30.

Richard Booth's Party

CARROLLTON — Richard Booth, who celebrated his eighth birthday Saturday, was guest of honor at a party from 2 to 4 given by his mother, Mrs. Lawrence Booth, at the Booth home.

Guests were Mike Johnson, Donnie Flowers, Lon Ballard, Ronnie Flowers, Luke Glover, Ronnie Albrecht, John Lake, Andy Daum, Tom Beiermann, Joe Grimmel, David Schmidt, John Neubauer, Joe Claflin, Richard Cordes, Doug Geers, Eugene Frank, David Schnelten, Eugene Sethaler, Bob Carmody, Chris Bertman, John Gehlhausen, Charles Carter and Kenneth Rawe.

ANSWER:

TAKE AWAY (to hide) equals N. This gives us HIN-DUSTAN

SHARP minus SPAR equals H; BAIT minus BAT equals I; CRANK minus RACK equals N; BOARD minus BOAR equals B; DUNE minus DEN equals U; WASH minus HAN equals S; PAINT minus PAIN equals T; NAME minus MEN equals A; PLAN minus PAL equals N. This gives us HINDUSTAN

Mrs. Booth was assisted in entertaining by Margie Booth and Karen Booth, sisters of the honoree.

Richard Booth was again honored Sunday when he with his uncle Eldred Thomas were guests at a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Booth and family were also present.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to every one of our Birthday Marchers from all the Junior Page readers and your editor!

Your Birthday

To march in the Birthday Parade just send your name, address, age and birthdate—with a snapshot if you have one—to the Jacksonville Junior Journal Courier 2 weeks before your Birthday. Photos may be called for as soon as they have been printed.

If you have a party, write and tell us about that later.

What Do You Think?

By Jerry Lawless

What Does Truth Mean?

The dictionary defines truth as, "Agreement with reality; the eternal principle or right or the natural law of order, fidelity, and the constancy; agreement with a standard rule; accuracy."

From the above, we can see that truth is necessarily concerned with each and every individual because each person must constantly face reality in this world.

If we can stay in harmony with reality, and in turn, with truth, we will have conquered one of the most serious and complex mental problems. For indeed this harmony serves to tie up the loose ends of personal, national, and global discontentments, and forms the perfect basis for the good and moral life.

Small Things Important

Veracity isn't concerned altogether with the most important things in life, but also affects the minutest things, because it is upon the smaller things that we build the larger and more important things just as the myrads of seemingly and impossibly intricate machines are merely combinations of the six basic, simple machines.

Truth is sincerity. This involves getting rid of irrational and unreal beliefs which distort our thinking and the inclusion of candor, which will allow us to discover truths. This will reveal a basis for future injuries into truth.

Truths are constants. Once a person has found what he believes are truths about certain things, he will understand that they will be forever with him, or at least until he finds new evidence which might encourage him to reconsider those particular truths and to maybe change some of them. These truths will make him feel secure, because they will provide something for him to grasp onto.

In view of this, I can't help remembering out philosophy class motto: "Truth is like a torch: the more you shake it, the more brightly it burns." This is true, because a person's truths, if they are contested in the individual's mind and if they are continually found to be genuine, tend to stand out more and more and to direct his life to an increasingly greater extent.

In conclusion, I believe that the main parts of truth are integrity, rectitude, uprightness, respectability, honor, candor, sincerity, punctillousness, constantness, pureness, fidelity, guilelessness, unfeinedness. It is something upon which man can have a monopoly.

As was once said, "Know the truth and it shall make ye free."

What does truth mean to you?

Several Hundred Attend Tea For Teachers

The third annual Teachers' Tea, sponsored by the Women's Division, Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, was held Sunday, Oct. 4, in the Illinois Room at Hotel Dunlap. Several hundred were received between the hours of three to five in the afternoon.

The picture at the right shows Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Kirchhoefer talking with Mrs. Roy Watt and Miss Grace Fitch. Mrs. Kirchhoefer teaches at Jonathan Turner, Mrs. Watt at Franklin Elementary school where Miss Fitch is principal.

At the right Mrs. Chandler serves Mrs. Alvahlee S. McCarthy, faculty member at Jefferson school. The picture at far right shows Mrs. Isabel Weller (left) talking to a friend out of range of the camera. Mrs. Weller is a visiting teacher in District 117.

All teachers in District 117, parochial and Institutional Schools in the city were invited. Invitations were also sent to officers and board members of the Chamber of Commerce and their wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest May provided recorded music during the receiving hours. Service included assorted finger sandwiches, relishes, salted nutmeats and dinner mints, with tea or coffee.

Pink tapers in silver candelabra flanked a center floral piece of pink and white glads with greenry.

Local Churches Unite For Annual UNICEF 'Trick Or Treat'

"Help our children help all the world's children," by making your "treat" this Halloween a gift this month to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund. The date locally for trick or treating for UNICEF is Sunday, Oct. 25, the time 3:45 to 6 p.m.

Again this year churches of Jacksonville (Protestant and Parochial) are cooperating with UNICEF to fight disease and malnutrition among the world's children in more than 100 countries.

Our children will be knocking on doors, asking for donations to UNICEF. Each dime dropped into the containers will, for example, provide a needy child with 50 glasses of milk. UNICEF also equips milk processing plants and helps governments develop more nutritious local foods for their children.

Medical Aid

Through UNICEF equipped child welfare centers, midwives are taught the proper care and hygiene necessary to save the lives of babies and mothers. Drugs, vaccines, equipment and vehicles to protect children from TB, to save them from blinding trachoma, to treat for leprosy and yaws are supplied by UNICEF.

United Church Women

Sponsored annually by the Jacksonville Council of United Church Women, the project will be led this year by Darrow Steinheimer and his co-chairman, Richard Bond.

While in Korea, Mr. Steinheimer witnessed first-hand the benefits of UNICEF and consequently has been especially interested in its success here. Jacksonville citizens can be proud to share in a project in which more than 9,500 communities and two million children participate.

So Oct. 25 be on the lookout for the Halloween UNICEF spooks. They will be goodwill ambassaders on a mission of aid for more than 55 milloin children and mothers to bring them milk, medicine and health services as provided by UNICEF.

Mrs. Hagan Has Program At Tuesday Club

Mrs. Walter Crawford was hostess this past week to Tuesday Club at her home, 130 Sandusky street, on Oct. 6. The gathering opened the fall and winter season. Greetings were extended by the president, Mrs. Ralph Woods. Each member briefly told of her summer experience.

Mrs. J. Allen Biggs was named to fill the vacant office of secretary. It was voted to contribute to the Morgan County United Fund.

Mrs. Woods paid tribute to Mrs. M. R. Range, for many years a member of Tuesday Club. A gift was presented to Mrs. Range who will leave the city soon to make her home at Wheaton, Ill.

Mrs. Willard Cody presented Mrs. Dallas Hagan who showed movies she had taken. The first group of pictures were taken at previous club meetings and were much enjoyed. A second group showed famous parks in the United States, the Blue Ridge parkway, Great Smoky mountains, Badlands of the Dakotas and Black Hills, Rocky Mountain National Park and Glacier National Park.

Exterior and inside views of the Chapel at Grand Teton National park were shown including the transfiguration. Native flowers and animals of the areas were also included in the scenes. Mrs. Hagan showed pictures taken of the restored village of Jamestown, Va. and the three original ships located there.

Lovely refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table. Mrs. Range and Mrs. Woods presided. Miss Minnie Wyatt was a guest of the hostess.

OUT OF THE PAST

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—While working on a State Power Authority project in the Devil's Hole area near here, Frank W. Steblein Jr. found a British farthing dated 1732. Devil's Hole was the scene of an Indian massacre in the 18th Century.

SHALLOW GRAVES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Contrary to popular belief, most graves are now only five feet deep, says James Worley, Columbus executive secretary of the American Cemetery Assn.

Ohio law, for example, says only that graves must be reasonably deep, Worley explains. In some cemeteries graves are only four feet deep because of the subsoil condition.

Bark on California's giant Sequoia trees sometimes grows two feet thick.

Local Council For Exceptional Children Chapter Plans Year

William Walsh, program chairman and president-elect of the Jacksonville Chapter of Council for Exceptional Children, has announced activities of the Chapter for the school year.

The first meeting will be held on October 20 at Lincoln School and will concern the program for the gifted, presented by Miss Edith Ruyle, coordinator for the Jacksonville program for the gifted.

All interested persons are invited to attend, whether they are, or plan to become, members. Membership is open to those interested in the field of Special Education.

Jacksonville has unusual facilities for the study of the problems of exceptional children with its State School for the Deaf, Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School, program for the gifted, programs for children with various types of handicaps. Ivan Garrison, Director of Special Education in Jacksonville, is national president of CEC.

Monthly Schedule

Dates for other meetings of the Chapter are:

Nov. 17 State Hospital Music in the Field of Exceptionalities,—Mrs. Alta Eisch, Mrs. Rhoda Samoore, Mrs. Marguerite Hug.

Jan. 19 Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School Psychological Evaluation of Exceptional Children (Participants to be announced.)

Feb. 9 Illinois School for the Deaf Language Disturbances—Dr. James McCarthy.

March 5 Third Biennial International Fair at a place to be announced. The Fair has become something of an institution in Jacksonville, and is planned to be even more outstanding under the Chairmanship of Leslie Brinegar.

April 22 Social Meeting—Speaker: Ray Graham, Director of Special Classes, in the office of George T. Kilkins, state superintendent of Public Instruction.

A number of members in the Jacksonville Chapter are preparing for the annual conference of the Illinois Association for the Education of Exceptional Children, to be held at the Orlando Hotel in Decatur on October 30-31.

As part of this Conference a limited number of local High School students, who have expressed an interest in Special Education, will attend as guests of the local Chapter.

MOUND WOMAN'S CLUB DINES AT SINGING HILLS

Members of the Mound Woman's club met Oct. 8 at Singing Hills at Florence where dinner was enjoyed. There were 18 members and guests present.

Roll was answered by describing a famous restaurant. The afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Dale Mawson became a member of the group.

The next meeting will be held at Wesley Chapel church with potluck supper for members and families.

POWER OF PERSUASION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— The "last minute literary spurt" can kill off a man's chances for promotion, officers and others who rate airmen for promotion at Lockbourne Air Force Base here have been warned.

Lt. Col Robert D. Elliott, director of administrative services, referred to these examples from recommendations received in the last promotion cycle:

"... a divided asset to this organization."

"... definitely qualified beyond qualification."

"... the U. S. Air Force will be none the looser for it."

In one man's folder, the colonel added, were five recommendations —signed by different officers but identical, word for word.

EASY TO SPELL NOW

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP)—Residents on Napoleon Street won city approval to change the name to Cedar Lane. They said nobody could ever spell Napoleon correctly.

Murrayville Club At Tendick Home

Mrs. Edward Tendick was hostess Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 7, to members of Murrayville Woman's Club. The vice president, Mrs. James Symons, presided in the absence of the president.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag led by the hostess and the song of the month, Onward Christian Soldiers, led by music chairman, Mrs. M. J. Benscoter.

Roll call was answered by naming an outstanding entertainer personality. Two guests were present, Mrs. C. R. Short, charter member of the club living in Jacksonville and who helped organize the group, and Mrs. Norman Carlson, also of Jacksonville.

The secretary, Mrs. William Wade, Sr., reported as did the treasurer, Mrs. T. G. Beadles. The club agreed to establish a flower fund.

Mrs. Stanley Martin, radio, TV and movie chairman, spoke concerning the present television program, overloaded now with western trend; the films and evasive moral censorship and radio today, still 'holding its own.'

The hostess closed the oral portion of the program with excerpt taken from the popular weekly column "I Was Just Thinking."

Mrs. Wade was in charge of the Carrousel. Bingo was played with consolation prize to Mrs. Carlson and door prize to Mrs. C. R. Short, first to Mrs. Norman Marshall and second, Mrs. Charles Wilson.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments of assorted sandwiches, molded fruit and cheese salad, candies, nutmeats and coffee.

The club will meet next on Oct. 21st with Mrs. T. G. Beadles.

Passavant Aid Makes Deaconess Day Plans

Mrs. Warfield Brown, president of the Passavant Memorial Area Hospital Aid Society, greeted members of the Board at the first meeting of the new season, Tuesday, Oct. 6, at the hospital.

The meeting was a lively one, full of plans for the new year. The first major project is a Silver Tea and Gift Show, Nov. 19, at the Colonial Inn, in commemoration of Deaconess Day.

The present Aid Sciety and Passavant School of Nursing resulted from work done by the Lutheran Deaconesses, when the hospital was originally founded by Dr. William A. Passavant, a Milwaukee Lutheran minister. Sister Louise Marthens and, later, Sister Ochse were in charge of the hospital. They were both originally from the Mother House in Kaiserwerth, Germany, where Florence Nightingale received her training.

Nursing service in Passavant Memorial hospital was organized by nurses with such exceptional training the hospital is justly proud.

In accordance with Aid policy, Civic Music Series tickets have been purchased, for the use by second and third year student nurses.

Mrs. Brown announced the appointment of Mrs. Martin Cohen as ways and means chairman and Miss Ruth Bailey as mail chairman.

Ralph Bersell, hospital administrator, reported 24 new student nurses enrolled this fall, filling to capacity until the new school will be ready for occupancy next fall.

The refresher course for nurses was successfully started Oct. 5, with 48 in attendance.

Pre-Nuptial Party Fetes Miss Servoss

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given Wednesday evening, Oct. 7, for Marilyn Servoss, who is to become the bride of Dwight E. King on Oct. 16.

Those present were Donna Knox, Daisy Lawson, Vera Craft, Kate Holt, Molly Downs, Eleanor Alderson, Inez Alderson.

Mary Ann Donovan, Edna McDade, Kay Donovan, Barbara Floyd, Karen Donovan, Judy Knox.

Mary Louise Donovan, Betty Knox, Phyllis McKnelly, Wanda Dennis, Leona Knox, Dorothy Settles.

Elizabeth Lomelino, Anita Rush, Marie Servoss, Marjorie Servoss, Helen Servoss, Denise and Donnie Ray Dennis and Steven Alderson and the guest of honor, Marilyn Servoss.

Those unable to attend, but sending gifts, were Frances Burchett, Stella Lomelino and Dorothy Rush.

The bride-to-be received many nice and useful gifts. Games were played after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Bruyn Will Begin Her Dance Classes Oct. 14

Modern dance classes for children and teenagers will go into full swing this Wednesday, Oct. 14. This will be the sixth year of classes taught in this town by Louise Bruyn.

These classes are designed to 1) acquaint the child with the great range of dance movement, 2) to develop physical skill in the performance of dance techniques, and 3) to provide the child with a creative and artistic means of expression. The children dance to all manner of accompaniment—drums, percussion instruments, recorded music, singing, and poetry.

This year classes will be held at the Knights of Columbus hall on Wednesday afternoon. The 6-7 year-olds will meet at 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. and the advanced teen-age class from 4:15 to 5:30.

Classes will be arranged for 3-4 year olds, and 5 year olds. Other age groups, including adults, might be arranged according to need.

Mrs. Bruyn is the wife of Dr. Severyn Bruyn, professor of sociology at Illinois College. She has taught in the Jacksonville public schools and now is the mother of two children, Rebecca, 5 and Susan, 4. Their home is at 1047 Grove street. Further information may be obtained by calling CH 5-5384

Teen-agers in slacks and saddle shoes feed dimes into the juke box at the Buffalo Park Cafe in Fort Smith N.W.T. Top rock 'n' roll favorite: "Halfbreed" by Marvin Rainwater.

It was just another sunshiny fall day amid the green and gold forests and clear blue lakes of the new North American frontier—Canada's vast, booming and forbidding Northland, whose untapped mineral resources stand high in the nation's economic future.

It's frontier, yes; but a frontier that features most of the comforts of home in strange combination with the inconveniences of a remote new land.

"This is a frontier?" grinned Frank McCall, the Northern Affairs Department's representative in Yellowknife. "There's so many autos around here that we're thinking of putting in stop lights and parking meters."

There are, by official count, 787 motor vehicles in Yellowknife—pop. 3,500—and no access roads. But you need a car to get to the busy airport or to the sand-strewn 9-hole golf course.

A graceful, brick Roman Catholic cathedral is going up in Fort Smith—pop. 1,500—capital of the Northwest Territories, some 200 miles south of here. The cathedral looks out of place among the dirt streets and the rough board sidewalks.

A striking feature of the Canadian North is its isolation. The rest of the world in general—and Edmonton, Alta., in particular—is known to Northerners as "the outside."

For Yellowknife, Fort Smith and Uranium City, the "outside" begins either at Waterways or Grimshaw, both in Alberta. Each is a terminal of different northern Alberta railroad lines. They are about 250 miles south of Fort Smith.

A railroad north to Pine Point on Great Slave Lake is in the planning stage and, in true frontier tradition, rival towns are choosing up sides to fight for either the western route from Grimshaw or the eastern route from Waterways.

Current overland access to the North Country is provided by the MacKenzie Highway, hacked out of the wilderness for some 400 miles between Grimshaw and Hay River and by barge from Waterways down the sluggish, shallow Athabasca and Slave rivers.

The queen of northern transport is the airplane. Pacific Western Airlines (PWA—known locally as "Please Wait Awhile") operates as far north as Inuvik and Coppermine on the Arctic Ocean. Tough little bush planes can fly almost any place that has a puddle of water.

The people of the North Country are inveterate travelers, mostly by air. It's not unusual for a fun-loving fellow in Yellowknife to fly down to Edmonton—600 miles; $106 round trip—for a weekend of frivolity in the big city.

A housewife in Thompson — luckily in spur distance of the Canadian National Railways Hudson Bay line—has a six-hour train ride to The Pas and then a 2½ hour flight in order to go on a shopping spree in Winnipeg.

The larger towns in the North Country boast telephone service. But calls to the "outside" are impossible. The "outside" begins in McMurray, Alta., some 250 miles from Fort Smith.

There are five television sets in Yellowknife—but no TV station. Set owners spend their time fiddling with the dial, hoping that freak atmospheric conditions will bring in such odd places as Denver, Seattle or Anchorage. If reception is good, they'll call in the neighbors to help with the viewing.

Such a spirit of helpful cooperation and sharing is high in the North. Veteran bush pilots like Pat Carey of Fort Smith daily fly miles out of their way in their pontooned Beavers and Otters to check an isolated logging camp and see that everything is all right.

Almost all the communities of the Canadian North are single industry towns. In Yellowknife, it's gold; Uranium City, uranium; Thompson, nickel; Fort Smith, government. There are reminders of the industry everywhere.

Swing From Aircraft To Missiles Has Created Defense Industry Job Hazard

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

Wo.....g in defense industries has its hazards. You can't be sure that the project won't collapse under you.

There have been several contract cancellations in recent months. Most have come in manned aircraft as the nation's military effort has swung over to ballistic missiles.

One of the biggest came when the Air Force notified North American Aviation, Inc. that further development of the F108 long-range interceptor was being discontinued. That will toss 2,000 out of work.

North American employs about 64,000 in all its plants. Last year employment got down to 53,275, but in 1957 it topped 70,000. That was the year North American's Navaho missile contract was terminated. Employment dropped quickly at Los Angeles.

There have been other cutbacks in the Los Angeles area. Douglas employed 83,500 in 1958, now employs 68,850. But total employment in the Los Angeles metropolitan area in August hit an all-time high at 2,617,700.

One of the latest terminations was the Navy's dropping of its SeaMaster contract with the Martin Co. in August. Martin immediately laid off 1,269 employes, including about 150 engineers, and said total employment reductions would number 3,000.

In August the Air Force reduced its need for a boron-based chemical fuel. Olin-Mathiesen Chemical Corp. and Callery Co. were hit.

Basic reason for the contract cancellations is a shift in military aims — from men to missiles.

In fiscal 1954 expenditures for manned airplane procurement totaled 16 billion dollars. This year expenditures are down to around 6½ billion.

On the other hand, missile expenditures in fiscal 1954 totaled one-half billion dollars. This year they are expected to be about four billion. This trend is bound to continue in the years ahead.

The Texas Employment Commission says, "based on the past two years of defense contracts being cut in Dallas and Fort Worth, a continued gradual cutback would not have a major impact on the area's employment situation."

Another example of defense cutbacks in a relatively small town is at Hagerstown, Md. Since the start of 1959, the plant of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. has lost 1,800 employes.

Fairchild is the largest employer in Hagerstown and the city of 36,000 has no other really large industry.

Far more spectacular than the cutbacks in some areas have been the booms in other sections. Take Cape Canaveral, Fla., for example.

This missile test center is located in Brevard County. When the first missile was fired from Cape Canaveral in 1950, Brevard County's population totaled 23,653. Today it totals about 115,000.

In 1950 Brevard County's personal income totaled 24 million dollars. In 1957 it was 160 million.

One of the biggest beneficiaries of the switch from manned aircraft to missiles is the electronics industry.

George Haller, vice president and general manager of the Defense Electronics Division of General Electric Co., says "Employment in departments which handle almost all our defense work has increased about 14 per cent since the first of the year."

The number of companies working directly or indirectly on missiles grows each month. Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, commander Ballistic Missiles Center of the Air Materiel Command of the U.S. Air Force, says:

We have over 100,000 people directly and actively participating in our program, representing some 22 industries, 25 major prime contractors, over 400 major subcontractors and many thousands of suppliers and vendors."

The area of Africa is 11,710,424 square miles.

Twenty-two ribbons were awarded to members present whose enrollment dated back prior to 1945. Among the earliest were: Mr. and Mrs. Edison Haywood, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robson and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde West, all of whom belonged in 1939.

The second president to serve the class, and the only Charter Member present, was Lyle Davis who served in 1939. Mrs. West served in 1941, James Robson in 1934, and Roy Smith in 1944. All of these were present, and one former teacher, Mrs. Robert Ray.

The class was organized in 1938 and its first teacher was Mrs. Lee Sullivan, Sr. who taught for many years. The present teacher is Mrs. Gerald Miller. Other officers are: President, Harry Bourn; Vice president, Clyde West and Jim Robson; Secretary, Alberta Seymour; Treasurer, Katherine Ray; Assistant Teacher, Ben O. Roodhouse.

Harry Bourn presided at the special service and greetings were brought by the minister, the teacher, Peggy Sullivan Littler, and others in an informal period given over to reminiscing.

Donald Littler led in singing and Mrs. Keith Seymour conducted the roll call, each one responding with the year he enrolled.

A class photograph was made to mark the occasion and a complete file of Class Year Books was on display as well as several photographers and other mementoes of days gone by.

U. S. Saving Bonds Never Better Says Local Bankers

Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, F. Osborne Elliott and Arthur J. French, co-chairmen of the Morgan County Savings Bond Committee, said today in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Messrs. Elliott and French said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefits of the increase."

The new law does two things: (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1 draw 3¼ per cent interest when held to maturity, and (2) it increases by at least one-half of one per cent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds, regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1959, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"We cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E or H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Messrs. Elliott and French continued. "We would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

Pembrook - Camp Nuptials At Wrights

GREENFIELD — Miss Lois Ilene Camp of Wrights and Robert Ray Pembrook of Greenfield were united in marriage in a candellight ceremony performed the last Sunday of September at Hickory Grove Baptist church in Wrights.

Lois is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Floyd Camp and her father officiated for the double ring service. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pembrook of Greenfield.

Palms and ferns, with tapers burning in candelabra, decorated the church altar. Mrs. John Huff of Greenfield presided at the organ during the prelude of nuptial selections and accompanied Ben Stroke who sang, "With These Hands" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Tapers were lighted by Linda Pembrook, sister of the bridegroom and Sharon Baldes.

The maid of honor was Miss Sandra Cahal, Rockbridge; Mrs. Don Camp, Dixon, was bridesmatron and Marcella Camp, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Larry Pembrook, nephew of the groom, carried the rings.

Frank Grubb was best man and William Pembrook, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Ushers were Donald Camp and James Clothier.

Wears Lace and Tulle Gown

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Jeff Teter. She chose for her wedding a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle and satin, designed with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and Sabrina neckline etched in tiny pearls and sequin trim.

The bouffant skirt extended wide by hoops, featured a wide lace flounce at the bottom. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a crown adorned with pearls and sequins.

The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of split carnations, stephanotis and greenery in fan shape.

Miss Cahal was attired in a street length dress of blue lace over taffeta and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. Don Camp wore an identical styled dress of pink lace and carried blue carnations.

Reception At Hall

A reception followed in the Wrights Community Hall. The refreshment table was centered with a large decorated wedding cake.

Assisting in the serving were; Misses Charlot Range, Rama Nolan and Sharon Teter, Mrs. Raymond Pohlman and Miss Marcia Lewey registered the gifts.

The bride was a 1959 graduate of the Greenfield High School and has been employed in the Meng and Secor Dry Goods company in Greenfield.

The groom is a graduate of the Greenfield High School and has served with the armed forces. At present he is employed as a telephone installer and is also engaged in farming with his father. Following a wedding trip they will reside on a farm northwest of Greenfield.

BARBARA SUTTLES

Announcement is made of the engagement and late October nuptial plans for Miss Barbara Ann Suttles, daughter of Emmett Suttles of Woodson, and Maurice Glossop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glossop of Winchester. They will be married at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, October twenty-fifth, at the Woodson Christian church. Friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

The bride-elect graduated in 1959 from Jacksonville High School. Mr. Glossop, a 1957 graduate at Winchester High School, is employed at First State Bank in Winchester.

Linda Lou Brady, Richard Flynn Wed

An afternoon ceremony at two o'clock the last Sunday in September at First Baptist church united in marriage Miss Linda Lou Brady and Richard Lee Flynn of Jacksonville. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Olson, pastor of the church before friends and relatives of the couple.

The former Miss Brady is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Brady, 1002 East Lafayette aveune and Mr. Flynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn, 211 South Kosciusko street.

Yellow and bronze glads, with mums were used in arrangements with autumn leaves and yellow tapers at the altar of the church. Before the wedding party appeared Mrs. Roy Cooper, accompanied at the organ by Miss Mahala McGehee, sang "Because" and "I Love Thee."

Three sisters of the bride, Mrs. Harold Schneider of Jacksonville; Mrs. Neal Cooper of Manchester and Mrs. Donald Decker, Murrayville, were her attendants.

Roy Cooper was best man and Jimm Bates and Dale Gibbs were groomsmen. Ushers were Robert and Larry Fortado.

Organza and Lace Gown

The bride wore a stunning gown of silk organza and cobweb sheer scalloped lace with a voluminous skirt held out over wide hoops. Organza formed a strapless foundation for the snug bodice with overlace cut in Sabrina neckline and forming the sleeves that tapered snugly to end in points over the hands. The overskirt caught with a bow at the high Empire waist sweeping into a Chapel train completely finished in an exquisite lace border.

A lace and pearl crown, touched with iridescent sequins, held secure her veil of silk illusion. The bride carried gardenias and white bonbon mums on a star spray of pearl edging.

The bride's mother and her sister, Mrs. Schneider, made the wedding dress and gown and the gowns worn by the attendants.

The bride's attendants were identically gowned in frocks of burnt orange crystalette on white taffeta. The dresses were fashioned with low cut necklines, short sleeves and full skirts with large bustle bows at the back. Their slippers, elbow mitts and bow headdresses matched the color of their costumes. Each carried a Colonial bouquet of bronze mums encircled with oak leaves and tied in corresponding brown tone satin ribbons.

Mrs. Brady wore for Linda's wedding a beige wool sheath with beige and black accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

Mrs. Flynn, mother of the groom, wore blue faille, with pink and black accessories. Her flowers were pink mums.

Reception At Church

A reception was held in the parlors at the church immediately after the ceremony. The bride's chosen colors were used in decor. Tapers and bronze and white mums centered the table decked with an orange and white net skirt. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Jack Farrell from Ottowa, Mrs. Dale Gibbs, Mrs. Jimm Bates and Miss Linda Jackson. Mrs. Brad Imig, Miss Sandy Clemmons and Miss Margie Luster, were in charge of gifts and Mrs. Thomas Holmes welcomed guests at the door.

When the couple left for a wedding trip East to Washington, D. C., the bride was wearing a beige fall two piece knit dress with moss green accessories and the gardenias taken from her wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynn are at home to friends at 816½ West Douglas avenue. Both young people graduated from Jacksonville High School, the bride in 1956 and the groom in 1952. She graduated from the Kitsmiller Beauty School at Alton and is associated with the Flamingo Beauty Salon in this city. Mr. Flynn, since completing two years military service, is a salesman for Herrin Signs of Jacksonville.

Guests attended the ceremony and reception from Champaign, Murrayville, Manchester, Franklin, Ottowa, and Moline, Illinois, the state of Iowa and St. Louis, Mo.

Sprinkle vanilla pudding with pistachio nuts for interesting texture and flavor.

NADEANE SOOY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sooy, living on Jacksonville route five, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nadeane, to Albert Hubbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hubbert of Jacksonville route one.

Both young people are graduates of Jacksonville High School and are employed at Springfield.

The wedding will be solemnized at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, December sixth, at Central Christian church. Relatives and friends are cordially invited.

MARY LYNN YOUNG

Dr. and Mrs. Ira Young, University City, Missouri, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Lynn, to Thomas O. Skiles of Jacksonville. Mr. Skiles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skiles of Virginia, Ill.

Miss Young attended MacMurray College for two years and graduated from Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, Missouri, in 1958. For the past two years she has taught kindergarten at Enos School in Springfield.

Mr. Skiles, Director of Public Relations at MacMurray College since 1956, received his BS degree in 1955 from Northwestern University and MS degree from Boston University in 1956.

The ceremony will be solemnized at four-thirty o'clock Saturday afternoon, October twenty-four, in the Little Chapel, MacMurray College campus.

Ruth Mason Is Bride Of Carl Coultas

Miss Ruth Eleanor Mason daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Mason, Jacksonville route four, became the bride of Carl Robert Coultas in a ceremony performed Sunday, Sept. 27, at three o'clock in the afternoon at Centenary Methodist church. The pastor, Reverend Harvey Dibrell, performed the double ring ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Coultas, 608 South Kosciusko street.

Mrs. Delores Allen, sister of the bride, and Donald Powell, attended the couple.

James Mason and William Medlock were ushers.

The bride wore a floor length wedding dress of sheer lace fashioned with scalloped neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. Self covered buttons were used to fasten the back of the snug bodice and at the tapered sleeves. The bride carried a white Bible with a streamered white orchid. Her short veil of illusion and lace was attached to a beaded headdress.

Sister Attends Bride

Mrs. Allen wore poudre blue, conventional length, made with bracelet length sleeves and a boat cut neckline. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Mason, mother of the bride, wore navy blue and Mrs. Coultas chose a floral print on navy background. Both mothers wore white carnations.

Reception At Church

A reception was held in the church parlors following the wedding. Assisting were Mrs. Glenna Mason, who registered guests; Miss Barbara Suttles, presiding at the punch bowl; Miss Jeanette Thompson, cutting and serving cake and Miss Patsy Votsmeier, in charge of gifts.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Chattanooga, Tenn., the bride was wearing a beige jersey sheath with brown accessories and her wedding orchid.

Both graduated from Jacksonville High School, the bride in 1959 and the groom in 1955. She is a secretary for Herrin Advertising and the groom is assistant parts manager at the McCurdy Ford Sales in this city.

John Seamon, Peoria Girl In Fall Rites

The October third wedding at Peoria united Miss Donna Lea Wheelock and John J. Seamon of that city is of interest to many Jacksonville people. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Seamon of Peoria. Both attended and graduated from college here, Mr. Seamon from Illinois College and Mrs. Seamon, the former Anabel Moore, from MacMurray College.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith L. Wheelock of Golt, Illinois.

The Rev. Donald Batz officiated for the wedding.

The maid of honor was Miss Nita Bowman of Iowa City, Iowa who wore emerald green jersey with velvet edging. Her headdress was a cocoa brown velvet headband and her flowers pale pink carnations on lace.

Richard Verkler of Madison, Wis., was best man.

The bride wore a conventional length wedding dress of champagne colored pure silk with lace bodice and three-quarter tapered sleeves. Her half hat in velvet was in a matching beige shade and her flowers were pink roses and ivy with valley lily.

A wedding dinner was served at Hotel Pere Marquette following the ceremony.

Mrs. Seamon, a graduate of Methodist Hospital School of Nursing at Peoria, is on the staff at that hospital. The groom, a graduate of Bradley University where he became a member of Theta Xi fraternity is employed by Caterpillar Tractor Company in Peoria. He is also a member of the Air National Guard.

The newlyweds are making their home at 2114 North Knoxville in Peoria.

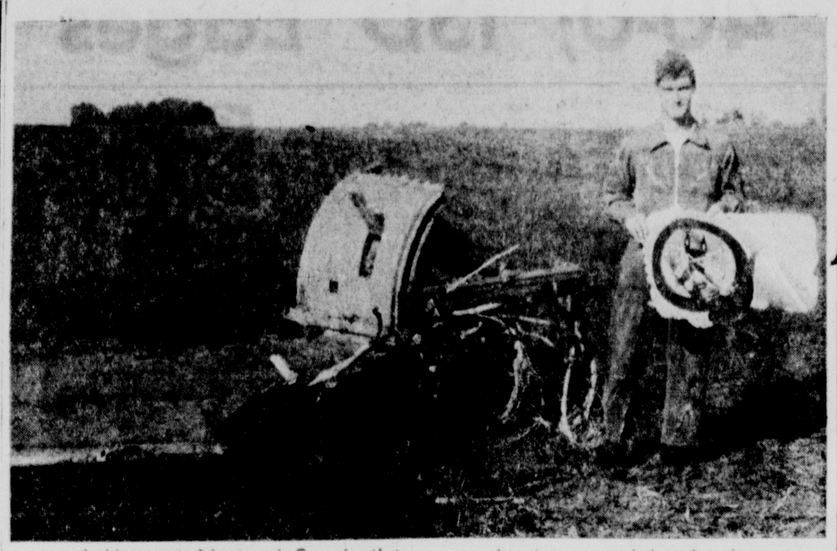
Parachutes To Safety Near Ashland



A Missouri National Guard pilot, Lt. James D. Lionberger, 28, above, Clayton, Missouri, parachuted to safety Friday within three miles of the spot where his F84F jet fighter crashed in a cornfield eight miles north of Ashland.

The jet fighter's wreckage was scattered more than a mile from the initial impact area in a strip more than 100 feet wide. The plane seemed to disintegrate when it hit the ground. Only two pieces of wreckage were larger than one person could easily lift.

Lt. Lionberger was not hurt in his jump. The plane was flying with another F84F jet out of Lambert Field, St. Louis, and bound for Volk Field, Camp Douglas, Wisconsin, on a routine cross-country training flight. The two were bound for Wisconsin for gunnery training.

Lionberger said the plane's engine went dead at 20,000 feet and he took the craft down to 10,000 feet before pushing the parachute ejector button.

A nearby farmer noticed the parachute floating down to earth but thought at first it was a weather balloon.

The crash occurred about 20 minutes after Lionberger took off from Lambert Field, about 1:30 Friday afternoon.

State troopers Robert T. Hayes and George Baehner assisted at the crash scene.

Lionberger is shown beside a piece of the wing and body of the plane holding a personal souvenir, an emblem of the famed "Missouri Mule Squadron" of the Air National Guard, taken from the crash.

Crimsons Display 1st Relentless Attack Of Season In 40-0 Win

By STAN SPOTTS

Jacksonville High exploded for three touchdowns in the first half and went on to humiliate Beardstown Friday night before the largest turnout of the 1959 season in a one-sided 40-0 romp.

Beardstown's defense and offense proved no mystery for the rampaging Crimsons, who seemed to score at will. And the Tiger offense was bottled up by a potent and fast-charging Crimson forward wall. Jack McCarty, Don Seymour, Bob Rieman, Shannon Jackson, Perry Roberts and John Bourn did an outstanding job in containing the Tiger backfield. Beardstown amassed only 42 yards rushing.

And the backfield also came in for its share of glory as Dick Parker, Billy Stanford, Gary Spangenberg, Ken Norton, Don Schillinger, Bill Upchurch, Ron Yates, Ron Tomhave, Erland Thaday and Mike Mentler chewed up plenty of yardage on the ground and through the air.

It was the largest score turned in by the fired-up Crimsons this season and their second straight victory in four starts. The outmanned Tigers suffered their third loss against a tie in four starts. The victory also denied Beardstown a 'shot' at the famed 'Stripped Jug,' a symbol of rivalry between the two teams.

QB Fakes Punt

In the initial period, the ball exchanged hands five times in the first seven minutes of play on fumbles and intercepted passes. A pass interception by Ken Norton on the Beardstown 7 gave JHS its first scoring chance. On a fourth down and five yards to go situation from the 32, QB Dick Parker faked a punt, cut down the west sidelines, and went the distance to score behind some beautiful downfield blocking with 2:27 left. A run for the point-after failed and JHS led, 6-0. Parker's run was the fourth play from scrimmage.

Second Tally

Jacksonville's charging line threw Reggie Robertson for a big loss back to his own four and Beardstown punted from their own end zone. Gary Spangenberg hauled in the kick on the Tiger 30 and carried to the 10 before he was brought down just as the quarter ended.

Yates got six to the four and Spangenberg picked up one before Gary ripped through the middle on the third play from scrimmage to score from the three with 11 minutes left before halftime. Parker converted and Beardstown trailed, 13-0.

Exploding Fullback

Following a Beardstown quick-kick to the JHS 48, the Jacks took charge and sent fullback Don Schillinger on an explosion play up the middle and behind key blocking he raced 52 yards to hit paydirt on the first play with 4:07 left before Jim Welsh's Senior Marching band came on to perform. Parker's conversion was again true and JHS enjoyed a 20-0 halftime spread. Beardstown's deepest penetration of the game came in the final minute of the second period when they got inside the JHS 30 aided by a 15-yard infraction.

TD Called Back

The Crimsons had their first of two TD's called back after a Beardstown punt early in the third frame. QB Billy Stanford picked up a key block from end Jack McCarty and galloped 34 yards to score untouched but an off-sides penalty nullified the six pointer. Then a 15-yard clipping penalty moved the Jacks back to the 50 where the original series began. Faced with a first down and 30 yards to go play, halfback Gary Spangenberg connected on a 45 yard pass to McCarty to pick up a first down on the Tiger 5. The deceptive end-around play with McCarthy lugging the mail crossed up Beardstown and the 140-pounder dashed into the end zone untouched. Parker's boot hit the cross-bar but fell over for an extra-point and JHS commanded a 27-0 lead with 6:25 remaining.

Biggest Drive

Jacksonville got a 61-yard drive underway three minutes later following a Tiger punt. Spangenberg's run chewed up 20 yards and set up Billy Stanford's payoff 24-yard touchdown jaunt around his own left end. Parker again split the uprights and the Crimsons were on top, 34-0, with 2:46 left in the third stanza. Coaches Kraushaar and Rosenberger began clearing the bench with 10 seconds left in the third chapter.

JHS Subs Score

With Billy Upchurch, Thady Tomhave, Mentler and Yates working behind the new line, the youngsters started a drive on their own 49 and 11 plays later, Ronnie Yates plowed over from the four for a 40-0 margin with 6:44 left in the game. An Upchurch pass plus an 11-yard dash by the sophomore QB kept the drive alive. Schillinger attempted the P.A.T. but the kick was low.

An interception by Mike Mentler set up another touchdown that was called back minutes later. Schillinger skirted his left end on the first play to go 38 yards for the score but a clipping penalty off-set his efforts. No gain on this series forced Spangenberg to use his foot the only time during the contest. The Crimsons got 37 players into the fracas.

East St. Louis Trips Centralia

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — East St. Louis High capitalized on a blocked punt Friday night to edge Centralia 7 - 6 and snap the Orphans' 18-game football winning streak.

After the punt was blocked on the Centralia 10-yard line early in the second period, halfback Harold Record bolted one yard for the East St. Louis score. John Shock booted the extra point.

Centralia also scored a TD in the second period on a 35-yard pass from Gene Blackwell to Gerald Kleine. The Orphans missed the try for the extra point.

Centralia had won three games before Friday night's setback. East St. Louis, 14-13 losers Parkview High of Springfield, Mo., also have won three games.

Fight Results

PHILADELPHIA (AP—Kid Sixto Rodriguez, unranked California light heavyweight, held highly favored Von Clay of Philadelphia to a 10-round draw Friday night in a nationally televised fight at the Arena. Each fighter weighed 172.

A crowd estimated at 1,500 roundly booed the verdict, apparently in the belief the 26-year-old Rodriguez had ended Von Clay's unbeaten record.

The 20-year-old Philadelphian carried a record of 10 victories—8 by knockouts—and 1 draw into the fight.

The fifth-ranked Clay was a 13-5 favorite.

Judge James Mina scored the fight 46-45 for Von Clay while Referee Dave Beloff carded it 46-44 in favor of Rodriguez. Judge Jack Stilley gave each fighter 45 points.

Rodriguez, California's state champion, making his first appearance in the East, forced the Philadelphia youngster inside through most of the fight.

Von Clay appeared either tired or confused throughout most of the fight.

Friday Night Scores

Bluffs 35 Meredosia 0

BLUFFS — George Danhaus' Bluejays celebrated homecoming here Friday night with a 35-0 victory over Meredosia in a hard-fought contest.

The win was the third straight for Bluffs without a loss.

Tom Beddingfield's two touchdowns paced the scoring parade. Single TD's were chalked up by David Lovekamp, Don Sturgeon and Audrey Gregory. Sturgeon, Gregory and Mike Moore also collected extra-points.

Bluffs	19	6	2	7	—35

Winchester 21 Hardin 6

WINCHESTER—Darrell Spang's Wildcats annexed their second victory in four outings Friday night by stopping Hardin, 21-6, in their second Illinois Valley conference test.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hardin took a 6-0 lead on a two yard payoff tally by Bland.

Winchester came on in the third quarter when Stan Likes plowed over from the three and plunged for the extra-point to take a 7-6 lead.

In the final stanza, a 70 yard pass interception by Tom Flynn gave Winchester some insurance and then Eddie Brown 'iced' the verdict with a one-yard plunge. Extra-points were scored by Les Watt and Eddie Brown on the final pair of TD's.

Winchester	0	0	7	14	—21
Hardin	0	6	0	0	— 6

Carrollton 27, White Hall 7

WHITE HALL—The first quarter of the Carrollton-White Hall game Friday saw very even play with no score. Both teams played good defensive ball and neither had the power to penetrate the opposing defense.

The second quarter was different with Carrollton scoring first on a 27 yard pass from Griffith to Bill Robinson. The conversion was good with Robinson going over on an off-tackle play. Bill Winters then went for 6 yards and a Carrollton TD straight through the middle. The PAT was again good with Winters running wide around end.

Then in the third quarter it was Shannon going for 6 yards around end after a series of line plays failed to deliver pay dirt. The conversion failed and gave the Carrollton eleven a total of 27 points.

The lone White Hall score came in the second quarter when Westerhold went through the line for 2 yards and a touchdown. A pass from Marsh to Blake added an the extra point to give White Hall 7 points for the game.

Carrollton made 8 first downs while White Hall gained 6. This is the first victory for Carrollton with 2 losses. White Hall also has one victory with 3 losses.

Officials: Johnson, Litchfield; Gage, Hillsboro; Frame, Hillsboro; Anderson, Hillsboro.

Havana 25 Brown County 7

MT. STERLING—In a Midwest Conference game Friday night the Havana eleven scored a 25-7 victory over Mt. Sterling. This was the first win for Havana with a record of 3 losses while the Brown County boys have a one won against a 2 loss record.

The first and second quarters were pretty slow moving with little action taking place.

Then in the third quarter Liles made a TD for the Havana team on a 2 yard run and the point after touchdown was blocked.

The action was stepped up in the final quarter when Prince went in for a TD on a five yard run, Mullen then kicked the extra point to give the edge to Havana. The second touchdown of the quarter was again made by Prince on another 5 yard run but this time the PAT was wide. A short time later Cohee made a fine 12 yard run for a TD with the kick for the conversion again going wide.

Jerry Mitchell made the lone TD for Mt. Sterling on a pass to Ed Seckman for 14 yards. On the PAT there was a five yard penalty and on the second try Mitchell ran it and made it good.

Officials: Blakeman and Buol-lion.

Northwestern 42 Franklin 6

PALMYRA — The Northwestern Wildcats dampened the Franklin Flashes in a MSM conference game with a score of 42-0. This was the winner's fourth win over no losses.

The first TD was scored by Dale Kilmer who plays the HB slot and the play went for 2 yards over the line. The next touchdown came as the result of a pass interception and Bob McKinney converted to put the score at 14-0 for the Wildcats. The PAT for the first TD was made by brother Bill McKinney.

In the second quarter Starkweather caught a 28 yard pass from Bob McKinney which resulted in another touchdown for Northwestern. The extra point was run by Bob McKinney and was good. Bob McKinney then returned to add another TD with a 25 yard run and Bill McKinney also ran the PAT which was good.

The second half again saw Bill McKinney go over the line on a 4 yard run and Bob McKinney for the PAT which gave the Wildcats 7 points for the quarter.

The final quarter saw the FB Chuck Overley fall into the end zone on a 2 yard plunge and Bob McKinney made the PAT good. This touchdown came with the fifth play of the quarter and was the last play made by the regulars of Northwestern.

In the middle of the fourth quarter Franklin came through with their lone tally when Dan Boyer went over from the 5 yard line. The run for the PAT was no good. The Franklin team played determined ball throughout the game and the team looked snappy, but they could not obtain the needed tallies.

Officials: Caldwell, Waverly; McMahon, Waverly; Favero, Springfield.

Roodhouse 39 Greenfield 0

ROODHOUSE —Roodhouse won its 14th game in a row when they defeated Greenfield by a score of 39-0. This is their fourth win of the season with no losses for Roodhouse.

The first quarter saw Phil Hopkins throwing to Jim Knox for a 12 yard pass play and a Roodhouse touchdown. Winters then plunged over the line for the conversion putting them on the scoreboard first. Again a pass from Hopkins to Knox resulted in a TD and put Roodhouse in the lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter Winters went 3 yards for a touchdown and he also added the extra point.

In the third quarter it was Winters again on a 41 yard run and a Roodhouse touchdown. The PAT was no good. Dave Parton carried the ball over the stripe for a TD and the extra point again was no good.

In the fourth quarter it was much the same picture with Gary Whewell going for 29 yards to strike pay dirt. Jameson then ran the PAT to give the Roodhouse squad a score of 39 over the Greenfield team which was held scoreless.

It might be noted that for the season the Roodhouse defensive team has given up only one touchdown.

Officials: Boyles, Gleason and Kerian, all of Springfield.

Pleasant Hill 6 Virginia 0

VIRGINIA—Pleasant Hill took a victory over the Virginia team in a close game which saw the winning team racking up only 6 points Friday night.

During the first half, both teams played very determined ball and both were good on defense, which led to a 0-0 tie at the half.

The third quarter was a repeat of the first half with neither team giving ground. Then in the fourth quarter Butch Mann pushed over from the one yard line going over his tackle for the lone tally. The conversion was missed and the Pleasant Hill team held a 6-0 edge over their rivals. The TD came with only three minutes left in the game.

A standout in the game was Rich Webster who ran well during the game and picked up good yardage.

First Period Score Carries Tigers To 7-0 Win Over Saukees

A stout and sturdy ISD line proved the difference as Jim Bonds' Tigers capitalized on a first quarter fumble to trip Glenn Smith's Saukees on the westend field Friday afternoon, 7-0.

The Saukees had a fourth down and 15 yards to go situation on the Tiger 16 but on an attempted buck lateral, tackle Melvin Lind deflected the ball and Bobby Poncar scooped up the ball on the 27 yard line and raced 73 yards to paydirt for the game's only score. Dale Thompson split the uprights on the point after for a 7-0 spread as the first quarter ended.

It was a defensive battle as first downs would indicate, Pittsfield netted 10 to ISD's 7 with each club getting four apiece in the second half.

The victory was the third straight for the Tigers. The loss evened Pittsfield's record for the season at two wins and two defeats.

Pittsfield made its deepest penetration of the game in the first quarter when Brant and Harmison lugged the ball to the Tiger 40 in three plays after taking the opening kickoff. QB Jerry Jones then hit Tom Brant with a 36 yarder and Pittsfield was on the four. A penalty and then four straight losses gave the Tigers possession on their own 12. After a first down pickup to the 23, ISD fumbled and Pittsfield recovered. Four plays later saw Poncar splitting the middle of the gridiron with his winning TD dash.

In the second period, scatback Ernest Richmond circled his own right end and danced 60 yards down the sideline to score but the play was called back on an illegal procedure penalty.

Pittsfield got another scoring chance in the third by recovering a pitch-out fumble on the Tiger 29 but a Tiger interception three plays later nullified any further advance.

Early in the final quarter, the Saukees drove to the ISD 16 but the Tiger defense wasn't to be denied. Late in the game, a Jones pass to Tom Brant in the end zone just eluded Brant's outstretched arms. The Tigers took over on downs on their own 30 and 'ate' up the remaining time with three consecutive first downs.

Illinois Deaf	7	0	0	0	—7

Officials: Caldwell, Waverly; Cole, Greenfield; Murgatroyd, Jacksonville.

PUNCHING BAGS—Gloria Adams, a local lass, landed a jolting left jab to the jaw in the second round, but Barbara Buttrick of Yorkshire, England, won a four-round decision in the first boxing match between women in North Miami, Fla.

As I See It

by E. W. BROWN

A Professor by the name of Nevins figures we've outgrown our Uncle Sam. That is the Uncle Sam with the tall beaver hat, the star-spangled swallow-tail coat and the red-striped trousers. This is the old gent who has been as familiar to us as ham and eggs. Nevins says Sam lacks "the grace of a southern gentleman, the breezy buoyancy of a Texan, and the concentrated energy of the modern industrialist." Maybe so . . . but combining all those talents is tougher than plowing a furrow in a mill pond. I dunno, I kind of liked Old Uncle Sam . . . and I think most folks do. Times may have changed, but the ideals he stands for are just as good as ever. Maybe we ought to get back to what Uncle Sam stands for.

A Mississippi boy who is an only child was about to leave his parents to go to college . . . so he gave them a pet monkey to take his place. How appropriate can you get?

More and more families are buying station wagons, either as a main car or a second utility car. When we get a good, late model wagon in trade it acquires an owner pretty fast. If you're in the market for a good, clean used wagon, and we don't happen to have what you want on hand, leave your name and phone number with us. We'll notify you as soon as we have the kind you want. E. W. Brown, 406 South Main. Phone 5-4333.

Sometimes we just don't give enough credit to our teenage youth. Besides inventing new languages, they are very active in many other fields. The Lennon Sisters — Dianne, 19, Peggy, 18, Kathy, 16, and Janet, 13 — were discovered in the fall of '55 by a 16-year-old "talent scout." It happened this way, Lawrence Welk, Jr. (now 20) sometimes dated Dianne Lennon and was a frequent guest at the full-of-music home of the Lennon family. One evening, as Larry was driving Dianne home following an Elk's Club dance, he suggested that the girls audition for his dad. Dianne agreed and Larry talked the idea over with Welk. The elder Lawrence was not enthusiastic and the subject was temporarily dropped.

Then one rainy December afternoon a few months later, when the Champagne Music Maker was laid up with a cold, Larry brought all four girls to the house and presented them to his father. Trapped, Lawrence, Sr., had to listen, and he was charmed by what he heard. Two weeks later, on Christmas Eve, (1955) the girls made their network debut on "The Lawrence Welk Show" singing "Mickey Mouse Mambo" and "Hi To You." The mail response convinced Welk that he (and son Larry) had found an appealing act, and the girls were spotted on several other shows until eventually Welk signed them as regular members of his organization. You, our readers, don't have to sign anything to become members of our customer organization. Just phone us when your TV set or Hi-Fi isn't performing the way it should. Mallory reacted without conscious plan, plunging into the jeep, kicking the engine to life. As it roared, he put the clutch in low gear and pulled out the hand throttle. The little car lurched down the slope into the creek bed, pointed at the truck.

The windshield seemed to explode in front of him and a numbing blow hit his left shoulder. Mallory flung himself sideways, tumbling into the rushing waters of the creek, while the jeep careened on like a wounded beast.

While the smugglers were still firing at the jeep, he began to run upstream toward the buried spring. Groping upward, his hands encountered Aguilar's limp body. Working one-handed, he succeeded in dislodging the other man's ankle and, as the lightning flared once more, Mallory dragged him down. The sudden weight was too much for him to support and they fell heavily to the sand. An instant later, a stream of bullets probed the darkness where they had been.

Aguilar was stunned. Mallory himself wasn't in much better condition.

The smugglers seemed to realize that they had won. They broke off firing and Mallory heard the truck's engine start. He raised his head, trying to make out the black phantom shape as it lumbered slowly past him, once more headed north. He groped in the muck for Aguilar's carbine but couldn't find it. He drew his revolver and rose, swaying, to his knees. Wait for the next flash, he told himself, then try to hit the gas tank. The brilliant light exploded over the beach again but it brought with it such a wave of dizziness that he was unable to keep the pistol barrel from wobbling. He closed his eyes to clear them.

When he opened them again, he was surprised to see that the lighting flash had not faded but continued to illuminate the sand.

The new light was man-made, powerful searchlights mounted on vehicles that were closing in from both north and south, on the black truck. The shrill thunder was their sirens. The soldiers from the Ensenada and Tijuana garrisons had arrived.

* * *

Mallory scrambled to his feet to watch. The smugglers, caught between the two forces, opened fire first. The reply was quick. Machineguns from the army half-tracks poured a fusillade into the truck, the course of the bullets bright and plain with tracers. The truck seemed to shudder, then swung off slowly out of control toward the ocean. It lurched into the surf and came to a stop, its hubcaps submerged in the frothing water. Soldiers began to pile out of the half-tracks.

"Hey!" Mallory shouted. "Hey, over here!"

A searchlight swung around to stare at him. He waved with his good arm, hoping that they wouldn't shoot him.

It was Aguilar who convinced them that he was, after all, an ally. He had recovered consciousness and, though in obvious pain, confirmed what Mallory had said. He ordered the lieutenant to keep his men away from the truck and to allow Mallory to investigate it alone, a command the lieutenant found hard to understand. But rank had its way.

A sudden premonition enveloped him and he waded rapidly around to the cab. As he flung open the door, a man fell out onto the fender and lay there, one limp arm dangling in the water. It was Cagigas, El Gallo's henchman. Mallory leaned into the cab, staring. Two other men huddled there. The driver slumped across the wheel, unknown to him. But the third man's red hair and pudgy face was unmistakeable. It was El Gallo himself.

As Mallory stood there, a sick sensation knotting his stomach, El Gallo stirred. His head lifted; his eyes, glazed and dying, found Mallory. "That fool Cagigas," he mumbled. "Told him—no reason to fight—no profit in revenge . . ." His head fell forward against the dashboard.

The battle of Pozo Coyote had been in vain. The smugglers, the contraband—and, most important, Blackjack—were still at large.

* * *

Colonel Aguilar was brought into the Tijuana general hospital. His wound, though painful, was not serious; the bullet had passed through the upper thigh without shattering the bone.

Shortly afterward, he was surprised by the appearance at his bedside of his family physician, Dr. Obregon.

"I'm glad you came, Rudy, because I want you to do something for me. Engracia must be told of my accident but in a manner that won't alarm her unnecessarily. You know how women are."

Obregon hesitated. "Engracia already knows. That's why I'm here."

"Oh? Well, where is she?"

"Fidel, your wife has had a heart attack. It happened just a short time ago, apparently when she heard that you had been shot." Obregon put his hand on Aguilar's shoulder, preventing him from sitting up. "Now listen to me. Engracia's in no immediate danger. I first detected the condition at least seven years ago."

"Why wasn't I told?"

"Engracia didn't want you to know. You must understand that your wife's condition is neither congenital nor degenerative but is the result of extreme hypertension—high blood pressure—arising from prolonged worry."

"Worry? What on earth has Engracia had to worry about?"

"You," Obregon said.

Son Of Franklin Couple Killed Near Rantoul

FRANKLIN—Lloyd A. Williamson of Champaign, about 53, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williamson of this city, was killed in an automobile accident Thursday morning near Rantoul, Ill. The head-on crash also claimed the lives of two Paxton men.

Surviving is his wife, Dorothy Featherstone Williamson, and two children, Raymon and Joyce, all of Champaign; his parents and a brother, Thomas Williamson, funeral director at Staunton, Ill.

Funeral services will be conducted at Champaign at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the University Christian church. Burial will take place in Franklin about 4:30 p.m. with the Masonic Lodge in charge.

Fire Damages Contents, Upper Story Of Garage

Fast action by local firemen salvaged the major part of a two story garage and a truck lodged within Friday evening as the brick struc. e caught fire in the upper story. Damage to the garage located in the rear of the James Wood residence, 663 South West Street, was limited mainly to the interior of the upper story.

Firemen rushed to the scene shortly after 10 p.m. A booster line was used to extinguish the flames which destroyed a portion of the contents stored in the garage. A truck on the lower floor was not damaged.

Marine Corporal From Ashland In Hawaii Exercise

ASHLAND—Marine Lance Cpl. John H. Coop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cook, of Ashland, recently participated in an amphibious training exercise in the Hawaiian Islands while serving with the First Marine Brigade.

Known as Operation "Clear Ridge" the exercise was a routine training operation involving Naval and Marine Forces and designed to develop proficiency in planning and conducting an amphibious exercise.

A recreational visit to Pearl Harbor was made upon completion of the exercise.

CYH Officers

The Junior CYH of the Church of Christ have elected officers.

President, Sharon Way; vice president, Janet Hoagland; secretary, Phillip Douglass; treasurer, Ellen Sue Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoagland and Mrs. Gerald Douglass are sponsors of the group.

The FFA and FHA held their annual initiation and wiener roast at the home of Jane Orne recently. A treasure hunt was enjoyed, and "Capture the Flag" was played.

Guests for the evening were the initiates, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Karrick and son, Mrs. Dick Adkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Balance and family.

Return To Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Schneider of Springfield, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Walker of Joplin, Mo., have returned to their respective homes, after a week's visit here at the home of Mrs. Audrey Edgar. Mrs. Walker is a cousin of Mrs. Edgar, and Mrs. Schneider is the daughter of Mrs. Edgar. Last Sunday all went to visit with Mrs. Edgar's husband, Preston Edgar, who is in the Walker Nursing home at Virginia.

Ashland News

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Christi have returned home from a ten day visit in Campbellsville, Ky., having been called there by the death of the former's brother, Riley Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bryant of Lincoln, Neb., are here visiting at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Frank Dalton.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Keiffer have returned home from a two weeks visit in Franklin, Ky., with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cosner of Kenosha, Wis., spent the weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. Susan Cosner, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Summers, Jr., and niece, Janet Lewis, were weekend visitors in Mt. Pulaski at the home of the former's sister, Miss Jane Summers.

SUSPICIOUS OFFICER GETS HIS MAN

HANOVER, Germany (AP) — "Turn on your lights," said the cop in the prowl car Friday night to the driver of an auto passing him. Suddenly the officer became suspicious, followed the car, and a short time later the driver of the car and his companion were behind bars. They had robbed a jewelry store of $47,000 worth of jewels just before the policeman warned them about their lights.

Hold Dodsworth Services Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Dodsworth were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Williamson Funeral Home with the Rev. Harvey Dibrell officiating. Mrs. Eloise Plouer was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Janice Angel at the organ.

The Fidelis Class of Centenary Methodist Church attended the services in a group.

Flowers were cared for by Frances Ann Robinson, Eloise Mason, Evalena Seibert and Charlotta Schalk.

Pallbearers were Eldridge Seibert, Lester Martin, Clarence Seigfried, Roy Hopper, Clyde Mason, Leo Murray, Albert Swain and James Winchester.

Burial was in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

Harrison Smith of Wilkes-Barre writes: "I don't suppose you approved of the bidding of this hand. I was there and didn't approve of it myself but you can't find any improvement in South's play. With the help of a favorable opening lead South took all the tricks."

I will go along with Harrison and withhold a stamp of approval on the bidding although East did remember not to double the five heart contract. But the play was certainly elegant.

West opened the jack of diamonds and South discarded a spade on dummy's ace. The ten of hearts was led and covered by East's jack. South won and noted that West dropped the nine. He entered dummy with the ace of clubs. The queen of diamonds forced East's king and South ruffed.

The queen of clubs was covered by the king and ruffed small in dummy and now South discarded his three spades on three of dummy's diamonds.

The seven of hearts was played next and East was dead. If he covered South's whole hand would be good. If he ducked, South would let the seven ride and resume the diamond parade.

Collision On South Main Damages 4 Cars

Four cars were damaged and at least two persons received minor injuries Friday evening in a collision in the 400 block on South Main Street. No serious injuries were reported in the four-car crack up which took place at 9:55 p.m.

Reports show that the collision occurred as a car driven by Freda M. Tranbarger, 446 South Main Street, heading south on Main attempted to make a left turn. Immediately behind the Tranbarger auto was a car driven by Jess Bostick, Jr., of rural route four which slowed to allow the Tranbarger car to turn.

The Bostick auto was struck in the rear by a car driven by Dwight E. King of 971 North Prairie and was thrown into the Tranbarger auto. The King auto was then struck by a car driven by Henry Rust of 218 East State Street.

Both Rust and King were issued traffic tickets for following too closely.

Dwight King and Freda Tranbarger both suffered minor injuries. King complained of a sore knee and neck, and Tranbarger of a sore neck. Both went to Passavant Hospital for observation.

The King auto was towed to Brummetts garage and the Rust car to Lukeman's. City police officers assisted at the scene of the accident.

Final Rites For Massey A. Cox

WHITE HALL—Funeral services for Massey A. Cox were held Thursday afternoon at the Dawdy Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Harry Chasteen, assisted by Rev. A. T. Monroe.

Mrs. Adele Hudson presided at the organ and Mrs. Mary Wendell was soloist. Pallbearers were Kenneth Davis, Edward Backs, William White, Henry Pruitt, Gary Fitzjarrell and Rollin Day.

Interment was in the White Hall cemetery.

W. GERMANY, GUATEMALA RESUME RELATIONS

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany and Guatemala agreed Friday to resume diplomatic relations, broken off in 1941 when Guatemala declared war on Nazi Germany. Although Guatemala formally ended the state of war with Germany in 1956, that Central American country did not resume diplomatic relations because of Bonn's insistence on restoration of German property seized in Guatemala during the war.
